Bridging Language Boundaries - Explorations in Communication across Borders Thomas Tinnefeld, 2023-09-26 In an increasingly interconnected world where distances dwindle and cultures interweave the role of communication gains renewed significance Language our primary form of expression and comprehension acts both as a border and a bridge for ideas knowledge and experiences Amidst this complex linguistic interplay this volume finds its purpose Chapters herein delve into communication surpassing geographic and linguistic boundaries As language professionals educators and researchers we navigate the challenges of this landscape where languages blend and merge These chapters analyse and inspire queries that arise whenever linguistic borders are crossed From exploring the functions of intercomprehension to examining the impact of digital tools on borderless language education each chapter reveals a facet of the theme Topics span language methodologies language acquisition linguistic landscapes and the growing importance of technology in teaching to name but a few Readers are invited to join us in exploring how communication shapes and is shaped by diverse linguistic environments Together we illuminate the threads that determine global interaction delivering insight into the functioning of language in our interconnected world

2012 GCSE English results Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Education Committee, 2013-06-11 The 2012 GCSE English results prompted significant controversy which ultimately resulted in an application for judicial review This report sets out the background to these events and identifies lessons to be learned The problems with GCSE English can be traced back to the 2007 09 development phase of the qualification in particular the turbulence which resulted from the shift away from a mostly linear to a modular system combined with a high proportion of controlled assessment and generous marking tolerances Exam board experts raised concerns at the time but these were not acted upon by the regulator the then interim Ofqual Further difficulties arose because of pressures from the school accountability system The problems experienced with GCSE English in 2012 highlighted serious weaknesses in the moderation of speaking and listening with consequences for grade awarding The current status of Ofqual as an independent regulator accountable to Parliament is the right one However the Coalition Government is bringing in wholesale changes to GCSEs and A levels to a tight timetable and at the same time Ofqual must have systems in place The Committee is also concerned that there is a rush towards separate exam systems for England Wales and Northern Ireland without careful reflection on what might be lost or consensus that this is the right thing to do

Disrupting Boundaries in Education and Research Suzanne Smythe, Cher Hill, 2017-08-17 This book explores concepts that engage new materiality theories to transform and enliven transdisciplinary educational research and practice

Handbook of Research on Teaching the English Language Arts Douglas Fisher, Diane Lapp, 2017-11-06 Now in its fourth edition the Handbook of Research on Teaching the English Language Arts sponsored by the International Literacy Association and the National Council of Teachers of English remains at the forefront in bringing together prominent scholars researchers and professional leaders to offer an integrated perspective on teaching the English language arts and a comprehensive overview of research in the field. Reflecting important developments since the publication of the third edition in 2010, this new edition is streamlined and completely restructured around big ideas in the field related to theoretical and research foundations, learners in context, and new literacies. A Companion Website extends and enhances the Handbook with a wealth of additional resources. The Handbook of Research on Teaching the English Language Arts, Fourth Edition, addresses all of the language arts within a holistic perspective: speaking, listening, language, writing, reading. It is well grounded and balanced in theory and research while promoting validated practice. Features authors who are known for their expertise and who represent diversity in culture, years in the profession, and geographic location. Gives attention to special populations and instructional contexts. Includes new media literacies. Has the authority of a research handbook while remaining practical for students in masters and doctoral classes.

Languages, Identities and Intercultural Communication in South Africa and Beyond Russell H

Kaschula, 2021-08-23 African countries and South Africa in particular being multilingual and multicultural societies make for exciting sociolinguistic and applied language analysis in order to tease out the complex relationship between language and identity. This book applies sociolinguistic theory as well as critical language awareness and translanguageing with its many facets to various communicative scenarios both on the continent and in South Africa in an accessible and practical way. Africa lends itself to such sociolinguistic analysis concerning language identity and intercultural communication. This book reflects consciously on the North-South debate and the need for us to create our own ways of interpretation emanating from the South and speaking back to the North and on issues that pertain to the South including southern Africa. Aspects such as language and power, language planning, policy and implementation, culture, prejudice, social interaction, translanguageing, intercultural communication, education, gender, and autoethnography are covered. This is a valuable resource for students studying African sociolinguistics, language and identity, and applied language studies. Anyone interested in the relationship between language and society on the African continent would also find the book easily accessible.

