Scales,2012-12-06 According to the study conducted by Gallup Organization only a minority of Americans experience consistent normative motivation for engaging with other people s children Social norms theory suggests that adults are more likely to get deeply involved if that involvement is viewed as highly important and if they perceive a social expectation to do so This volume examines the nature of social norms in general and in relationship to children and adolescents The book examines the complex dynamics of understanding the appropriate roles of parents and other adults in young people s healthy development The volume also presents the study s findings in detail including numerous areas of consensus among American adults differences among American adults and the gap between perceived importance and actual engagement A wide ranging literature synthesis suggests implications for both personal and collective actions with potential to change norms that inhibit engagement and to strengthen values that encourage engagement Teachers' Personal Epistemologies Gregory Schraw,Jo Lunn

Brownlee,Lori Olafson,Michelle Vander Veldt Brye,2017-07-01 The focus of this book is to explore teachers evolving personal epistemologies or the beliefs we hold about the origin and development of knowledge in the context of teaching The chapters focus on a range of conceptual frameworks about how university and field based experiences influence the connections between teachers personal epistemologies and teaching practice In an earlier volume we investigated preservice and inservice teachers beliefs and teaching practices Brownlee Schraw and Berthelsen 2011 While we addressed the nature of teachers personal epistemologies learning and teaching practices and approaches for changing beliefs throughout teacher education programs the volume did not address conceptual frameworks for the development of teacher s personal epistemologies To address this gap the book is focused on teacher educators teachers and teacher education programmers in universities with an overall aim of highlighting how we might support preservice teachers involvement in learning that is challenging and inservice teachers engagement in professional experiences that promote changes in teaching practice We argue that teachers need to be encouraged to question their beliefs and develop increasingly sophisticated beliefs about their knowledge and their students knowledge that facilitate learning and intellectual growth Lasting Gifts You Can Give Your Children
