International Investment Law and Arbitration Chin Leng Lim, Jean Ho, Martins Paparinskis, 2018-04-26 What was once a contested body of principles applied peripherally to the international settlement of expropriation disputes has been transformed and in its place now stands an important area of international disputes practice International Investment Law and Arbitration offers a comprehensive introduction to the subject Presenting the facts of daily legal practice and the largely unaltered aims of the subject alongside a broad selection of key awards and original materials historical developments are discussed in the context of the changing directions in the arbitral jurisprudence and current treaty and arbitration reform debate Key features accessible and engaging commentary integrated throughout end of chapter questions test reader understanding further reading lists support and encourage exploration of the subject Suitable for postgraduate law students studying modules on international investment arbitration International Investment Law and Arbitration offers an indispensable introduction to the subject Research Handbook on Intellectual Property and Investment Law

Christophe Geiger, 2020-06-26 This innovative Research Handbook explores the complex and controversial interactions between intellectual property IP and investment law In light of recent developments at national European and international levels the chapters critically examine the legitimacy of current practices with regard to the social function of IP rights and the regulatory autonomy of States to undertake measures in the public interest Energy and the Environment Sherzod

Shadikhodjaev, 2024-05-02 Energy intersects with the environment at all stages of its life cycle by affecting nature and public health and is subject to government measures concerning low carbon growth energy efficiency and conservation renewable energy and ecologically safe supply of nuclear and other energy resources This timely book provides a comprehensive analysis of the role of international economic law in regulating such an energy environment nexus under the regimes of the WTO the Energy Charter Treaty regional trade agreements and investment treaties The author discusses the international environmental and economic law foundations of this nexus and extensively examines relevant rules jurisprudence and practices regarding trade restrictions subsidies technical standards investment protection and technology policies This book highlights the existing gaps and greening solutions within the framework of international economic law Where relevant it draws comparisons between trade law and investment law to show their similarities differences and potential conflicts at the energy environment interface Disability, Work and Inclusion in Ireland Engaging and Supporting Employers

OECD, 2021-09-22 Across OECD countries one in seven working age adults identifies as having a disability This report proposes policy recommendations to the Irish government to improve the participation of persons with disabilities The Right of States to Regulate in International Investment Law Yulia Levashova, 2019-07-18 Due to the ongoing recent expansion of public interest issues worldwide the state's right to regulate has been recaptured as a prominent concept in international investment law The fair and equitable treatment FET standard provision in the text of an international investment agreement IIA has become a detailed clause clarifying the specific obligations of a state towards an investor under the FET standard. However, striking the right balance between the interests of host states and investors in these new treaty formulations has proved to be challenging. This book greatly clarifies the field by offering the in-depth analysis of the application of the state's right to regulate in relation to FET standard provisions in IIAs and to decisions by arbitral tribunals in FET cases. Recognising that the role of tribunals is to balance the state's public interests and the interests of the investor when interpreting and applying the FET standard, the author pursues such seminal issues and topics as the following: the legitimacy of the objective of the state's measure; obligations and responsibilities of investors towards a host state; the nature and impact of a change to a national regulatory framework; special economic and sociopolitical circumstances in a host state; and due diligence and risk assessment as a condition for the protection of an investor's legitimate expectations. Multiple IIAs concluded by the OECD Member States as well as by Russia and China between the developing countries and the prominent investment law cases on the FET standard are examined in detail. The analysis pays particular attention to how investment jurisprudence in FET cases has been reflected in such new IIAs as the Comprehensive Economic and Trade Agreement between the European Union (EU) and Canada (CETA), the EU-Vietnam FTA and the EU-Singapore FTA. These case studies demonstrate the evolution of the IIAs' FET standard provisions and how they balance the application of the FET standard and the state's right to regulate. Suggestions are provided for drafting formulations of the FET standard that can contribute to achieving such a balance. In the clear light it sheds on the legal conditions under which states may regulate in the public interest and its contribution to the reforms that are currently taking place in the field of international investment law, this book constitutes an exemplary framework to evaluate investment decisions on the FET standard and the right to regulate. It is sure to prove extremely useful for practitioners who work on investment cases, policymakers involved in negotiating and drafting of IIAs, policy advisors of governmental and non-governmental organisations and academics in international investment law.

Evolution Education Around the Globe Hasan Deniz, Lisa A. Borgerding, 2018-06-21. This edited book provides a global view on evolution education. It describes the state of evolution education in different countries that are representative of geographical regions around the globe such as Eastern Europe, Western Europe, North Africa, South Africa, North America, South America, Middle East, Far East, South East Asia, Australia and New Zealand. Studies in evolution education literature can be divided into three main categories: a) understanding the interrelationships among cognitive, affective, epistemological and religious factors that are related to people's views about evolution; b) designing/implementing/evaluating evolution education curriculum that reflects contemporary evolution understanding; and c) reducing antievolutionary attitudes. This volume systematically summarizes the evolution education literature across these three categories for each country or geographical region. The individual chapters thus include common elements that facilitate a cross-cultural meta-analysis. Written for a primarily academic audience, this book provides a much-needed common
