Entrepreneur, 1989 I Remember Nonna August R. Carnevali, 2007-10 I Remember Nonna is a collection of several vignettes of my childhood experiences with Nonna during my pre-teen years when my sister and I went to live in the small hamlet in Pennsylvania called Old Boston in the fall of 1941. Moving from a small town to a farm environment made every aspect of our daily life from that point a learning encounter. The most trying part was the very beginning when we had neither understanding of Italian nor any clue at all what to expect in Old Boston. It was those stark beginnings with Nonna that have made such an impact on my thinking later in my life. For the first several months almost every moment with Nonna was a learning experience. It was years later when I began to look back and saw the comical side in each of these incidents. When I related these events to other members of the family they found them very funny and thought them so typical of Nonna I knew then that these were moments that had to be remembered and passed on by the family Personnel Journal

, 1951 Scientific Knowledge Communication in Museums Alberto Rovetta, Edoardo Rovida, 2018-02-25 This book explains the general principles of scientific and technical communication in the context of modern museums. It also examines with the aid of informative case studies the different means by which knowledge can be transmitted including posters, objects, explanatory guidance, documentation, and catalogues. Highlighting the ever more important role of multimedia and virtual reality components in communicating understanding of and facilitating interaction with the displayed object, it explores how network communications systems and algorithms can be applied to offer individual users the information that is most pertinent to them. The book is supported by a Dynamic Museums app connected to museum databases where series of objects can be viewed via cloud computing and the Internet and printed using 3D printing technology. This book is of interest to a diverse readership including all those who are responsible for museums' collections, operations, and communications as well as those delivering or participating in courses on museums and their use, communication design, and related topics.
