English First Additional Language Gradenovember 2014:

Standards of English in Higher Education Neil Murray, 2015-10-22 The student demographic of universities today has changed quite dramatically from even a decade ago As universities seek to internationalise widen participation and derive attendant reputational and financial benefits along with greater opportunities for research collaborations and industry links they also face a growing challenge associated with what Neil Murray terms the English language question In particular as the proportion of students of non English speaking backgrounds entering universities increases there is growing concern over levels of language proficiency and what this can mean for educational standards the student experience and ultimately institutional standing Standards of English in Higher Education unpacks a number of key and interrelated issues for example the assessment of proficiency and the structure and nature of provision that bear on the question of English language standards and in doing so offers a frank and critical appraisal of English language in higher education today

Multinational Maids Anju Mary Paul, 2017-09-28 Multinational Maids offers an in depth investigation into the international migrations of Filipino and Indonesian migrant domestic workers The author taps on her rigorous study of more than 1 200 subjects migration trajectories to reveal how these migrants work in a series of overseas countries to improve their lives and in some cases seek permanent residence in another country Challenging the portrayal of Asian migrant domestic workers as victims of globalization Multinational Maids reveals migrants agency and strategic thinking under conditions of constraint At the market level the establishment of guestworker programmes for migrant domestic workers in multiple countries has created a global labor market A transnational diaspora shapes migrants evolving destination imaginaries while manpower recruitment and placement agencies create transnational mobility structures In addition differing destination hierarchies and degrees of access to resources lead to the adoption of divergent stepwise trajectories Written in an accessible manner Multinational Maids appeals to migration scholars policymakers activists and students

Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience

Rankins-Robertson, 2017-03-03 Illustrates the widespread applications of the Framework for Success in Postsecondary Writing especially the eight habits of mind in helping students to be successful not only in postsecondary writing courses but also in four arenas of life academic professional civic and personal Teaching Reading Comprehension to English Learners in Secondary Schools: A Research-Based Approach Cekiso, Madoda, Olifant, Florence, Mokhtari, Kouider, 2025-04-23 Teaching reading comprehension to English learners ELs in secondary schools presents unique challenges as these students must navigate the complexities of academic texts and the intricacies of language acquisition Effective instruction requires a research based approach that considers the diverse linguistic cultural and cognitive backgrounds of these learners Recent studies highlight the importance of integrating strategies that build both language proficiency and content knowledge essential for helping ELs develop the skills needed to comprehend complex materials Fostering metacognitive awareness through strategies like summarizing questioning and making connections can empower students to become active and strategic readers This approach recognizes the need for a supportive inclusive classroom environment that encourages language development while promoting academic achievement in content areas Further research may help educators provide English learners with the tools to thrive as capable readers in secondary school Teaching Reading Comprehension to English Learners in Secondary School A Research Based Approach explores various aspects of teaching reading comprehension to English Second Language ESL learners in secondary schools It examines current challenges and evidence based strategies in reading comprehension This book covers topics such as language learning reading strategies and teacher training and is a useful resource for academicians researchers and scientists Engineering Technology, Engineering Education and Engineering Management Deyao Tan, 2015-06-25 This volume contains papers presented at the International Conference on Engineering Technologies Engineering Education and Engineering Management ETEEEM 2014 Hong Kong 15 16 November 2014 A wide variety of topics is included in the book Engineering Education Education Engineering and Technology Methods and Learning Mechanism History of Soy Nutritional Research (1990-2021) William Shurtleff; Akiko Aoyagi, 2021 The world s most comprehensive well documented and well illustrated book on this subject With extensive subject and geographical index 30 photographs and illustrations mostly color Free of charge in digital PDF format Multilingual Perspectives in Geolinguistics: 2nd Edition Hikaru Kitabayashi, 2015 Multilingual Perspectives in Geolinguistics 2nd Edition is a publication of the American Society of Geolinguistics created with the active participation of its Japanese membership The 2nd edition is a significantly expanded version with new chapters contributed by special request of the editorial staff The editors in chief are Professor Wayne Finke of Baruch College City University of New York and Professor Hikaru Kitabayashi of Daito Bunka University The object was to offer potential readers a more complete introduction to current literature dealing with geolinguistic themes than was the case with the first edition with Geolinguistics being defined as the study of languages and varieties of language in contact and or conflict This 2nd edition also contains many small corrections to the original text and it is to be hoped that it will offer a more satisfying experience than was possible with the first edition which due to its historical interest is being kept in print for the time being 2012 GCSE English results Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Education Committee,2013-06-11 The 2012 GCSE English results prompted significant controversy which ultimately resulted in an application for judicial review This report sets out the background to these events and identifies lessons to be learned The problems with GCSE English can be traced back to the 2007 09 development phase of the qualification in particular the turbulence which resulted from the shift away from a mostly linear to a modular system combined with a high proportion of controlled assessment and generous marking tolerances Exam board experts raised concerns at the time but these were not acted upon by the regulator the then interim Ofqual Further difficulties arose because of pressures from the school accountability system The problems experienced with GCSE English in 2012 highlighted serious weaknesses in the moderation of speaking and listening with consequences for grade awarding The current status of Ofqual as an independent regulator accountable to Parliament is the right one However the Coalition Government is bringing in wholesale changes to GCSEs and A levels to a tight timetable and at the same time Ofqual must have systems in place The Committee is also concerned that there is a rush towards separate exam systems for England Wales and Northern Ireland without careful reflection on what might be lost or consensus that this is the right thing to do

