City and Soul in Divided Societies Scott Bollens, 2012-06-25 In this unique book Scott A Bollens combines personal narrative with academic analysis in telling the story of inflammatory nationalistic and ethnic conflict in nine cities Jerusalem Beirut Belfast Johannesburg Nicosia Sarajevo Mostar Bilbao and Barcelona Reporting on seventeen years of research and over 240 interviews with political leaders planners architects community representatives and academics he blends personal reflections reportage from a wealth of original interviews and the presentation of hard data in a multidimensional and interdisciplinary exploration of these urban environments of damage trauma healing and repair City and Soul in Divided Societies reveals what it is like living and working in these cities going inside the head of the researcher This approach extends the reader's understanding of these places and connects more intimately with the lived urban experience Bollens observes that a city disabled by nationalistic strife looks like a callous landscape of securitized space divisions and wounds frozen in time and in place Yet the soul in these cities perseveres Written for general readers and academic specialists alike City and Soul in Divided Societies integrates facts opinions photographs and observations in original ways in order to illuminate the substantial challenges of living in and governing polarized and unsettled cities

Taming the Disorderly City Martin J. Murray, 2017-08-31 In postapartheid Johannesburg tensions of race and class manifest themselves starkly in struggles over rights to the city Real estate developers and the very poor fight for control of space as the municipal administration steps aside almost powerless to shape the direction of change Having ceded control of development to the private sector the Johannesburg city government has all but abandoned residential planning to the unpredictability of market forces This failure to plan for the civic good and the resulting confusion is a perfect example of the entrepreneurial approaches to urban governance that are sweeping much of the Global South as well as the cities of the North Martin J Murray brings together a wide range of urban theory and local knowledge to draw a nuanced portrait of contemporary Johannesburg In Taming the Disorderly City he provides a focused intellectual and political critique of the often ambivalent urban dynamics that have emerged after the end of apartheid Exploring the behaviors of the rich and poor each empowered in their own way as they rebuild a new Johannesburg we see the entrepreneurial city high rises shopping districts and gated communities surrounded by and intermingled with poverty In graceful prose Murray offers a compelling portrait of the everyday lives of the urban poor as seen through the lens of real estate capitalism and revitalization efforts

South African urban imaginaries: cases from Johannesburg Richard Ballard, Sandiswa Mapukata, 2022-06-01 How do government officials elected politicians powerful economic actors and ordinary people think and talk about the urban geography of South Africa How do they describe and represent change that is happening in cities towns and villages Do they consider these changes to be good or bad How do they think such places should change What do they do to try to bring about the changes they desire Competing answers to these questions have been at the centre of South Africa's urban development

Through the 19th and 20th centuries white minority governments straddled quite contradictory imaginaries about who could build lives for themselves in urban areas and on what terms Ordinary people held their own urban imaginaries that were quite different to those of white minority governments and were core to the fight for democracy In the democratic era a range of official and popular imaginaries offer diverse visions on how South Africans should be transformed In an earlier collection produced under the GCRO Spatial Imaginaries project we explored the sometimes contradictory nature of post apartheid urban visions with for example with some promoting the creation of new urban settlements on greenfield sites and others attempting to densify and diversify long urbanised spaces Research Report 13 South African urban imaginaries Cases from Johannesburg is a second edited collection under the Spatial Imaginaries project and it uses a series of cases from Johannesburg that illustrate the interactions between urban imaginaries and the material city These cases include the depiction of central business districts in film as spaces of aspiration the way in which the imaginaries of developers in Hillbrow were shaped by the lives of those living there the imaginaries of Alexandra Renewal Project practitioners the way in which residents of Brixton understand diversity and the construction of two new bridges across the M1 to better connect Sandton and Alexandra Joburg!: 2006, 2006 Recasting Workers' Power Edward Webster, Lynford Dor, 2023-07-17 Much of the debate on the future of work has focused on responses to technological trends in the Global North with little evidence on how these trends are impacting work and workers in the Global South Drawing on a rich selection of ethnographic studies of precarious work in Africa this innovative book discusses how globalisation and digitalisation are drivers for structural change and examines their implications for labour Bringing together global labour studies and inequality studies it explores the role of digital technology in new business models and ways in which digitalisation can be harnessed for counter mobilisation by the new worker The E-Toll Saga Wayne Duvenage, 2015-07-01 The E Toll Saga recounts the journey of Wayne Duvenage from a conscientious corporate CEO into the role of civil activist putting all his energy and resources into fighting the controversial decision by those who sought to implement electronic tolling to finance a major road construction project in Gauteng the economic heartland of southern Africa The Opposition to Urban Tolling Alliance OUTA sprung up from nothing to a highly visible and trusted brand in the not for profit space in a matter of a few months in the process raising over R12 million for litigation and civil action While led by Wayne OUTA's success was driven but a small group of people As events unfolded OUTA's legal challenges transformed into civil action testing the resolve and rationale of government and the South African National Roads Agency Limited SANRAL to continue with the e toll scheme described by many as a disaster for SANRAL and an embarrassment for the South African government The E Toll Saga describes one man's inspiring personal story but it also contains valuable lessons on what makes a civil organisation effective and how to mobilise an active citizenry to work towards positive transformation in South Africa Servamus, 2008

