Persian Historic Urban Landscapes Eisa Esfanjary,2017-10-04 The first urban study of the Iranian city of Maibud over its 6000 year history Persian cities are part of a corridor of civilisation with settlements straddling thousands of years Taking Maibud as a case study Eisa Esfanjary traces the evolution of ancient settlements chronologically thematically and methodologically Maibud provides the basis from which a new interpretive approach is developed being a city that has a history of several millennia yet has a scale that renders it manageable with archaeological remains that range across several phases of building development An archetypal example of middle sized Persian cities it affords insights into the entire urban landscape and its spatial functional and morphological iterations Within this overall picture a methodology is developed to explore various morphological elements of the city the three key components of which are the town plan the building type and construction materials The inter relationships between these three components are explained in order to formulate an approach to support the management and conservation of the historic urban landscape Combining a rigorous survey and observation of the standing structures with scarce archaeological and written sources this book sheds light on Islamic urbanism in general and Islamic urbanism in Iran particularly Key Features Organised in three main parts a conceptual framework the case study of Maibud and an explanation of its wider significances and potential policy applications Sheds new light on the development of one of ancient world's oldest yet least known living cities in Iran supported by highly original and convincing analysis. Features case studies with new evidence which require us to re-evaluate our understanding of urbanism not just in Iran but also in the wider Islamic world. Illustrated with many images including maps, plans, line drawings, watercolours and colour photos. Urban Heritage Along the Silk Roads Fatemeh Farnaz Arefian, Seyed Hossein Iradj Moeini, 2019-09-10. This book examines examples of contemporary situation of historic regions in the Middle East and its broader geographic context connected to the historic trade routes offering cross disciplinary and cross sectoral perspectives. The region is home to ancient settlements and early human endeavors to form cities and across the region historic urban historic features such as ancient city centers still exist alongside contemporary ones. Many of those historic regions are along the Silk Roads. However the urban continuity that once existed over generations in the physical and social paradigm have been interrupted by rapid urbanization, globalization and urban economic pressures in addition to conflicts and frequent destructive natural hazards. It is often the case that dealing with such pressing issues in a historic city is more complex than dealing with those in newly built cities and urban areas. Based on carefully selected and updated papers from the Silk Cities 2017 International Conference, this book appeals to researchers, practitioners and policy makers. Multiculturalism and Interculturalism Muhammad Mohiuddin, Tareque Aziz, Afrin Sultana, Sreenivasan Jayashree, 2023-11-29. It also explores how cultural diversity can be learned and coexist with and create a conducive environment of creativity and innovation. Persian Architectural Heritage Mehrdad Hejazi, Fatemeh Mehdizadeh Saradj, 2014-12-08. During its long history, Persian culture has played a fundamental role in and has made major contributions to human civilisation. During the last few decades, scholarly interest in Persian culture including its history, archaeology, art and architecture has accelerated research into Persian cultural heritage. Scientific studies have provided information about knowledge on which Persian traditional buildings are based and methodologies used for their preservation. This book gives comprehensive information about Persian architectural heritage for scholars, students and practicing engineers in civil structural, architectural, hydraulic and restoration engineering and other related disciplines. Managing Disaster Risks to Cultural Heritage Bijan Rouhani, Xavier Romão, 2023-11-15. Managing Disaster Risks to Cultural Heritage presents case studies from different regions in the world and establishes a framework for understanding, identifying and analysing disaster risks to immovable cultural heritage. Featuring contributions from academics and practitioners from around the globe, the book presents a comprehensive view of the scholarship relating to cultural heritage disaster risk preparedness and post disaster recovery. Particular attention is given to the complex and dynamic nature of disaster risks and how they evolve during different phases of a catastrophic event, especially as hazards can create secondary effects that have greater impacts on cultural heritage infrastructure and economy. Arguing that risk preparedness and mitigation have historically been secondary to reactive emergency and first aid response the book demonstrates that preparedness plans based on sound risk assessments can prevent hazards from becoming disasters Emphasising that the protection of cultural heritage through preparedness mitigation actions and risk adaptation measures especially for climate change can contribute to the resilience of societies the book highlights the vital role of communities in such activities Managing Disaster Risks to Cultural Heritage will be useful to students professionals and scholars studying and working with cultural heritage protection It will be of particular interest to those working in the fields of Cultural Heritage Archaeology Conservation and Preservation Sustainable Development and Disaster Studies Using Data Science and Landscape Approach to Sustain Historic Cities Ali
