Barth,Jennifer Delson,2015-02-10 We are having the wrong conversations about improving public education in America Some say teachers unions are the main problem and if we just get rid of them and create more choice and competition the market will take care of itself Another view is that corporate reformers are trying to privatize education and profiteer from America s second largest industry If we would just feed the system with more taxpayer money and add universal preschool the system would perform just fine Neither approach is likely to meet with broad sustained success If America is going to fulfill its economic potential and rebuild its middle class a high performing public education system is foundational If you look past the superficial debate there is more common ground and reason for hope than you might think And in places you might have overlooked Randy Barth offers a unique perspective A former stockbroker and corporate CEO he founded a nonprofit organization called THINK Together In little more than a decade it has grown into the top half of one percent of all nonprofit organizations in America A fusion of business people and educators THINK Together works in partnership with more than 450 traditional public schools serving low income kids The outsider insider perspective Randy s gained along the way supported by data that shows what s working needs to be heard if we are serious about looking for systemic solutions This is a book for everybody It describes Randy and his colleagues personal and spiritual journey to the frontiers of hope If you are a citizen taxpayer parent or grandparent community volunteer mentor philanthropist school board member teacher administrator a classified school employee a policy maker or influencer or a person of faith this book is a must read as together we look for solutions that will make our schools and our country great again It all starts with you The Education Index ,1987 Dissertation Abstracts International ,1970 Educational Technology ,1973