America Without a Compass Ph. D.,2016-01-22 Americans tried to fix the world and neglected the home front resulting in failure at both ends Ignorance became fashionable and opportunistic polymorphous predators parasites and false prophets took advantage of the situation It is hard to believe how far the nation fell into violent interracial melodramas political mediocrity incivility and confusion There is no agreement on what is good and evil Everything is relative ugly and pretty real and false right and wrong American society suffers from a lack of coherence and consistency and such a heavy burden of illogical non sense that it can no longer handle all the contradictions We are unaware of where we are going First Things First! Ruby Takanishi,2016 Challenging policymakers educators reformers and citizens to replace piecemeal reforms with fundamental redesign First Things First calls for a different way of organizing the American primary school Ruby Takanishi outlines a new framework for integrating early education with primary education pre K 5 including both short and long term strategies that starts with 3 and 4 year olds Featuring portraits of primary schools that have successfully integrated pre K the book includes resources on dual language learners dual generation family engagement effective philanthropy rethinking advocacy and more The book centers on four basic questions Why should the United States design a new primary school as children s first widely shared educational experience How can the educators of the new primary school use new knowledge about how children learn to improve their practice What will it take to create a new primary school that educates all children well How can the design of the new primary school reflect demographic social linguistic and cultural changes and adapt to the requirements of a global economy First Things First reframes the basic structure of traditional primary education challenging us to get the early years of a 21st century public education system off to a new and stronger start The vision of a new primary school model in this book should be studied by all workers in the fields of education human development and social policy The scholarship in this book is impeccable and the arguments advanced by this leading scholar are most convincing Further the book is beautifully written Edward Zigler Sterling Professor of Psychology Emeritus Yale University Takanishi makes a compelling case that enabling all American children to achieve their potential requires both expansion of high quality preschool and fundamental changes in how our public elementary schools serve young students Sara Mead Bellwether Education Partners Dr Takanishi has laid out a vision and approach to schooling that is comprehensive forward looking and versed in strong evidence This is must reading for educators leaders policymakers and researchers Arthur Reynolds University of Minnesota

