Zeller, 2025-08-19 This volume brings together leading scholars from Africa Europe the Americas and beyond to provide a detailed account of the languages of the Bantu family which cover an area from Cameroon and Kenya in the north to South Africa in the south The Bantu family is part of the Niger Congo phylum and one of the world's biggest language groups comprising around 500 languages The family includes major languages with large numbers of speakers such as Zulu Kinyarwanda and Swahili the most widely spoken and taught African language as well as many community languages and several endangered languages Bantu languages feature prominently in the complex and multilingual language ecologies that are characteristic of the linguistic situation in much of Africa and they provide rich evidence for the study of theoretical and comparative linguistics language contact and language change They play an important role in education commerce culture and artistic expression in the media and public discourse in governance and social justice and are central to the future of the continent and the well being of its communities The first part of The Oxford Guide to the Bantu Languages provides background and context with chapters exploring the history of research in the field language and prehistory in Bantu speaking Africa and typology and variation Chapters in the second part offer broad comparative overviews of Bantu

phonology morphology syntax semantics and pragmatics socio and applied linguistics before Parts III VII cover more specific topics in Bantu linguistics across a variety of subfields ranging from structural issues such as the augment and melodic tone to historical and sociolinguistic topics such as Bantu languages in the diaspora and language policy and standardization The chapters in the final part offer individual structural overviews of a range of languages from across the Bantu speaking area The book will be an essential resource for students and researchers specializing in the Bantu languages and for typologists and comparative linguists more broadly

Phonological Typology Matthew K. Gordon, 2016-05-06 This book provides an overview of phonological typology the study of how sounds are distributed across the languages of the world and why they display these distributions and patterns It examines major phonological phenomena such as phoneme inventories syllable structure phonological alternations stress tone intonation and prosodic morphology and investigates issues including how common certain types of sounds are cross linguistically and why how many languages differentiate questions and statements using intonation which areas of the world tend to be associated with more complex tone distinctions and the relationship between cross linguistic and language internal frequency Data are drawn from existing typologies from the results of a survey of various phonological patterns in the 100 language sample from the World Atlas of Language Structures and from corpora of individual languages Matthew Gordon analyses these data and explores the correlations between different often superficially unrelated phonological properties to gain insight into the driving forces behind these phenomena He provides an overview of synchronic and diachronic explanations for the patterns observed and discusses how formal phonological theory has attempted to model the typological data One of relatively few typological works devoted to phonology this book will be a valuable resource for phonologists and phoneticians from advanced undergraduate level upwards as well all those with an interest in language typology

Cognitive Models Of Speech Processing Gerry Altmann, Richard Shillcock, 2013-05-24 A comprehensive review for those interested in the range of theoretical concerns in speech and language processing

The Postcolonial Animal Evan Mwangi, 2019-09-06 Despite the central role that animals play in African writing and daily life African literature and African thinkers remain conspicuously absent from the field of animal studies The Postcolonial Animal African Literature and Posthuman Ethics demonstrates the importance of African writing to animal studies by analyzing how postcolonial African writing including folktales religion philosophy and anticolonial movements has been mobilized to call for humane treatment of nonhuman others Mwangi illustrates how African authors grapple with the possibility of an alternative to eating meat and how they present postcolonial animal consuming cultures as shifting toward an embrace of cultural and political practices that avoid the use of animals and minimize animal suffering The Postcolonial Animal analyzes texts that imagine a world where animals are not abused or used as a source of food clothing or labor and that offer instruction in how we might act responsibly and how we should relate to others both human and nonhuman in order to ensure a world free of oppression The result is an equitable world where even those who are utterly foreign to us are accorded respect and where we recognize the rights of all marginalized groups Hearing Eye II Douglas Burnham, Ruth Campbell G.Away, B J Dodd, 2013-10-28 This volume outlines some of the developments in practical and theoretical research into speechreading lipreading that have taken place since the publication of the original Hearing by Eye It comprises 15 chapters by international researchers in psychology psycholinguistics experimental and clinical speech science and computer engineering It answers theoretical questions what are the mechanisms by which heard and seen speech combine and practical ones what makes a good speechreader Can machines be programmed to recognize seen and heard speech The book is written in a non technical way and starts to articulate a behaviourally based but cross disciplinary programme of research in understanding how natural language can be delivered by different modalities Buthlezi Ben Temkin, 2013-10-31 Ben Temkin Buthlezi s biographer had the full co operation of Chief Buthlezi in the writing of this book There were interviews and discussions in KwaZulu and in Johannesburg in offices at the airport in hotels in private homes and even while they travelled between centres in KwaZulu Mitchell's Structure & Fabric Part 1 J S Foster, 2013-09-13 A new edition of the best selling title in the prestigious Mitchell s Building Series This book is the first of a two volume set which provides a complete and thorough treatment of the principles and techniques used in the design and construction of a building This new edition has been thoroughly updated to bring it into line with recent changes in British Standards and developments in construction techniques while retaining the comprehensive approach for which it is renowned Cultural Communication and Intercultural Contact Donal Carbaugh, 2013-11-05 How is cultural identity accomplished interactively What happens when different cultural identities contact one another This book presents a series of papers from classic essays to original expositions which respond to these questions The view of communication offered here rather than ignoring culture or making it a variable in an equation is based on cultural patterns and situated communication practices unveiling the multiplicity of factors involved in particular times and places The contributors to this unusual volume represent a wide range of fields Their equally diverse offerings will serve to clarify cultural distinctiveness in some communication phenomena and lay groundwork for the identification of cross cultural generalities in others New Directions in African Military History Timothy J. Stapleton, 2025-06-02 New Directions in African Military History takes a thematic approach to the history of war and military structures in Africa and highlights the under researched areas African Military History represents a relatively new and fast growing sub field bridging the previously wide gap between the well established genres of African History and Military History Based on a synthesis of existing literature and aimed at a wide readership this book adopts a broad temporal range and uses select examples to highlight a series of points to cover the pre colonial to post colonial eras and offer examples from various parts of the continent This volume evaluates controversial academic debates examining evidence research methods approaches and changing historiographical contexts as well as pointing to potential new areas of research It comprises seven thematic chapters on ways of war weapons technology navies air power battles women combatants and genocide in African history This volume will be of value to students and scholars alike interested in Modern History Military History and African History The Global Corporation Laura P.

