Grade 1 question Paper 2013 Economics Pfrom Limpopo:

New Directions in Agrarian Political Economy Ryan Isakson, 2017-10-02 How relevant are the classic theories of agrarian change in the contemporary context This volume explores this question by focusing upon the defining features of agrarian transformation in the 21st century the financialization of food and agriculture the blurring of rural and urban livelihoods through migration and other economic activities forest transition climate change rural indebtedness the co evolution of social policy and moral economies and changing property relations Combined the eleven contributions to this collection provide a broad overview of agrarian studies over the past four decades and identify the contemporary frontiers of agrarian political economy In this path breaking collection the authors show how new iterations of long evident processes continue to catch peasants and smallholders in the crosshairs of crises and how many manage to face these challenges developing new sources and sites of livelihood production This volume was published as part one of the special double issue celebrating the 40th anniversary of the Journal of Peasant Studies

The Geography of South Africa Jasper Knight, Christian M. Rogerson, 2018-10-03 This edited collection examines contemporary directions in geographical research on South Africa It encompasses a cross section of selected themes of critical importance not only to the discipline of Geography in South Africa but also of relevance to other areas of the Global South All chapters are original contributions providing a state of the art research baseline on key themes in physical human and environmental geography and in understanding the changing geographical landscapes of modern South Africa These contributions set the scene for an understanding of the relationships between modern South Africa and the wider contemporary world including issues of sustainable development and growth in the Global South

Chiefs of the Plantation Lincoln Addison, 2019-08-15 South African agriculture is characterized by growing labour unrest evinced in recent years by high profile strikes but little is known about the sources and forms of day to day struggle In Chiefs of the Plantation Lincoln Addison examines how labour conflict is fuelled by changing management practices and how workers respond and resist across spatial sexual and spiritual domains Depicting in rich ethnographic detail daily life on a plantation Addison describes how agriculture has been restructured in the post apartheid era through a delegation of authority from white landowners to black intermediaries He explains that while this labour regime enables the profitability of plantations it gives rise to a fragile moral economy in which perceptions of what is tolerable and what is exploitation frequently clash In this environment transactional sex and Christian worship emerge as important terrains of gendered and spiritual contestation where women and low ranking workers remain resilient in the face of unequal power relations Meanwhile plantations project an appearance of benevolent paternalism particularly in the narratives and self identity of white landowners This book reveals how in the everyday life of the community both the plantation and the compound where the workers live serve as central grounds for the negotiation of labour relations A groundbreaking study that uncovers how migrant plantation workers challenge their exploitation Chiefs of the Plantation is a rare glimpse into the often hidden world of labour struggle on contemporary plantations Growth and Change in Neoliberal Capitalism Alfredo Saad-Filho,2020-10-20 Growth and Change in Neoliberal Capitalism brings together selected essays written by Alfredo Saad Filho one of the most prominent Marxist political economists today This book offers a rich analysis of long term economic development in the current stage of capitalism the new relations of dependence between countries the prospects for poor countries and the progressive alternatives to neoliberalism The volume also provides a detailed set of studies of the political economy of Brazil tracking its achievements tragedies contradictions and limitations The Oxford Handbook of Land Politics Saturnino M. Borrás,Jennifer C. Franco,2025-08-29 The Oxford Handbook of Land Politics brings together key theoretical perspectives on the politics of land as well as strategic thematic studies on land and social life namely food politics climate change labor regimes nation states and citizenship and geopolitics The contributors to this volume address the basic but complex questions of who gets to have access to land why how what kind of land and how much where and for how long for what purposes and with what implications as to who wins and who loses These questions are grounded in social relations that are in turn rooted in class and other social group formations that are enacted within the inseparable spheres of state and society Fundamental to this collection is its treatment of land in the context of production and social reproduction where social reproduction is interpreted in a broad sense to include socio ecological socio cultural and socio political reproduction The definition of land used in this Handbook encompasses soil farmland grazing land home lots landscapes socio agroecological zones territory and homeland Individually and together the chapters show that making sense of the dynamics of global social life requires a fundamental understanding of the politics of land and a grasp of land politics requires a comprehension of broader social life For instance land politics plays a key role in causing climate change and at the same time it is centrally located in the competing solutions to the climate crisis Understanding climate change politics necessarily requires a deep grasp of land politics All contributing authors are critical of capitalism and of theories that justify and celebrate it While most contributions focus on dynamics of social change in and in relation to the rural world these are cast in the context of rural urban agriculture industry national global continuums The Handbook is organically embedded in several disciplines and fields of study political economy political ecology sociology political science economics anthropology legal studies development studies anthropology environmental studies and social movements It is a critical resource for scholars and students who seek to understand the complex interactions between these various disciplines and land politics

Rural Wage Employment in Developing Countries Carlos Oya,Nicola Pontara,2015-05-22 There is a striking scarcity of work conducted on rural labour markets in the developing world particularly in Africa This book aims to fill this gap by bringing together a group of contributors who boast substantial field experience researching rural wage employment in various developing countries It provides critical perspectives on mainstream approaches to rural agrarian development and analysis of agrarian change and rural transformations from a long term perspective This book challenges the notion that rural areas in low and middle income countries are dominated by self employment It purports that this conventional view is largely due to the application of conceptual frameworks and statistical conventions that are ill equipped to capture labour market participation The contributions in this book offer a variety of methodological lessons for the study of rural labour markets focusing in particular on the use of mixed methods in micro level field research and more emphasis on capturing occupation multiplicity The emphasis on context history and specific configurations of power relations affecting rural labour market outcomes are key and reoccurring features of this book This analysis will help readers think about policy options to improve the quantity and quality of rural wage employment their impact on the poorest rural people and their political feasibility in each context
