The Kindergarten-primary Magazine, 1929 Early Learning through Play Kristin Grabarek, Mary R. Lanni, 2019-03-13 This creative guidebook teaches librarians in diverse communities how to develop and implement early learning programming beyond traditional storytimes. While traditional library storytimes are excellent tools for families, equally important is play. Children learn through play in many ways; it stimulates exploration and curiosity and builds gross and fine motor skills that are critical to reading and writing success. Perhaps most importantly, play has the power to cross barriers of culture and language, allowing families from differing backgrounds to learn together. In this book, Kristin Grabarek and Mary R. Lanni, the pioneers of Little University, an early learning program that focuses on play-based learning, share their experiences and provide guidance for implementing similar programs at libraries of various sizes and budgets. They teach readers how to create programs for a diverse group of families, work with outside providers, choose supplies, estimate costs, market your programming, and overcome the challenges of both big and small budgets and many or few patrons. These practical plans will enhance storytimes and even help build a brand new early learning program.

Finding Mary Randy Robertson, 2010-04-30 This book tells the story of one family. It's a personal journey as all these journeys are, but it generously points out a path that others may choose to follow. Michael Compain, M.D., Rhinebeck Health Center. When Randy and Deborah Robertsons young daughter Mary was diagnosed with autism in 2005, the initial shock momentarily immobilized them. But a determination to reclaim their daughter's life propelled them to make an unusual decision to reverse the autism diagnosis. Finding Mary is the Robertson family's compelling true story of how they tackled the disease head on and found remarkable success. From the initial diagnosis to Mary's incredible recovery process, Randy Robertson explains how the family explored treatment options, looked into alternative therapies, and never gave up hope. Combining the results of his in-depth research with an easy-to-understand style, Robertson shares the family's incredible journey by detailing the critical steps necessary for reducing or completely eliminating many autistic behaviors. These steps include: Testing for autism and coping with the diagnosis; Getting early intervention; Constructing a support team; Creating an impactful IEP; Embracing alternative therapies; Forming academic strategies; Building upon emerging strengths; Visualizing success. With a foreword by noted autism expert Dr. Michael Compain of the Rhinebeck Health Center, Finding Mary offers encouragement and support for families struggling to deal with an autism diagnosis. But it's also an intimate glimpse into one family's unyielding dedication to releasing their daughter from the prison of autism.
