11. "Archaeologists often report excavations with uncertainties as to how great the loss. How serious is the uncertainty about whether they have the best possible estimate of a reality upon which they must act?"
12. "Further excavations either build, destroy, or alter the facts they report. Is this not a vicious circle?"
13. "Further excavations either alter the facts or report on what is independently of the excavations. Which would be necessary then?"
14. "If the facts are built upon, is a different reality, more real than a single discovery?"
15. "Further excavation either adds or subtracts independent observations from the facts." How can we be sure there are no independent observations?
16. "Further excavations are independent, independent from each other. Can we be sure a reality independent from them?"
17. "If the excavations of the things themselves have demonstrated themselves to be independent, why do we have to believe that the facts are independent from the excavations?"
18. "Can we be sure that the facts are independent from the excavations?"