Examining Young Learners: Research and Practice in Assessing the English of School-age Learners Szilvia Papp, Shelagh Rixon, 2018

The proposed book on child second language (L2) development and assessment will be a state-of-the-art account of what we currently know about how children learn L2s in formal contexts and how that knowledge impacts on the design, development, and evaluation of language assessment products for young learners. The uniqueness of child L2 development within the classroom is highlighted by considering children's L2 needs, typical patterns of development, and the role of instruction and assessment in how children learn. Common issues shared in child L2 acquisition studies, language testing, and educational assessment are explored by linking research carried out within the educational, academic, and testing communities. Several case studies are described from different educational contexts around the world where teaching and assessment of young language learners takes place. In particular, the book presents the Cambridge English approach to assessing young learners.

of English and presents a framework for the development research and validation activities around the Cambridge English suite battery for children Crossing Boundaries in Researching, Understanding, and Improving Language Education Dongbo Zhang, Ryan T. Transformative Translanguaging Espacios Maite T. Sánchez,Ofelia García,2021-11-15 This book contributes to the understanding of the transformative power of incorporating translanguaging the dynamic language practices of bi multilingual communities in the schooling of US Latinx children and youth It showcases instructional spaces in US education where Latinx children s and youths translanguaging is at the center of their teaching and learning By centering racialized Latinx bilingual students including their knowledge systems and cultural and linguistic practices it transforms the monolingual white supremacy ideology of many educational spaces In so doing racialized bilingual Latinx subjectivities are potentially transformed as students learn to understand processes of colonization and domination that have robbed them of opportunities to use their entire semiotic repertoire in learning The book makes a strong theoretical contribution to the field putting decolonial post structuralist understandings of language and bilingualism alongside critical race theory and critical pedagogy Academics Engaging with Student Writing Jackie Tuck, 2017-07-14 Student writing has long been viewed as a problem in higher education in the UK Moreover the sector has consistently performed poorly in the National Student Survey with regard to assessment and feedback Academics Engaging with Student Writing tackles these major issues from a new and unique angle exploring the real life experiences of academic teachers from different institutions as they set support read respond to and assess assignments undertaken by undergraduate students Incorporating evidence from post 1992 universities Oxbridge members of the Russell Group and others this book examines working practices around student writing within the context of an increasingly market oriented mass higher education system Presenting a wealth of relevant examples from disciplines as diverse as History and Sports Science Tuck makes extensive use of interviews observations texts and audio recordings in order to explore the perspectives of academic teachers who work with student writers and their texts This book will be of interest to researchers academics and postgraduate students in the fields of academic literacies higher education language and literacy language in higher education English for academic purposes and assessment Furthermore academic teachers with experience of this crucial aspect of academic labour will welcome Tuck s pioneering work as an indispensable tool for making sense of their own engagement with student writers Global Meaning Making Lori Czop Assaf, Patience Sowa, Katina Zammit, 2022-08-23 Global Meaning Making disrupts and interrogates the contradictions and tensions in language and literacy global scholarship reimagining global approaches that respect the histories ways of knowing needs hopes and values of voices beyond the western including those from the Global South Relanguaging Language from a South African Township School Lara-Stephanie Krause-Alzaidi, 2021-12-20 Using data from a long term ethnographic study of English language classrooms in a South African township this book highlights linguistic expertise in a setting where it is not usually expected or sought Rather than being peripheral and unskilled South African township teachers and learners emerge as skilled re languagers central to the workings of South African education and to our understanding of how language classrooms work This book foregrounds the heterogeneity flexibility and creativity of day to day language practices that African urban spaces are known for and conceptualises language teaching not as a progression from one fixed language to another but as a circular sorting process between linguistic heterogeneity languaging and homogeneity a standard language The Complexity of Identity and Interaction in Language Education Nathanael Rudolph, Ali Fuad Selvi, Bedrettin Yazan, 2020-08-07 This book addresses two critical calls pertaining to language education Firstly for attention to be paid to the transdisciplinary nature and complexity of learner identity and interaction in the classroom and secondly for the need to attend to conceptualizations of and approaches to manifestations of inequity in the sociohistorical contexts in which they occur Collectively the chapters envision classrooms and educational institutions as sites both shaping and shaped by larger trans communal negotiations of being and belonging in which individuals affirm and or problematize essentialized and idealized nativeness and community membership The volume comprised of chapters contributed by a diverse array of researcher practitioners living working and or studying around the globe is intended to inform empower and inspire stakeholders in language education to explore potentially reimagine and ultimately critically and practically transform the communities in which they live work and or study
