Natural Perception Alice Palmer, 2023-09-14 Images of nature abound in the practice of international environmental law but their significance in law is unclear Drawing on visual jurisprudence and interpretative methods for visual art this book analyses photographs for their representations of nature's aesthetic value in treaty processes that concern world heritage whales and biodiversity It argues that visual images should be embraced in the prosaic practice of international law particularly for treaties that demand judgements of nature's aesthetic value This environmental value is in practice conflated with natural beauty ethical and cultural values and displaced by economic and scientific values Interpretations of visual images can serve instead to critique and conceive sensory imaginative and emotional appreciations of nature from different cultural perspectives as proposed by philosophers of environmental aesthetics Addressing questions of value and the visual this landmark book shows how images can be engaged by nations to better protect the environment under international law

The Ecosystem Approach David Waltner-Toews, James J. Kay, Nina-Marie E. Lister, 2008 Is sustainable development a workable solution for today's environmental problems Is it scientifically defensible Best known for applying ecological theory to the engineering problems of everyday life the late scholar James J Kay was a leader in the study of social and ecological complexity and the thermodynamics of ecosystems Drawing from his immensely important work as well as the research of his students and colleagues The Ecosystem Approach is a guide to the aspects of complex systems theories relevant to social ecological management Advancing a methodology that is rooted in good theory and practice this book features case studies conducted in the Arctic and Africa in Canada and Kathmandu and in the Peruvian Amazon Chesapeake Bay and Chennai India Applying a systems approach to concrete environmental issues this volume is geared toward scientists engineers and sustainable development scholars and practitioners who are attuned to the ideas of the Resilience Alliance an international group of scientists who take a more holistic view of ecology and environmental problem solving Chapters cover the origins and rebirth of the ecosystem approach in ecology the bridging of science and values the challenge of governance in complex systems systemic and participatory approaches to management and the place for cultural diversity in the quest for global sustainability

Ecolinguistics Arran Stibbe, 2015-05-01 The increasingly rapid destruction of the ecological systems that support life is calling into question some of the fundamental stories that we live by stories of unlimited economic growth of consumerism progress individualism success and the human domination of nature Ecolinguistics shows how linguistic analysis can help reveal the stories we live by open them up to question and contribute to the search for new stories Bringing together the latest ecolinguistic studies with new theoretical insights and practical analyses this book charts a new course for ecolinguistics as an engaged form of critical enquiry Featuring A framework for understanding the theory of ecolinguistics and applying it practically in real life Exploration of diverse topics from consumerism in lifestyle magazines to Japanese nature haiku A comprehensive glossary giving concise descriptions of the linguistic terms used in the book Discourse analysis of a wide range of texts including newspapers magazines advertisements films nonfiction books and visual images This is essential reading for undergraduates postgraduates and researchers working in the areas of Discourse Analysis and Language and Ecology

