Local Architecture Building Place Craft And Community:

Local Architecture Brian Mackay-Lyons, 2014-12-16 In architecture as in food local is an idea whose time has come Of course the idea of an architecture that responds to site draws on local building traditions materials and crafts and strives to create a sense of community is not recent Yet the way it has evolved in the past few years in the hands of some of the world's most accomplished architects is indeed defining a new movement From the rammed earth houses of Rick Joy and Pacific Northwest timber houses of Tom Kundig to the community built structures of Rural Studio and Francis K r designers everywhere are championing an architecture that exists from in and for a specific place The stunning projects presented here in the first book to examine this global shift were featured at the thirteenth and final Ghost conference held in 2011 organized by Nova Scotia architect educator and local practitioner Brian MacKay Lyons The result is the most complete collection of contemporary regionalist architecture available with essays by early proponents of the movement including Kenneth Frampton Juhani Pallasmaa and Pritzker Prize winning architect Glenn Murcutt The Handbook of Contemporary Indigenous Architecture Elizabeth Grant, Kelly Greenop, Albert L. Refiti, Daniel J. Glenn, 2018-06-26 This Handbook provides the first comprehensive international overview of significant contemporary Indigenous architecture practice and discourse showcasing established and emerging Indigenous authors and practitioners from Australia Aotearoa New Zealand the Pacific Islands Canada USA and other countries It captures the breadth and depth of contemporary work in the field establishes the historical and present context of the work and highlights important future directions for research and practice The topics covered include Indigenous placemaking identity cultural regeneration and Indigenous knowledges The book brings together eminent and emerging scholars and practitioners to discuss and compare major projects and design approaches to reflect on the main issues and debates while enhancing theoretical understandings of contemporary Indigenous architecture The book is an indispensable resource for scholars students policy makers and other professionals seeking to understand the ways in which Indigenous people have a built tradition or aspire to translate their cultures into the built environment It is also an essential reference for academics and practitioners working in the field of the built environment who need up to date knowledge of current practices and discourse on Indigenous peoples and their architecture Design/Build with Jersey Devil Charlie Hailey, 2016-07-19 Steve Badanes Jim Adamson and John Ringel believe an architect's job does not stop at designing a building but that it extends to constructing it as well Now working into their fifth decade Jersey Devil the loose knit group they founded in 1972 bands together under this design build ethos that an architect's place is just as much on the job site as it is at the drawing board The trio pioneered design build practice and their influence has spawned more than one hundred design build programs Jersey Devil's process and expertise are unpacked in this Architecture Brief providing students and teachers with a toolkit for design build education Through stories didactic commentary and sample exercises the Design Build complements nuts and bolts content with Jersey Devil's philosophy and perspective allowing the book to impart practical instruction while acting as a valuable guide for navigating the elusive challenges of design build Themes touch on socially responsible architecture intuition and intentionality detailing and fostering craftsmanship group work and collaboration off the shelf components and nonstandard applications educational reform ethos and risk good life and play the politics of building and university community relations Designbuild Education Chad Kraus,2017-03-03 Designbuild Education adopts the intellectual framework of American Pragmatism which is a theory of action to investigate architects compelling urge to build and how that manifests in collegiate designbuild programs Organized into four themes people poetics process and practice the book brings together new essays by some of today s most well known designbuild educators including Andrew Freear from Rural Studio and Dan Rockhill from Studio 804 to shed light on the theoretical dimensions of their practice and work Illustrated with over 100 black and white images Food and Architecture Samantha L. Martin-McAuliffe,2016-09-22 Food and Architecture is the first book to explore the relationship between these two fields of study and practice Bringing together leading voices from both food studies and architecture it provides a ground breaking cross disciplinary analysis of two disciplines which both rely on a combination of creativity intuition taste and science but have rarely been engaged in direct dialogue Each of the four sections Regionalism Sustainability Craft and Authenticity focuses on a core area of overlap between food and architecture Structured around a series of conversations between chefs culinary historians and architects each theme is explored through a variety of case studies ranging from pig slaughtering and farmhouses in Greece to authenticity and heritage in American cuisine Drawing on a range of approaches from both disciplines methodologies include practice based research literary analysis memoir and narrative The end of each section features a commentary by Samantha Martin McAuliffe which emphasizes key themes and connections This compelling book is invaluable reading for students and scholars in food studies and architecture as well as practicing chefs and architects

Canada Michelangelo Sabatino,Rhodri Windsor Liscombe,2016-11-15 Canada is a country of massive size of diverse geographical features and an equally diverse population all features that are magnificently reflected in its architecture In this book Rhodri Windsor Liscombe and Michelangelo Sabatino offer a richly informative history of Canadian architecture that celebrates and explores the country s many contributions to the spread of architectural modernity in the Americas A distinct Canadian design attitude coalesced during the twentieth century one informed by a liberal hybrid and pragmatic mindset intent less upon the dogma of architectural language and more on thinking about the formation of inclusive spaces and places Taking a fresh perspective on design production they map the unfolding of architectural modernity across the country from the completion of the transcontinental railway in the late 1880s through to the present Along the way they discuss architecture within the broader contexts of political industrial and sociocultural evolution the urban suburban expansion and new building technologies Examining the works of architects and firms such as ARCOP Eric Arthur Ernest Cormier Brigitte Shim and Howard Sutcliffe this book brings Canadian architecture chronologically and thematically to life The Routledge