Hartman,Patricia H. Werhane,2013-12-19 This text brings together case studies focusing on specific instances of corporate best practices All too often we showcase cases based on questionable or unethical corporate behavior Instead the editors bring together in this book examples of how some firms got it right Certainly there is no claim that the companies in these case are perfect some of them may have histories that include questionable practices But these are companies that work to foster trust both internally and in their relationships with customers suppliers shareholders and the communities in which they operate The book is not however merely a descriptive iteration of effective corporate conduct The editors conclude with an analysis of frameworks for corporate and managerial ethical decision making frameworks that help to establish models for best practices These frameworks then can be generalized and applied to other corporate situations and replicated by other companies in their search for excellence and the resulting avoidance of misconduct Ethnic Dignity and the Ulster-Scots

Movement in Northern Ireland Peter Gardner,2019-12-11 In this book Peter Gardner contends that the production of narratives of ethnic peoplehood is an attempt to regain a sense of collective dignity among the previously dominant After introducing the concept of ethnic dignity and locating its place within postconflict identity politics Gardner focuses his analysis on the Ulster Scots story of peoplehood Drawing on a wealth of primary data the chapters explore a variety of core issues including ethnopolitics social class political economic ideology colonialism and heteromascularity The book concludes by taking a global view of post conflict ethnic dignity among the once dominant analysing the New Afrikaans movement in South Africa white pride and ethnic whiteness studies and Maronite Phoenicianism in Lebanon This will be an important contribution for students and scholars of ethnicity divided societies and more broadly political sociology Ubuntu

Philosophy for the New Normalcy Jahid Siraz Chowdhury,Haris Abd Wahab,Mohd Rashid Mohd Saad,Golam M.

Mathbor,Mashitah Hamidi,2023-01-01 The book is about Ubuntu loosely translated I am because we are or our common humanity in Zulu about Unity and global solidarity It proves again how alike and universal we are as societies across the globe despite this deadly pandemic On a personal and social basis each of the six chapters is a call to action to find commonality and this is the third book of Jahid s amelioration on Covid 19 Trilogy And the Appendix is something special for the readership Ubuntu tells us about the Indigenous healing keys empathy compromise learning non violence change forgiveness restorative justice love spirituality and hope The book was written by a highly diverse team of contributors both from the Global South and North and is multidisciplinary in nature and attempting of Commoning the Communities The authors hail from the fields of social work anthropology and education and have been working with local communities in the ongoing struggle to identify and address complicit oppression and inequalities Offering a beacon of hope for today and tomorrow the book will appeal to social science researchers policy planners and the general public alike Gender, HIV and Risk E. Anderson, 2015-03-04 This book examines the gender context of HIV and critiques the global policy response Anderson contributes to the feminist task of de invisibilising gender as structural violence and identifies how gendered power structures are responded to at the local level in Malawi
