English P2014 Preparatory Examination Memorandum:

Challenges in Language Testing Around the World Betty Lanteigne, Christine Coombe, James Dean Brown, 2021-02-17 This book combines insights from language assessment literacy and critical language testing through critical analyses and research about challenges in language assessment around the world. It investigates problematic practices in language testing which are relevant to language test users such as language program directors, testing centers, and language teachers, as well as teachers in training in Graduate Diploma and Master of Arts in Applied Linguistics programs. These issues involve aspects of language testing such as test development, test administration, scoring, and interpretation, use of test results. Chapters in this volume discuss insights about language testing policy, testing world languages, developing program level language tests, and tests of specific language skills and language assessment literacy. In addition, this book identifies two needs in language testing for further examination: the need for collaboration between language test developers, language test users, and language users, and the need to base language tests on real world language use.

Language Education in Multilingual Colombia Norbella Miranda, Anne-Marie de Mejía, Silvia Valencia Giraldo, 2022-08-04 This collection brings together cutting edge research and theoretical discussions on the linguistic, cultural, and political forces that shape multilingual Colombia, highlighting the country's unique sociolinguistic landscape and offering new insights into multilingualism in the Global South. The volume outlines the changing dynamics of multilingualism in Colombia where Spanish, Spanish-based, and English-based Creoles, the linguistic and cultural heritages of Indigenous communities and migrant groups, and the prevalence of English in language education policy intersect. The chapters explore the implications of policy making on language policy discourse and especially on language teacher education for those working on the margins in urban and rural areas. They also explore existing understandings of interculturality and the work of academics and local communities in minority language revitalization efforts. Problematizing essentialized views of language and culture and raising awareness around the complex relationship between language identity and interculturality in the Global South, this book will be of interest to scholars in multilingualism, sociolinguistics, language education, teacher education, and applied linguistics.

English and Students with Limited or Interrupted Formal Education Luis Javier Pentón Herrera, 2022-02-25 This book examines students with limited or interrupted education (SLIFE) in the context of English learners and teacher preparation courses from a cultural and social lens. The book is divided into five parts. Part I frames the conversation and contributions in this edited volume. Part II provides an overview of SLIFE. Part III focuses on teacher preparation programs. Part IV discusses the challenges faced by SLIFE in K-12 learning environments, and Part V examines SLIFE in adult learning environments. This book is unique in that it offers practical instructional tools to educators, thus helping to bridge theory and practice. Moreover, it retains a special focus on K-12 and adult SLIFE and has an inclusive and international perspective which includes a novel theoretical framework to support the mental, emotional, and instructional needs of LGBTQ refugee students. The book is of interest to teacher educators.

Materializing the Middle Passage Jane Webster, 2023-10-31 An estimated 2 7 million Africans made an enforced crossing of the Atlantic on British slave ships between c 1680 and 1807 a journey that has become known as the Middle Passage This book focuses on the slave ship itself The slave ship is the largest artefact of the Transatlantic slave trade but because so few examples of wrecked slaving vessels have been located at sea it is rarely studied by archaeologists Materializing the Middle Passage A Historical Archaeology of British Slave Shipping 1680 1807 argues that there are other ways for archaeologists to materialize the slave ship It employs a pioneering interdisciplinary methodology combining primary documentary sources maritime and terrestrial archaeology paintings maritime and ethnographic museum collections and many other sources to rebuild British slaving vessels and to identify changes to them over time The book then goes on to consider the reception of the slave ship and its trade goods in coastal West Africa and details the range and uses of the many African resources including ivory gold and live animals entering Britain on returning slave ships The third section of the book focuses on the Middle Passage experiences of both captives and crews and argues that greater attention needs to be paid to the coping mechanisms through which Africans survived yet also challenged their captive passage Finally Jane Webster asks why the African Middle Passage experience remains so elusive even after decades of scholarship dedicated to uncovering it She considers when how and why the crossing was remembered by saltwater captives in the Caribbean and North America The marriage of words and things attempted in this richly illustrated book is underpinned throughout by a theoretical perspective combining creolization and postcolonial theory and by a central focus on the materiality of the slave ship and its regimes