Cents and Sustainability Michael H. Smith, Karlson 'Charlie' Hargroves, Cheryl Desha, 2010-09-23 Cents and Sustainability is a clear sighted response to the 1987 call by Dr Gro Brundtland in Our Common Future to achieve a new era of economic growth that is forceful and at the same time socially and environmentally sustainable The Brundtland Report argued that not only was it achievable but that it was an urgent imperative in order to achieve a transition to sustainable development while significantly reducing poverty and driving clean and green investment With some still arguing for significantly slowing economic growth in order to reduce pressures on the environment this new book Cents and Sustainability shows that it is possible to reconcile the need for economic growth and environmental sustainability through a strategy to decouple economic growth from environmental pressures combined with a renewed commitment to achieve significant environmental restoration and poverty reduction Beginning with a brief overview of some of the most pressing environmental challenges of our time the book then explains decoupling theory overviews a number of factors that can undermine and even block efforts to decouple in both developed and developing countries and then discusses a number of key considerations to assist the development of national decoupling strategies The book then focuses on presenting evidence to support greater action not just on climate change but also on decoupling economic growth from the loss of biodiversity and the deterioration of natural systems freshwater extraction waste production and air pollution In the lead up to the 2012 United Nations Earth Summit and beyond Cents and Sustainability will be a crucial guide to inform and assist nations to develop strategies to significantly reduce environmental pressures strengthen their economy create jobs and reduce poverty I commend the team from The Natural Edge Project and their partners for undertaking to develop a response to Our Common Future to mark its 20th anniversary Dr Gro Brundtland Sequel to The Natural Advantage of Nations Published with The Natural Edge Project Restoring Natural Capital James Aronson, Suzanne J. Milton, James N. Blignaut, 2012-09-26 How can environmental degradation be stopped How can it be reversed And how can the damage already done be repaired The authors of this volume argue that a two pronged approach is needed reducing demand for ecosystem goods and services and better management of them coupled with an increase in supply through environmental restoration Restoring Natural Capital brings together economists and ecologists theoreticians practitioners policy makers and scientists from the developed and developing worlds to consider the costs and benefits of repairing ecosystem goods and services in natural and socioecological systems It examines the business and practice of restoring natural capital and seeks to establish common ground between economists and ecologists with respect to the restoration of degraded ecosystems and landscapes and the still broader task of restoring natural capital The book focuses on developing strategies that can achieve the best outcomes in the shortest amount of time as it considers conceptual and theoretical issues from both an economic and ecological perspective examines specific strategies to foster the restoration of natural capital and offers a synthesis and a vision of the way forward Nineteen case studies from around the world illustrate challenges and achievements in setting targets refining approaches to finding and implementing restoration projects and using restoration of natural capital as an economic opportunity Throughout contributors make the case that the restoration of natural capital requires close collaboration among scientists from across disciplines as well as local people and when successfully executed represents a practical realistic and essential tool for achieving lasting sustainable development Beyond the Biophysical Laura German, Joshua J. Ramisch, Ritu Verma, 2010-06-10 Beyond the Biophysical provides a broad overview of agriculture and natural resource management NRM scholarship and practice that lies beyond the biophysical emphasizing instead epistemological cultural and political foundations of NRM The volume is oriented toward professionals with expertise in agriculture and natural resource management scholarship and practice but who lack exposure to the conceptual and methodological underpinnings of critical theory the anthropology of development ecological anthropology and other relevant scholarship It therefore follows common standards of academic rigour but minimizes the use of jargon integrates detailed case studies with conceptual syntheses and attempts to move from critique to concrete recommendations for scholarship and practice The volume seeks to foster a more nuanced and responsible engagement with local communities and the natural world among NRM scholars and practitioners

The Greening of European Business under EU Law Beate Sjøfjell, Anja Wiesbrock, 2014-11-13 The relationship between environmentally sustainable development and company and business law has emerged in recent years as a matter of major concern for many scholars policy makers businesses and nongovernmental organisations This book offers a conceptual analysis of the principles of sustainable development and environmental integration in the EU legal system It particularly focuses on Article 11 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union TFEU which states that EU activities must integrate environmental protection requirements and emphasise the promotion of sustainable development The book gives an overview of the role played by the environmental integration principle in EU law both at the level of European legislation and at the level of Member State practice Contributors to the volume identify and analyse the main legal issues related to the importance of Article 11 TFEU in various policy areas of EU law affecting European businesses such as company law insurance and state aid In drawing together these strands the book sets out the requirements of environmental integration and examines its impact on the regulation of business in the EU The book will be of great use and interest to students and researchers of business law environment law and EU law

Climate Change and Human Development Hannah Reid, 2014-07-10 Whilst the world's poor are clearly hit hardest by climate change impacts so too do they hold many of the solutions for how best to cope with its impacts and at times reduce greenhouse gas emissions to zero In this wide ranging book Hannah Reid offers a rich compendium of real life scenarios and brings home the realities of how poor people are suffering from and coping with climate change impacts today Drawing on case studies gathered by the UP in Smoke group a powerful coalition of global environment and development organizations including Greenpeace Oxfam Practical Action and the WWF this book provides new models for human development in a climate change constrained future as well as positive solutions to tackling climate change at the macro level with proposals from luminaries such as Professors Wangari Maathai Manfred Max Neef and Jayati Ghosh

