NATIONAL HONORS SOCIETY

I strongly believe that I have fulfilled my duties as an adolescent, a leader, a scholar, and a service man to be accepted into the National Honors Society.

I have shown my strength as a leader through my hard work and dedication in football for Atholton and in boy scouts while exhibiting great skills in the community. Football proves me to be a leader due to the fact that I serve as a quarterback. By having to be responsible for knowing every play and being accountable for everyone on the team and on the field, shows leadership. I lead my team into battle with the other team, and strive to succeed in a way most aren't capable. I am responsible for every snap of the ball and if something goes wrong such as a fumble or an interception, it's on my shoulders. I take care of business when it needs to be taken care of and I take initiative to all the plans revolving the team. I go to sponsor and take part in all of the fundraisers we have had. Two years in a row, I have sold over forty Raider Gold Cards to people across the town, which was the most of anyone on either the Junior Varsity team or the Varsity team. As well as selling the most fundraisers to promote our school and team, I always show up for our Fuddruckers fundraiser where twenty percent of the proceeds go towards Atholton High School. This proves that I am a leader in my ability to show up for all team/school fundraisers and activities. I always try to encourage people to show up at these types of events and always uphold a positive attitude. My grades throughout high school exceed that of the requirements for National Honors Society. My cumulative GPA for freshman and sophomore year was shown as a 3.6. I take many honors classes and GT courses also. I have helped other kids out in school if they need help with Spanish after school or chemistry as well. People can rely on me for help and guidance because I take the right steps to achieve success in my life. All of my teachers depend on me to get all of my work done on time and turn it in with excellence. Also, I tend to lead discussions in most of my classes whether the topic is on a book we are reading or on the homework. My leadership as a person is shown throughout my daily tasks and will always try to lead people in the right direction under my wing.

During my time as an adolescent, I have served many services to many people

How To Write An Nhs Essay:

How to Write Well: a Guide for Health and Social Care Students June Keeling, Hazel Chapman, Julie Williams, 2013-10-16

Good writing skills are essential for study but many students find that they struggle to write well. Written especially for health and social care students, this book demystifies academic writing, giving you a better understanding of what good writing looks like and how to achieve it. Topics covered in this accessible book include: How to plan and write pieces to deadlines; How to copyedit and proofread your own work; How to develop good writing behaviours and find motivation; How to write effective and safe service user records. This user-friendly guide includes examples of good and bad writing activities to work through, handy hints and tips at the end of each chapter, and personal experiences from students, making it a must-read for any health and social care students looking for the skills and confidence to master good academic writing. Contributors: Michael Baksh, Amanda Clarke, Elizabeth Cooper, James Greaves, Dasha Koneva, Jane Quigley, Victoria Ridgway, Dr Carol Lewis, Roylance Pat Talbot, Richard Williams, Mary Williams. This book is aimed at students but I am sure that it has an audience beyond that: we all need help and encouragement to write. Full of practical advice and examples, this book will help you to find a writing strategy that works for you and to develop your own style. Some simple but very effective ideas are used, such as making writing a normal activity, just keeping going and not necessarily starting at the beginning. Roger Watson, Professor of Nursing, University of Hull, UK. The focus of this book is on how to write well. As I have argued previously, we all need to be reminded of the skills required in order to make a difference to our patient clients and their carers' lives. Lifelong learning is the way that we update our knowledge, skills and competencies. But in order to do this effectively, we need to have the right skill set. The ability to write well is fundamental to our personal and professional learning, and this is regardless of what stage we are in our careers. Writing is a skill that we use every day, be it an email to a friend or an assignment for a course. With practice, we can develop and refine this essential skill. I particularly like the way the authors encourage us to be critical of our writing; this is also something that we can offer to others as critical friends. Sian E Maslin Prothero, Professor of Nursing, Clinical School of Nursing, Midwifery and Sir Charles Gairdner Hospital, Edith Cowan University, Western Australia. Teaching

International Foundation Year Anne Stazicker, Nancy Woods, 2022-04-19.
