Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy. The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages. Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools. The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully. The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience. Tests, Testing, and Genuine School Reform Herbert J. Walberg, 2013-09-01 The author draws on scientific studies of tests and their uses to show how standardized achievement tests must play a central role in improving achievement in K 12 schools. He explains the central considerations in developing and evaluating tests and tells how tests can best be best used covering such topics as using tests for student incentives, paying teachers for performance and using tests in efforts to attain new state and national standards. One Child Reading Margaret Mackey, 2016-06-01 The miracle of the preserved word in whatever medium print audio text video recording digital exchange means that it may transfer into new times and new places. From the Introduction Margaret Mackey draws together memory textual criticism social analysis and reading theory in an extraordinary act of self study. In One Child Reading she makes a singular contribution to our understanding of reading and literacy development. Seeking a deeper sense of what happens when we read Mackey revisited the texts she read viewed listened to and wrote as she became literate in the 1950s and 1960s in St John's Newfoundland. This tremendous sweep of reading included school texts knitting patterns musical scores and games as well as hundreds of books. The result is not a memoir but rather a deftly theorized exploration of how a reader is constructed. One Child Reading is an essential book for librarians classroom teachers those involved in literacy development in both scholarly and practical ways and all serious readers. Foreword by Roberta Seelinger Trites. Educational Psychology: Constructing Learning Dennis M McInerney, 2013-08-15 Educational Psychology: Constructing Learning 6e sets the standard for educational psychology texts in Australia and New Zealand with its comprehensive authoritative and research based coverage of the subject. This edition includes completely updated content to reflect recent advances in the discipline including revised theory into practice features from 39 international developmental psychologists. The author has retained the constructivist approach that made previous editions so engaging and relevant to student teachers and content has been constructed around the new Australian Profession Standards for Teachers. Deaf Education Beyond the Western World Harry Knoors, Maria Brons, Marc Marschark, 2019-01-16 If teachers want to educate deaf learners effectively they have to apply evidence informed methods and didactics with the needs of individual deaf students in mind Education in general and education for deaf learners in particular is situated in broader societal contexts where what works within the Western world may be quite different from what works beyond the Western world By exploring practice based and research based evidence about deaf education in countries that largely have been left out of the international discussion thus far this volume encourages more researchers in more countries to continue investigating the learning environment of deaf learners based on the premise of leaving no one behind Featuring chapters centering on 19 countries from Africa Asia Latin America and Central and Eastern Europe the volume offers a picture of deaf education from the perspectives of local scholars and teachers who demonstrate best practices and challenges within their respective regional contexts This volume addresses the notion of learning through the exchange of knowledge outlines the commonalities and differences between practices and policies in educating deaf and hard of hearing learners and looks ahead to the prospects for the future development of deaf education research in the context of recently adopted international legal frameworks Stimulating academic exchange regionally and globally among scholars and teachers who are fascinated by and invested in deaf education this volume strengthens the foundation for further improvement of education for deaf children all around the world Education at a Glance 2023 Sources, Methodologies and Technical Notes OECD,2023-09-12
