Julie Rajan, 2016-12-05 How various mythologies challenge enable and inspire women artists and activists across the globe to communicate personal and historical experiences of violence is the central concern of this collection Beginning with the observation that twentieth and twenty-first century female writers and artists often use myth to represent their social and artistic struggles the distinguished international scholars and writers consider mythic fabulations as spaces for contested meanings and resistant readings The identified resistance of the mythic material to repression working as it were in opposition to another celebrated drive role of myth that of containment makes the use of myth particularly stimulating for twentieth century and contemporary female artists and it is an interest in the aesthetic and political consequences of such resistances that animates this book Exemplifying the diverse types of engagement with myth and femininity literary criticism discussions of film and art artwork as well as original creative writing could all be found within the boundaries of this innovative volume Femininity myth and violence are here explored in contexts such as female mythopoiesis in the early twentieth century the politics of representation in contemporary writing revision of old myths and creation of new myths in multicultural female experiences Keeping the focus on the actual works of art the editors and contributors offer scholars and teachers an inclusive way to approach literature and the arts that avoids the limits imposed by genre or national and regional boundaries The Cultural Revolution and Overacting Tuo

Wang,2014-09-24 The Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution which took place in China between 1966 and 1976 was a major political and social tragedy in Chinese history As part of an effort to understand how the state enforced control amid seeming chaos this book looks at the ubiquitous revolutionary presentations and performances of power such as political rituals revolutionary rhetoric and public gatherings in people s everyday lives during the Cultural Revolution as performances that contributed to the control of the Chinese people In particular this book discusses how the promotion of revolutionary models in real life contributed to people s eagerness to perform the role of the ideal revolutionary and how the possibility of complete revolutionary transformation promoted by the state media and the hard fact that no one was able to completely become a Maoist subject who would be completely selfless and think and speak only Maoist teaching subjected people to a state of becoming but never fully having become The fear of failing in the Maoist transformation constituted the inner mechanism that propelled ordinary people s radical revolutionary behavior In addition this book examines the audience s reaction to Jiang Qing s court performance in the trial of the Gang of Four as an anarchic liberation from the revolutionary performance of the Cultural Revolution Utilizing methodologies of cultural anthropology linguistics acting theory and literary criticism this book reveals how people s performances of their everyday life functioned as mechanisms of social control A