Handbook of Indigenous Development Katharina Ruckstuhl, Irma A. Velásquez Nimatuj, John-Andrew McNeish, Nancy Postero, 2022-11-30 This Handbook inverts the lens on development asking what Indigenous communities across the globe hope and build for themselves In contrast to earlier writing on development this volume focuses on Indigenous peoples as inspiring theorists and potent political actors who resist the ongoing destruction of their livelihoods To foster their own visions of development they look from the present back to Indigenous pasts and forward to Indigenous futures Key questions How do Indigenous theories of justice sovereignty and relations between humans and non humans inform their understandings of development How have Indigenous people used Rights of Nature legal pluralism and global governance systems to push for their visions How do Indigenous relations with the Earth inform their struggles against natural resource extraction How have native peoples negotiated the dangers and benefits of capitalism to foster their own life projects How do Indigenous peoples in diaspora and in cities around the world contribute to Indigenous futures How can Indigenous intellectuals artists and scientists control their intellectual property and knowledge systems and bring into being meaningful collective life projects The book is intended for Indigenous and non Indigenous activists communities scholars and students It provides a guide to current thinking across the disciplines that converge in the study of development including geography anthropology environmental studies development studies political science and Indigenous studies

Innate Terrain Alissa North, 2022-12-01 Innate Terrain addresses the varied perceptions of Canada's natural terrain framing the discussion in the context of landscapes designed by Canadian landscape architects This edited collection draws on contemporary works to theorize a distinct approach practiced by Canadian landscape architects from across the country The essays authored by Canadian scholars and practitioners some of whom are Indigenous or have worked closely with Indigenous communities are united by the argument that Canadian landscape architecture is intrinsically linked to the innate qualities of the surrounding terrain Beautifully illustrated Innate Terrain aims to capture distinct regional qualities that are rooted in the broader context of the Canadian landscape

Play Among Books Miro Roman, Alice_ch3n81, 2021-12-06 How does coding change the way we think about architecture This question opens up an important research perspective In this book Miro Roman and his AI Alice_ch3n81 develop a playful scenario in which they propose coding as the new literacy of information They convey knowledge in the form of a project model that links the fields of architecture and information through two interwoven narrative strands in an infinite flow of real books Focusing on the intersection of information technology and architectural formulation the authors create an evolving intellectual reflection on digital architecture and computer science

The Interiors Theory Primer William Mangold, 2025-07-31 In a world where life is increasingly defined by the spaces we inhabit understanding interiors is essential to understanding ourselves The Interiors Theory Primer maps the intellectual terrain of interior design and spatial experience introducing readers to key concepts that shape how people occupy interior spaces Organized into three parts this book begins with foundational concerns such as place identity materiality and atmosphere and then examines the boundaries and expertise of the discipline before turning to critical and emerging topics like biophilia, virtuality and social justice. Each chapter presents a focused literature review of a major theme in interiors theory supported by key design precedents and suggestions for further reading. Drawing on a wide range of scholarship, The Interiors Theory Primer offers a coherent framework for understanding interiors as a distinct interdisciplinary field deeply embedded in the human condition. Accessible to students, useful to professionals and provocative for scholars, The Interiors Theory Primer argues that the designed environments in which we live, work and gather deserve greater attention not only for their aesthetic and functional qualities but also for their powerful role in shaping contemporary life. The Routledge

Companion to Contemporary Architectural History Duanfang Lu, 2023-07-31 The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Architectural History offers a comprehensive and up to date knowledge report on recent developments in architectural production and research. Divided into three parts: Practices, Interrogations and Innovations, this book charts diversity, criticality and creativity in architectural interventions to meet challenges and enact changes in different parts of the world through featured exemplars and fresh theoretical orientations. The collection features 29 chapters written by leading architectural scholars and highlights the reciprocity between the historical and the contemporary research and practice and disciplinary and professional knowledge. Providing an essential map for navigating the complex currents of contemporary architecture, the Companion will interest students, academics and practitioners who wish to bolster their understanding of built environments. The Legend of Gladee's Canteen David Mossman, 2019-03-21

