

Televisions

Televisions broadcast both sounds and images. They obtain data via discs, wires, or wireless signals. They create noises and visuals using this data. They are used by people to watch television. Probably what you call TVs. In 1925, John Baird created the first TV. It was only one color. It could show a maximum of 30 lines only. There was barely enough space for a face here. Although it wasn't effective, it was a beginning. In 1928, the first TV station was established. It occurred in New York. TVs were not widely used. The broadcasts weren't intended for viewing. Two hours a day were spent displaying a Felix the Cat doll. On a record player, the doll rotated. They were testing things out. To get it properly, many years were needed. By the 1930s' end, TVs were in good working order.

Adolescent Literacy and Writing Courtney Brown,2020-08-17 Writing is a powerful communication tool It affords the opportunity for creative expression and the analysis of comprehensive thought This monograph describes the authentic writing experiences of three African American adolescent members of an after school writing club situated in a boarding school Without the constraints imposed by deadlines rubrics grading teacher feedback or test centered argumentative compositions members of the club participated in eleven writing sessions where they co constructed meaningful dialogue wrote original manuscripts and developed a supportive social community The sociocultural context of these adolescents experiences with writing presents themes of choice collaboration creativity and catharsis told in a series of dynamic narratives Handbook of Literacy in Families and Communities Patricia A. Edwards,Catherine Compton-Lilly,Guofang Li,2025-06-09 This cutting edge Handbook explores the interactive and intergenerational nature of literacy across diverse environments supporting disadvantaged families through tailored programs It provides an extensive exploration of family literacy addressing early childhood literacy development parenting education and intervention services The Idea and Practice of Reading R. Joseph Ponniah,Sathyaraj Venkatesan,2018-05-08 This book addresses basic issues in language education and explores how reading with a focus on meaning contributes to the development of all aspects of language including vocabulary spelling grammar and syntax It departs from traditional methods and practices in language learning to investigate the potency of reading in improving language acquisition The traditional practice in language classes to teach language skills explicitly through acquiring forms and structures of language is often less than successful and teachers are gradually incorporating reading materials and practices into the curriculum This book provides important inputs to language teachers and educators on the need to include reading as an idea and as a practice into the curriculum Among other things it explores the benefits of incidental learning of language properties such as vocabulary syntax and grammar and gives adequate exposure to different types of reading strategies to promote reading among learners It also exploits the possible transfer of L1 reading strategies and capabilities to L2 reading for language acquisition In so doing this book hopes to promote autonomous learning among L2 learners and guide readers in alternative strategies to solve comprehension problems
