Film Analysis Holly Cox Adam Deutsch English 225: Introduction to Film August 30, 2010 Film Analysis There is so much more to analyzing films than watching a movie. Film analysis is a very complex procedure. "Analysis generally, means breaking up the whole to discover the nature, function, and interrelationships of the parts" (Boggs, J. & Petrie, D. , 2008, p. 7). In analyzing a film, you must not only analyze the film as a whole, but you must also analyze each element that makes up the film. Because a film is constantly moving, it is difficult to analyze all of its elements in a single viewing.

Therefore, to analyze a film properly, it is usually necessary to view the film at least twice and preferably multiple times. There are several elements that make up a film, such as the fictional and dramatic elements, visual design, cinematography and special visual effects, editing, color, sound effects and dialogue, musical score and acting. Each of these elements work together to convey the theme of the film to the viewer. The first step in film analysis is identifying the films theme. When discussing film analysis, the theme refers to the unifying, central concern of the film, the special focus that unifies the work (txt, 2008, p. 0). There may be several different things going on in a single film, but one will stand out amongst the rest as the theme. After viewing a film, you should be able to analyze all of its elements and how they contribute to the films theme. Five categories make up the theme of every film: the plot, the emotional mood, the character, style or texture, and ideas. In every film each of these elements are present, but one is more prevalent as the focus and theme. In order to analyze the theme, it is helpful to first figure out the element that the film is focused.

In a movie where the theme is focused on the plot, the film is usually action packed and fast paced. The events and characters in such films are only important in the context of the story being told in the said film. An example of a movie where the theme was based on a summary of the plot would be Spiderman. In the film Spiderman, the film is focused on the action happening in the film. It is a fasted paced, action filled film where the events and the outcome have no real significance except for in the context of the movie. The theme of a film can also be focused on an emotional mood.

There are a wide variety of moods that can serve as the thematic

Literature into Film Linda Costanzo Cahir, 2014-12-24 For most people film adaptation of literature can be summed up in one sentence The movie wasn't as good as the book This volume undertakes to show the reader that not only is this evaluation not always true but sometimes it is intrinsically unfair Movies based on literary works while often billed as adaptations are more correctly termed translations A director and his actors translate the story from the written page into a visual presentation Depending on the form of the original text and the chosen method of translation certain inherent difficulties and pitfalls are associated with this change of medium So often our reception of a book based movie has more to do with our expectations and reading of the literature than with the job that the movie production did or did not do Avoiding these biases and fairly evaluating any particular literary based film takes an awareness of certain factors Written with a formalistic rather than historical approach this work presents a comprehensive guide to literature based films establishing a contextual and theoretical basis to help the reader understand the relationships between such movies and the original texts as well as the reader's own individual responses to these productions To this end it focuses on recognizing and appreciating the inherent difficulties encountered when basing a film on a literary work be it a novel novella play or short story Individual chapters deal with the specific issues and difficulties raised by each of these genres providing an overview backed up by case studies of specific film translations Films and literary works receiving this treatment include The Unbearable Lightness of Being The Manchurian Candidate 1962 Lady Windemere's Fan by Oscar Wilde and Shakespeare's Henry V Interspersed throughout the text are suggestions for activities the film student or buff can use to enhance his or her appreciation and understanding of the films Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here

The dominance of the male gaze in Hollywood Films Isabelle Fol, 2006-03-16 Inhaltsangabe Abstract The way in which media systems reflect our social environment and specifically how they represent and disseminate gender role models and have a lasting effect on the construction of identity is of long standing interest both in Gender Studies and in the literary and the visual arts In order to examine in particular the representation of women in the visual art of popular cinema The Dominance of the Male Gaze in Hollywood Films will thus focus on the image of women in mainstream Hollywood films Although media and specifically television and films are often considered to act largely as a social mirror films in fact often distort social reality and continue to reflect traditional stereotypical gender constructions In fact these traditional gender images are not simply mirrors of real life but also ideological signifiers In many mainstream films that pretend to depict reality a time lag separates true social circumstances from the film reality the movie produces Consequently this time lag also manifest in filmic representations of gender roles means for the women s movement that feminists have hardly been able to enact new images of women outside the patriarchal context of popular films or change female stereotypes and incorporate feminist thought into mainstream films Thus mainstream films do not propagate an image of emancipated women quite the reverse women are subordinate objects of the male gaze This general assumption has led to this thesis which will deal with the question of whether Hollywood films as representative of mainstream culture still disseminate patriarchal images of women dominated by the male gaze even though feminist thought has been part of our society for some decades now Located at the intersection of Media Studies Cultural Studies Sociology and Gender Studies this thesis will mainly follow the theoretical approach of the feminist film critic Laura Mulvey who developed the concept of the male gaze in her essay Visual Pleasure and Narrative Cinema Mulvey s concept shall contribute to the analysis of the thesis that the images of women in Hollywood films still correspond to conservative patriarchal stereotypes Within the scope of this still valid thesis one of the major restrictions was to narrow down the film analysis to merely Hollywood film production The reason for this restriction is first of all that Hollywood films representative of popular taste are globally
