Language and Institutional Identity in the Post-Apartheid South African Higher Education Leketi Makalela, 2022-03-21 This book examines the intersections between education identity formation and language in post apartheid South Africa with specific attention to higher education It does so against the backdrop of the core argument that the sector plays a critical role in shaping re producing and perpetuating sectoral class sub national and national identities which in turn in the peculiar South African setting are almost invariably analogous with the historical fault lines determined and dictated by language as a marker of ethnic and racial identity The chapters in the book grapple with the nuances related to these intersections in the understanding that higher education language policies overt and or covert largely structure institutional cultures or what has been described as curriculum in higher education institutions Together the chapters examine the roles played by higher education by language policies and by the intersections of these policies and ethnolinguistic identities in either constructing and perpetuating or deconstructing ethnolinguistic identities upon which the sector was founded The introductory chapter lays out the background to the entire book with an emphasis on the policy and practice perspectives on the intersections The middle chapters describe the so called White Universities Black Universities and Middle Man Minorities Universities The final chapter maps out future directions of the discourses on language and identity formation in South Africa s higher education

Fragilities Fernando Dominguez Rubio, Jerome Denis, David Pontille, 2025-04-29 An original essay collection that explores the generative dimensions of fragility which can help reveal new life affirming politics and ethics At a time when it may be easy to fall into a defeatist melancholia if not outright pessimism fragility offers an opportunity for a different kind of world making In Fragilities Fernando Dominguez Rubio Jerome Denis and David Pontille argue that we need to pay attention to the moments when the bodies things and worlds we inhabit begin to crack and reveal their fragility it is in these instabilities that we can gain precious access to alternative ways of being The essays in this collection explore how the work of care maintenance and repair compose with rather than struggle against fragilities Fragility forces us to reckon with the precariousness and contingency of life and to use this reckoning as a starting point to build and nurture life affirming politics and ethics The book explores fragility in four categories bodies environments labor and politics and proposes to consider in each situation what who is rendered visible what who is made absent what is considered normal and what is deemed strong and stable versus what is deemed fragile The volume includes a strong line up of leading and emerging scholars from a wide array of disciplines including anthropology social studies of science disabilities studies and sociology

Rethinking Climate Change, Conflict and Security Jan Selby, Clemens Hoffmann, 2017-10-02 Is global climate change likely to become a significant source of violent conflict and should it therefore be seen as a national security challenge Most Northern governments militaries think tanks and NGOs believe so as do many academic researchers on the grounds that increased temperatures changing precipitation patterns and rising sea levels will worsen existing social stresses especially within poor societies and marginal communities across Africa and Asia This book argues otherwise The first collection of its kind it brings together leading scholars of Anthropology Geography Development Studies and International Relations to provide a series of critical analyses of mainstream thinking on the climate security nexus It shows how policy discourse on climate conflict consistently misrepresents the causes of violence especially by obscuring its core political dimensions It demonstrates that quantitative research provides a flawed basis for understanding climate conflict linkages It argues that climate security discourse is in hoc with a range of questionable military authoritarian and developmental agendas And it reveals that the greening of global capitalism is already having violent consequences across the global South Climate change the book argues does indeed have serious conflict and security implications but these are quite different from how they are usually imagined This book was published as a special issue of Geopolitics

Segregation and Apartheid in Twentieth Century South Africa William Beinart, Saul Dubow, 2013-04-15 Beinart and Dubow's selection of some of the most important essays on racial segregation and apartheid in South Africa provides an unparalleled introduction to this contentious and absorbing subject Incorporates the 1994 election

Multilingualism and Intercultural Communication H. Ekkehard Wolff, Pamela Maseko, Russell H Kaschula, Christine Anthonissen, Bassey E Antia, 2017-05-01 An in depth look at the changing sociolinguistic dynamics that have influenced South African society To date there has been no published textbook which takes into account changing sociolinguistic dynamics that have influenced South African society Multilingualism and Intercultural Communication breaks new ground in this arena The scope of this book ranges from macro sociolinguistic questions pertaining to language policies and their implementation or non implementation to micro sociolinguistic observations of actual language use in verbal interaction mainly in multilingual contexts of Higher Education HE There is a gradual move for the study of language and culture to be taught in the context of professional disciplines in which they would be used for example Journalism and African languages Education and African languages etc The book caters for this growing market Because of its multilingual nature it caters to English and Afrikaans language speakers as well as the Sotho and Nguni language groups _ the largest languages in South Africa and also increasingly used in the context of South African Higher Education It brings together various inter linked disciplines such as Sociolinguistics and Applied Language Studies Media Studies and Journalism History and Education Social and Natural Sciences Law Human Language Technology Music Intercultural Communication and Literary Studies The unique cross cutting disciplinary features of the book will make it a must have for twenty first century South African students and scholars and those interested in applied language issues

Unstable Ground Rosalind C. Morris, 2025-03-04 What has gold done to people What has it made them do The Witwatersrand in South Africa once home to the world's richest goldfields is today scattered with abandoned mines into which informal miners known as zama zamas venture in an illicit often deadly search for ore Based on field research conducted across more than twenty five years around these mines Unstable Ground reveals the worlds that gold made possible and gold's profound costs for those who have lived in its shadow and dreamt of its transformative power From the vantage point of the closure of South Africa's gold mines Rosalind C Morris reconsiders their histories beginning in the present and descending into the pasts that shaped them

Anchored in evocative descriptions of mining in the ruins this book explores the social worlds built on gold and the lives that were remade and sometimes undone by the industry over a century and a half Viewing this industry from its margins against the backdrop of the cyanide revolution the gold standard s demise and recurrent sinkholes as well as the insurrectionary protests and violence that continue to this day it recasts the history of South Africa and the incomplete effort to overcome apartheid amid the transformations of the global economy In writing that is by turns immersive incisive and poetic Morris unearths a history that was born of imperial aspiration and that persists as a speculative mirage Interweaving ethnography history personal testimony and political thought with striking readings of South African literary texts Unstable Ground is a work of extraordinary ambition and depth

Knowledge Systems and Change in Climate Governance Babette Never, 2014-06-27 The success of international efforts to manage climate change depends on the participation of emerging economies This book uses a comparative study of two of the most important India and South Africa to reveal new insights into managing climate change on a global scale The book provides a unique in depth analysis of how these two countries are dealing with climate change at both national and province levels from India s advances in solar and wind energy development to South Africa s efforts to introduce a carbon tax Using the innovative theoretical framework of climate knowledge systems it explores how people in India and South Africa engage with one other learn and act by forming communities of practice The book identifies the drivers and barriers of climate governance showing how different forms of scientific technological normative and pragmatic knowledge can aid climate governance and analysing how the underlying mind set that guides climate action in these countries is changing This book is a valuable resource for students and scholars of environmental policy politics and governance as well as comparative politics climate change and sustainable development 2024-25