Everyday Urban Practices in Africa Nadine Appelhans, Carmel Rawhani, Marie Huchzermeyer, Basirat Oyalowo, Mfaniseni Fana Sihlongonyane, 2024-08-14 This book disrupts the dominant underlying international norms informing urban development strategies across African cities International policy frameworks have created a new universal agenda for developing cities However these frameworks have also imposed global paradigms and discourses that are often in conflict with local urbanisms As we approach the deadline for achieving the Sustainable Development Goals there is need for reflection and deliberation on a post 2030 agenda The authors identify powerful assumptions norms and positionalities that obfuscate the efforts to achieve sustainable development in African cities as well as along the North South divide They argue that a disruptive critique of these normative concepts grounded in the lived African urban everyday opens up opportunities to dismantle their assumed neutrality Through disruption the authors critically re interpret the meanings of policy and the praxis of local urbanism ultimately challenging the logic of universalising concepts underpinning implementation in the current international policy system and asserting the need for contextualised urban policies The book will be of interest to scholars and students of urban studies development planning urban governance human settlements development studies urban geography and African studies It will also be useful for practitioners including town and regional urban planners urban policy consultants and international development cooperation agencies The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license

Exploring the Conditions that Impact Local Administration Responsiveness work to Migrants in selected Metropolitan Municipalities of South Africa Kibreab Habtemichael Gebereselassie, 2022-01-03 Research on local administration responsiveness towards migrant s and non citizens revealed that demographic characteristics in local municipalities have often caused challenges for local administrations to be responsive to the diverse needs of their communities Lucio et al 2013 Lucio 2016 The objective of this study was to explore the conditions that impact on the local administration s responsiveness work to migrants in Durban Cape Town Johannesburg metropolitan municipalities of South Africa The study s goal is met by identifying five major conditions that impact the local administration s responsiveness work to migrants in the study areas Conducted in two rounds field research the study used qualitative research design methods Semistructured interviews group discussions field memos and observations were used to collect data Thematic analysis method was implemented to investigate and analyze the collected raw data This dissertation also used relevant theory as framework and guide to uncover elements of local administrative responsiveness which are associated with migrants The study identified and demonstrated that five major conditions impact the local administration s responsiveness work to migrants in the study areas Local administration work environment administration organizational structure and professionalism external control from elected officials and local politics migrant s community association and economic contribution of migrants are the main conditions that impact on the responsiveness work of the local administration The findings also showed that anchored in the above five conditions administrative responsiveness also varies across the selected study areas This study also contributed by adding new insights about the mechanisms on how the local administration can address the issues of migrants who do not have a direct representation in the local government structure Accordingly for a better responsiveness work to migrants and to support the inclusion of migrants who do not have a direct political representation the study proposes recommendation for policy practice and research that targets on local administration responsiveness work to migrants