A history of the family owned Nova Scotia beach canteen and two sisters determined to show their father that women can also be successful. Everyone remembers the famous food at Gladee's Canteen, especially Gladee's fish and chips and her coconut cream pie. Calvin Trillin, Gladee's Canteen several times voted as one of the ten best restaurants in Canada, was a special example of co-operative and communal spirit. At the centre of the operation were Gladee and her sister Flossie, supported by the extended Hirtle family. They offered a warm welcome and a memorable menu in a setting bravely open to the forces of nature. The Legend of Gladee's Canteen tells the story of a popular Nova Scotia beach and a pioneer family who, against the odds, constructed a simple canteen at Hirtle's Beach in 1951 and ran it for forty years. The book draws on the author's family associations, personal memory and the outlying stockpile of collective recollections, a tapestry of events woven through the evolutionary fabric of a small, relatively isolated Maritime coastal community. The era of Gladee's Canteen is a remarkable story that takes place in a small coastal Nova Scotia community blessed with a spectacularly dynamic living beach. In its time, the Hirtle family and its sparkling enterprise thrived in spite of relative isolation, uncertain funding and domestic demons. As a Nova Scotia epic, the success story of Gladee's Canteen mirrors the recent history of Hirtle's Beach, exemplifying the twists and turns locked up in legend. A Maritime tale of family success and love, history lovers should be sure to pick this one up off the shelves. Atlantic Books Energy Accounts Dan Willis, William Braham, Katsuhiko Muramoto, Daniel Barber, 2016-06-23 How does one tell the story of energy production use or conservation in a manner sufficiently convincing to influence policy behavior and design Energy Accounts explores potential answers to this question through compelling images data visualizations narratives and other examples of accounting for energy Organized into a collection containing both examples of best practices and critiques this impressive array of projects and contributors combines text and graphic material to explore different representations of energy data Including work from Kieran Timberlake SHoP AMO Lateral Office WOH and many more the book boasts a unique graphic design which supports and enhances its role as a valuable resource for professionals and students in architecture engineering and urban design

"Craft, Community and the Material Culture of Place and Politics, 19th-20th Century" Janice Helland, 2017-07-05 Craft practice has a rich history and remains vibrant sustaining communities while negotiating cultures within local or international contexts More than two centuries of industrialization have not extinguished handmade goods rather the broader force of industrialization has redefined and continues to define the context of creation deployment and use of craft objects With object study at the core this book brings together a collection of essays that address the past and present of craft production its use and meaning within a range of community settings from the Huron Wendat of colonial Quebec to the Girls Friendly Society of twentieth century England The making of handcrafted objects has and continues to flourish despite the powerful juggernaut of global industrialization whether inspired by a calculated refutation of industrial sameness an essential means to sustain a cultural community under threat or a rejection of the imposed definitions by a dominant culture The broader effects of urbanizing imperial and globalizing projects shape the multiple contexts of interaction and resistance that can define craft ventures through place and time By attending to the political histories of craft objects and their makers over the last few centuries these essays reveal the creative persistence of various hand mediums and the material debates they represented

Social Justice in Action Neal A. Lester, 2024-11-08 Addressing both veterans of justice work and novices seeking points of entry the essays in this volume showcase practical approaches to diversity equity and inclusion ways to build community earn trust tell unheard stories and develop solutions to problems Emphasizing values such as empathy self reflection and integrity the volume is rooted in humanities work but also features contributions from fields as diverse as the performing arts architecture and evolutionary biology and represents settings beyond the college campus such as schools libraries museums and prisons While bringing insights from higher education it critiques the system as well exploring the ways that institutions reinforce power structures and exclude marginalized voices Interspersed with the essays brief reflections by activists and artists offer testimony and inspiration

Design in the Borderlands Eleni Kalantidou, Tony Fry, 2014-05-09 This book makes a significant contribution to advancing post geographic understandings of physical and virtual boundaries It brings together the emergent theory of border thinking with innovative thinking on design and explores the recent discourse on decoloniality and globalism From a variety of viewpoints the topics engaged show how design was historically embedded in the structures of colonial imposition and how it is implicated in more contemporary settings in the extension of epistemological colonialism The essays draw on perspectives from diverse geo cultural and theoretical positions including architecture design theory and history sociology critical theory and cultural studies The authors are leading and emergent figures in their fields of study and practice and the geographic scope of the chapters ranges across Europe the Middle East Africa South America Asia and the Pacific In recognition of the complexity of challenges that are now determining the future security of humanity Design in the Borderlands aims to contribute to thinking futures by adding to the increasingly significant debate between design in the context of the history of Western modernity and decolonial thought

Design for Resilient Communities Anna Rubbo, Juan Du, Mette Ramsgaard Thomsen, Martin Tamke, 2023-09-19 The book provides new perspectives from leading researchers accentuating and examining the central role of the built environment in conceiving and implementing multifaceted solutions for the complex challenges of creating resilient communities revealing critical potentials for architecture and design to contribute in more informed and long term ways to the urgent transition of our society The volume offers a compilation of peer reviewed papers that uniquely connects knowledge and criticality broadly across practice and academia from new technologies theories and methods to community engaged practice on many scales and more The book is part of a series of six volumes that explore the agency of the built environment in relation to the SDGs through new research conducted by leading researchers The series is led by editors Mette Ramsgaard Thomsen and Martin Tamke in collaboration with the theme editors Design for Climate Adaptation Billie Faircloth and Maibritt Pedersen Zari Design for Rethinking Resources Carlo Ratti and Mette Ramsgaard Thomsen Eds Design for Resilient Communities Anna Rubbo and Juan Du Eds Design for Health Arif Hasan and Christian Benimana Eds Design for Inclusivity Magda Mostafa and Ruth Baumeister Eds Design for Partnerships for Change Sandi Hilal and Merve Bedir Eds
