Roadies The Architect's Suicide R M Beckley, 2014-05 The Architect's Suicide thoughtfully combines fiction with fact in this sometimes hallucinatory account. It brings readers deep inside the convoluted life and mysterious disappearance of an American architect seeking fame and recognition during an era when heroism appears to have died. An architectural critic endeavors to understand the disappearance of Robert A. Michael, architect and his presumed suicide. In his quest recorded here, the critic sheds light on the world of architectural practice that so disappointed this architect. As part of his research, the critic interviews members of Robert's family, business associates, clients, and colleagues; the narratives the critic assembles reveal the personal and professional ambitions and despair that may have contributed to the architect's fate. Robert A. Michael in his youth read Ayn Rand's influential book The Fountainhead. Like other young men, he was inspired by Rand to pursue a career in architecture, choosing architecture over art as his career goal. He believed in Rand's modernist idea of the autonomous man of independent mindedness and integrity. Robert, however, was continually disappointed as he found the heroic role of the architect promoted by Rand to be elusive. Conflicts arose between his aesthetic ideals and the realities of architectural practice; the critic speculates that Robert's sobering disappearance signifies the end of the modern era for architects and their profession as promoted by Rand and the heroes of architecture's modern movement. The Primitive

Mind and Modern Man John Alan Cohan, 2010 This book is in the field of trans-cultural psychology and is intended for college courses in anthropology and psychology and general readership. The book focuses on intriguing facts about primitive cultures around the world and provides insights into living traditions and different world views. A principal theme of the book is that we can gain a better understanding of ourselves by a detour to other cultures. The book shows how modern ways of thinking are parallel to those of primitive cultures and engages readers to become more aware of who they are. As shown throughout the book, there is not after all a very wide gulf between primitive and modern cultures. The book covers many topics including animism, shamanism, totemism, hunting and cultivation rituals, altered states of consciousness, envy and the evil eye, how people deal with conflicts, potlatches, cargo cults, how people satisfy the need for social approval, culture-bound syndromes, folk medicine, treatment of women, raising of children, nomadic peoples, treatment of the dead, and other topics.

The Ethics of Democracy Lucio Cortella, 2015-09-01 Demonstrates how the ethical underpinning of Hegel's political and social philosophy has relevance for contemporary democratic life. The legal regulations and formal rules of democracy alone are not enough to hold a society together and govern its processes. Yet the irreducible ethical pluralism that characterizes contemporary society seems to make it impossible to impose a single system of values as a source of social cohesion and identity reference. In this book, Lucio Cortella argues that Hegel's theory of ethical life can provide such a grounding and makes the case through an analysis of Hegel's central political work, The Philosophy of Right. Although Hegel did not support democratic political ends and wrote in a historical and cultural context far removed from the current liberal democratic scene, Cortella maintains that the Hegelian theory of ethical life, with its emphasis on securing a framework conducive to human freedom nevertheless offers a convincing response to the problem of the ethical uprootedness of contemporary democracy Technological Slavery (Large Print 16pt) Theodore J. Kaczynski, David Skrbina, 2011-02

Theodore Kaczynski saw violent collapse as the only way to bring down the techno industrial system and in more than a decade of mail bomb terror he killed three people and injured 23 others One does not need to support the actions that landed Kaczynski in supermax prison to see the value of his essays disabusing the notion of heroic technology while revealing the manner in which it is destroying the planet For the first time readers will have an uncensored personal account of his anti technology philosophy including a corrected version of the notorious Unabomber Manifesto Kaczynski's critique of anarcho primitivism and essays regarding the Coming Revolution Francesco Petrarca, the First Modern Man of Letters Edward Henry Ralph Tatham, 1926