Green Carbon Part 1 Brendan Mackey, Heather Keith, Sandra L. Berry, David B. Lindenmayer, 2008-08-01 The colour of carbon matters Green carbon is the carbon stored in the plants and soil of natural ecosystems and is a vital part of the global carbon cycle This report is the first in a series that examines the role of natural forests in the storage of carbon the impacts of human land use activities and the implications for climate change policy nationally and internationally REDD reducing emissions from deforestation and degradation is now part of the agenda for the Bali Action Plan being debated in the lead up to the Copenhagen climate change conference in 2009 Currently international rules are blind to the colour of carbon so that the green carbon in natural forests is not recognized resulting in perverse outcomes including ongoing deforestation and forest degradation and the conversion of extensive areas of land to industrial plantations This report examines REDD policy from a green carbon scientific perspective Subsequent reports will focus on issues concerning the carbon sequestration potential of commercially logged natural forests methods for monitoring REDD and the long term implications of forest policy and management for the global carbon cycle and climate change The Blue Economy Somnath Hazra, Anindya Bhukta, 2022-10-13 This volume defines and analyzes the Blue Economy a system that encompasses all the economic activities which are happening in and around the ocean within a sustainable development framework with focus on countries in Asia This work is timely as Blue Economy activities account for a significant share of GDPs in the island and coastal economies in the Asia region sustaining the livelihoods of one of the largest sections of the world's population This book therefore assesses how the Blue Economy contributes to these livelihoods from economic and ecological perspectives and analyzes the various types of ecosystem services provided and how these services are regulated and maintained While most studies of the Blue Economy focus only on the economic aspects this book provides ample statistical data to demonstrate why ecosystem services should additionally be considered for the estimation and valuation of the Blue economy The book is primarily meant for researchers students and teachers in the fields of environmental and ocean economics sustainable development and ecosystem services and will be of further interest to policymakers and government officials working in matters related to the Blue Economy and sustainability policy

Ecology, Economy and Society Vikram Dayal, Anantha Duraiappah, Nandan Nawn, 2018-07-30 This book deals with not just complex linkages interactions and exchanges that form the relationship between the economic activities human society and the ecosystems but also the influences and impacts that each causes on the other In recent times this ecology economy society interface has received unprecedented attention within the broader environment development discourse The volume is in honour of Kanchan Chopra one of the pioneers of research in these areas in India She has recently been awarded the coveted Kenneth Boulding Award by the International Society for Ecological Economics ISEE and is the first Asian to receive it The four sub themes of the book reflect some of the important areas in the environment development discourse sustainability of development institutions and environmental governance environment and well being and ecosystem and conservation Within each of the sub themes the policy and the practice as well as the macro and micro aspects are addressed With contributions mainly from ecological economists and ecologists the book's approach is interdisciplinary both in spirit and content reflecting the honoree's work which went not just beyond the mainstream ideology of economics but also the way she listened to ideas from disciplines like ecology and sociology The volume also includes two reflective essays on academic life and works of Kanchan Chopra The book is a valuable resource for students teachers researchers practitioners and policy makers in the areas of development economics ecological economics environmental economics and related disciplines such as conservation development ecology economics environment governance health sociology and public policy

TERI Energy Data Directory (TEDDY) 2009 Teri, 2009-01-01 Fair and Equitable Benefit-sharing in International Law Elisa Morgera, 2024-05-09 Fair and equitable benefit sharing is a diffuse legal phenomenon in international law The continued proliferation of benefit sharing clauses can be explained by their appeal as an optimistic frame in addressing sustainability and equity concerns related to bio based innovation the use of natural resources environmental protection and knowledge creation In principle fair and equitable benefit sharing serves to recognize encourage and incentivise sustainable human relationships with the environment by focusing on equity issues arising from the most intractable challenges of our time such as loss of biodiversity climate change poverty and global epidemics Empirical evidence however indicates that in practice benefit sharing rarely achieves its fairness and equity objectives and ends up entrenching or worsening inequitable relationships with little to no benefit for the environment Instead of focusing on fair and equitable benefit sharing in sub specialist areas of international law in isolation Elisa Morgera assesses the phenomenon from a general international law perspective and through comparison across international environmental law international human rights law international health law and the law of the sea Strengthened by insights from local level case studies in different regions and sectors this book looks toward overcoming the limitations inherent in individual international regimes and addressing the shortcomings in benefit sharing implementation Morgera s topical and comprehensive analysis reveals opportunities to advance fairness and equity in benefit sharing through a mutually supportive interpretation of international biodiversity law and international human rights law as well as opportunities to contribute to future research in areas such as international health law international law on outer space and international economic law This is an open access title It is made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4 0 International licence It is available to read and download as a PDF version on the Oxford Academic platform TERI Energy Data Directory and Yearbook \(TEDDY\) 2005-06 Teri,TERI Project Team,2006-01-01
