Biodiversity Loss and Conservation in Fragmented Forest Landscapes Adrian C. Newton,2007-01-01 Based on a field research on the changing montane and temperate rainforests of Mexico and South America By concentrating on these largely overlooked environments this work allows for comparative analysis across areas and helps identify how human disturbance has impacted the biodiversity of all forest types

Conservation Biogeography Richard J. Ladle,Robert J. Whittaker,2011-01-11

CONSERVATION BIOGEOGRAPHY The Earth s ecosystems are in the midst of an unprecedented period of change as a result of human action Many habitats have been completely destroyed or divided into tiny fragments others have been transformed through the introduction of new species or the extinction of native plants and animals while anthropogenic climate change now threatens to completely redraw the geographic map of life on this planet The urgent need to understand and prescribe solutions to this complicated and interlinked set of pressing conservation issues has lead to the transformation of the venerable academic discipline of biogeography the study of the geographic distribution of animals and plants The newly emerged sub discipline of conservation biogeography uses the conceptual tools and methods of biogeography to address real world conservation problems and to provide predictions about the fate of key species and ecosystems over the next century This book provides the first comprehensive review of the field in a series of closely interlinked chapters addressing the central issues within this exciting and important subject