The Politics of Good Neighbourhood Béla Filep, 2016-10-04 Analyzing neighbourly relations in multicultural societies this book develops a concept of good neighbourhood and argues that cultural capital in various forms is the determining variable in building good neighbourly relations This work breaks new ground by offering a conceptual integration of different mutually interdependent forms of capital intercultural capital cross cultural social capital and multicultural capital These forms of capital are linked to different educational and cultural policies of the state as well as to civil society involvement at different levels of implementation Grounded in extensive fieldwork the book not only provides critical insights into neighbourly relations in culturally diverse border regions of East Central Europe but the concept developed through a rich theoretical base can be usefully adapted and widely applied to other contexts Scholars and graduate level students in geography international relations political science social anthropology and sociology as well as policy practitioners with an interest in the negotiation of coexistence minority issues and social and political cohesion in multicultural societies will find this an illuminating read

Approaches to Inclusive English Classrooms Kate Mastruserio Reynolds, 2015-03-02 This book provides educators with an accessible guide to best practices concerning content based instruction CBI models and their use in English learner inclusive classrooms The author effectively bridges the gap between theory and practice with a critical analysis of practical examples and diverse strategies for the inclusion of English learners into K 12 general education courses The book also raises controversial questions regarding who is qualified to teach English learners and who is responsible for doing so looking at the difficulties faced by both general educators and ESL teachers in Inclusive Classrooms By providing a lens through which both ESL teachers and general educators are able to analyze compare and contrast a range of widely employed CBI methods this book allows teachers to make informed decisions in their EL program development and work with English learners in K 12 schools

Influenza Virus Vaccines and Immunotherapies Arun Kumar, Shakti Singh, 2016-03-15 Influenza virus infections lead to thousands of deaths worldwide annually and billions of dollars economic burden Despite continuing advances in our understanding of the immune evasion mechanism the disease remains one of the foremost threat for human being Traditional vaccines attenuated and inactivated mainly provide protection by inducing virus neutralizing antibodies targeting ever changing surface antigens Haemagglutinin HA and Neuraminidase NA Due to genetic shift and immune selection pressure prevalence of circulating influenza virus subtypes changes every year Therefore mismatch between circulating strain and vaccine strain can critically affect the success rate of these conventional flu vaccines and requires continuous monitoring of circulating influenza virus subtypes and change in the vaccine formulations accordingly The collective limitations of existing flu vaccines urgently call for the development of a novel universal vaccines that might provide the required protective immunity to a range of influenza virus subtypes New approaches are being investigated mainly targeting conserved regions of flu proteins Some of these approaches include universally conserved epitopes of HA nucleoprotein NP capsid protein M1 and ion channel protein M2 that induced strong immune responses in animal models Some attention and progress appears to be focused on vaccines based on the M2 ectodomain M2e employing a variety of constructs adjuvants and delivery systems including M2e hepatitis B core antigen flagellin constructs and virus like particles VLP Animal studies with these M2e candidate vaccines demonstrated that these vaccine candidates can prevent severe illness and death but not infection which may pose difficulties in both the evaluation of clinical efficacy and approval by the regulatory authorities VLP vaccines appear to be promising but still are mostly limited to animal studies The discovery and development of new and improved vaccines have been greatly facilitated by the application of new technologies The use of nucleic acid based vaccines to combine the benefits of in situ expression of antigens with the safety of inactivated and subunit vaccines has been a key advancement Upon their discovery more than 20 years ago nucleic acid vaccines promised to be a safe and effective mean to mimic immunization with a live organism vaccine particularly for induction of T cell immunity In addition the manufacturing of nucleic acid based vaccines offered the potential to be relatively simple inexpensive and generic Reverse Vaccinology and in silico designing of vaccines are very innovative approaches and being considered as future of vaccines Furthermore various immuno therapeutic agents also being developed to treat and minimize immuno pathological damage in patients suffering from life threatening complications For the treatment of such pathological conditions various novel approaches such as administration of immune suppressive cytokines blocking co stimulatory signals or activating co inhibitory signal of T cell activation are being tested both in lab and clinics The Research Topic on influenza virus vaccine and therapeutics will give an insight in to the current status and future scope of these new innovative approaches and technologies Moreover these new methods will also serve as a reference tool for the development of future vaccines against several other pathogens
