Vernon,2014-01-27 Originally published in 1953 this book provided the first comprehensive account of methods of personality assessment by a British author It starts with a short survey of personality theory pointing out the difficulties in any method of testing or assessment Next it describes the weaknesses of the common interview method Throughout the emphasis is on methods which are usable in educational or vocational guidance and selection not on methods which are mainly of scientific interest Thereafter it takes up each main type of technique tests based on physique or psychological measures on expressive movement such as gestures and handwriting tests of behaviour including War Office Selection Board house party methods ratings and rating scales questionnaires and so called projective techniques The evidence for or against each test or method is surveyed and numerous references provided for relevant literature Illustrative excerpts are given of many of the more promising tests and some pictorial illustrations British work in this field at the time is covered completely and an attempt is made to provide a fair summary of the main contributions of American and other psychologists of the day Institutions of Higher Education in Denmark Alina Marie Lindegren,David Segel,Fred James Kelly,James Frederick Rogers,John Hamilton McNeely,Maris Marion Profitt,Severin Kazimierz Turowski,Walter Herbert Gaumnitz,Ella Burgess Ratcliffe,1934 The Oxford Handbook of Reciprocal Adult Development and Learning Carol Hoare,2011-09-06 One of the Best Books of 2011 from the Center for Optimal Adult Development The fields of adult development and the study of learning have traditionally been considered separate with development falling under psychology and learning under education However recent ideas research and practices that have emerged in these fields of study effectively emphasize the inherent reciprocal relationship that exists between them advances in development frequently lead to learning and conversely learning almost necessarily fuels development In this second edition of The Oxford Handbook of Reciprocal Adult Learning and Development the synchronicity between development and learning is explored further as expert authors advance the latest theories to provide a rich foundation for this new area of study and practice for this interrelated field of study At the border of two disciplines this handbook focuses on the capacities of intelligence meta cognition insight self efficacy spirituality interpersonal competence wisdom and other key adult attributes as they relate to positive changes and personal growth in adults Contexts for development and learning e g the work role and environment are also addressed and mixed in throughout the volume are emanating implications for research practice and policy What emerges is a thoughtful handbook for all who promote optimal aging and is a must read for academics psychologists and practitioners in adult development Personality Assessment (Psychology Revivals) Philip E. Vernon, 2014-01-27 Originally published in 1964 the aim of this book was to analyse the psychological processes involved in understanding personality and to consider how the psychologist could help in making more accurate assessments Professor Vernon discusses in detail the scientific status of psychoanalytic and other depth theories of motivation the value of different types of psychotherapeutic treatment and counselling the influence of upbringing on the development of personality and the effectiveness of projective techniques He also examines the reasons for the highly variable results obtained with personality tests and questionnaires As well as providing a balanced review of theories of personality and of various types of test this work made a fresh contribution to developing improved techniques of assessment
