STEM, Social Mobility and Equality Kate Hoskins, Bernard Barker, 2020-07-25 This book examines the role of the family in intra and inter generational social movement. The authors take a genealogical approach to researching social mobility using a university chemistry department as a case study to explore participants' motives for pursuing a STEM undergraduate degree and the influences that have shaped them. Assessing the roles of genealogy, family and higher education in shaping their aspirations and careers, the authors examine the contributions of these variables to the students' aspirations. With a wealth of empirically rich qualitative data, the authors identify areas where work is required to achieve greater equality of access to high performing chemistry departments and enhance career outcomes which could be applied more widely. This book will appeal to scholars of educational inequalities and widening access, particularly in terms of STEM education.

The 21st Century Mathematics Education in China Yiming Cao, Frederick K.S. Leung, 2017-10-11 This book intends to provide a comprehensive introduction to the status of development of Chinese mathematics education in the 21st century. To this end, the book summarizes and presents the research and practices of Chinese mathematics education in the following aspects: 1. characteristics of Chinese school mathematics curriculum and textbooks; 2. Chinese ways and strategies of teaching mathematics and the characteristics of mathematics classroom instruction in China; 3. Chinese instructional practices in developing both gifted and underachieving students' mathematical capabilities; 4. how professional development of mathematics teachers is promoted in China, including mathematics teachers' pre-service and in-service education and how Chinese mathematics teachers design and implement teaching and research activities; and 5. how mathematics education is assessed and evaluated, including how to evaluate teachers' teaching and students' achievements. Relevant research in Chinese mathematics education involving methods of surveys, interviews, text analysis, etc. are reviewed and analyzed. Results of a number of video studies of Chinese mathematics classroom teaching and learning are also integrated into this book.
