Africanizing Knowledge Toyin Falola, Christian Jennings, Nearly four decades ago Terence Ranger questioned to what extent African history was actually African and whether methods and concerns derived from Western historiography were really sufficient tools for researching and narrating African history Despite a blossoming and branching out of Africanist scholarship in the last twenty years that question is still haunting The most prestigious locations for production of African studies are outside Africa itself and scholars still seek a solution to this paradox They agree that the ideal solution would be a flowering of institutions of higher learning within Africa which would draw not only Africanist scholars but also financial resources to the continent While the focus of this volume is on historical knowledge the effort to make African scholarship more African is fundamentally interdisciplinary. The essays in this volume employ several innovative methods in an effort to study Africa on its own terms. The book is divided into four parts. Part 1 Africanizing African History offers several diverse methods for bringing distinctly African modes of historical discourse to the foreground in academic historical research. Part 2 African Creative Expression in Context presents case studies of African art, literature, music and poetry. It attempts to strip away the exotic or primitivist aura such topics often accumulate when presented in a foreign setting in order to illuminate the social, historical and aesthetic contexts in which these works of art were originally produced. Part 3 Writing about Colonialism demonstrates that the study of imperialism in Africa remains a springboard for innovative work which takes familiar ideas about Africa and considers them within new contexts. Part 4 Scholars and Their Work critically examines the process of African studies itself including the roles of scholars in the production of knowledge about Africa. This timely and thoughtful volume will be of interest to African studies scholars and students who are concerned about the ways in which Africanist scholarship might become more African. Toyin Falola, a leading historian of Nigeria and a distinguished Africanist, is the Frances Higginbotham Nalle Centennial Professor of History at the University of Texas at Austin. His numerous publications include Yoruba Historiography, African Historiography and Nationalism and African Intellectuals. Christian Jennings is completing his Ph.D. at the University of Texas at Austin. He has contributed chapters on environmental history to the five volume series on Africa published by Carolina Academic Press and is co-editing a forthcoming book on historical methods.

Edmund von Mach, 1916    L'illustré du sud-est, 1914    Cher Journal : Prisonniers de la grande forêt Marsha Forchuk Skrypuch, 2012-11-01 La famille d'Anya immigre de l'Ukraine pour prendre un nouveau départ au Canada. Mais juste après avoir emménagé dans un appartement minuscule Montréal à la Première Guerre mondiale, c'est l'Ukraine qui est annexée par l'Autriche, qui est maintenant en guerre contre le Commonwealth. Plusieurs Ukrainiens sont déclarés sujets de pays ennemis et sont envoyés dans des camps d'internement. C'est ainsi qu'Anya et sa famille se retrouvent dans le camp de Spirit Lake, un endroit lointain dans le nord du Québec. Les conditions sont dures mais au moins la famille d'Anya n'est pas séparée et malgré les difficultés, les barbelés qui l'entourent, la jeune fille arrive à faire des amis et semer la joie autour d'elle. L'auteure Marsha Skrypuch, dont le grand-père a vécu l'internement des Ukrainiens en Alberta, est rendue à Spirit Lake au Québec afin d'effectuer ses recherches pour écrire ce roman. Elle s'est inspirée de l'histoire de Mary Manko, une petite fille de six ans qui a dû quitter Montréal avec sa famille pour être internée à Spirit Lake. Mary Manko est décédée en juillet 2007 à l'âge de 98 ans. Elle était la dernière survivante connue des camps d'internement ukrainiens au Canada.    Théories de théories Charles Dantzig, 2021-09-08 Comme certains de mes livres, "Théories de théories" est une tentative de classement au moyen d'une forme. Son titre s'explique par le double sens du mot "théorie": c'est dire une proposition générale sur un sujet donné et une succession de choses. La file. Quand on dit "il y avait une théorie de chats", cela signifie que plusieurs chats se suivaient les uns derrière les autres. Il se
