Vincent,2024-11-26 Why Would You Launch a Product The Ultimate List Therefore what does every online guru advise you to do if you want to expand your internet marketing business Distribute lead magnets to freebie hunters Create your list Distribute affiliate products to them Execute commissions We've all heard that haven't we And you know what else That strategy was successful In 2012 The issue is that it is no longer functional Nowadays freebie hunters maintain secondary junk email accounts that they use solely for the purpose of gathering lead magnets and never check into Your emails are being delivered to inboxes where they will remain unopened adrift in a sea of thousands of other commercial emails This combined with the fact that many people utilize bogus email addresses has resulted in extremely poor email open rates across the sector Not only will a list of freebie hunters almost never open your emails but the few who do will almost never make a purchase Why Because they are bargain hunters Thus what are successful online marketers doing differently They are each compiling a super list A super list a term coined by the great Alex Jeffreys is a list of genuine people with real email addresses that they actually check who regularly use their credit cards to make online purchases That is it is a buyer's list The distinction between a buyer's list and a freebie seeker list is as stark as night and day One earns you money while the other enrages you Therefore how do you obtain a buyer's list Easy You create a product and recruit affiliates to drive traffic to it Then you just combine your payment platform with your autoresponder service and buyers are instantly added as subscribers Do not be concerned It's not as outlandish as it seems and more importantly it's the only way to advance in internet marketing
