This is important because...

The Grand Canyon

The Grand Canyon is an easily accessible natural wonder that can be seen from many miles away in southern Arizona. Located in northern Arizona, it is made up of many layers of compacted rocks. The Grand Canyon is a protected natural park. People from all over the world come to see it.

The Colorado River formed the Grand Canyon

If you look closely at the stacked layers of the Grand Canyon, you will notice the appearance of stripes. These stripes formed because various layers of sediment built upon one another again and again as the Grand Canyon developed. These different layers made stripes. They are each unique and can give us an observation of how Earth has changed over time; the oldest layers of all are located at the bottom.

The first people to live in and near the Grand Canyon were the Native Americans. To this day, some of their homes there, as you can see, are still there. These tribes are the Hopi, Zuni, Navajo, and Pueblo. What would it be like to live in the Grand Canyon? The first known explorers to document the trip were Spanish explorers in 1540. It has been popular ever since.

Fifth Grade Non Fiction Unit:

Nonfiction Craft Lessons JoAnn Portalupi, Ralph Fletcher, 2023-10-10 Writing nonfiction represents a big step for most students yet when they try to create a report or persuasive essay they are often anxious and frustrated JoAnn Portalupi and Ralph Fletcher created Nonfiction Craft Lessons Teaching Information Writing K 8 to help teachers bring the passion from student writing while helping students scaffold their ideas in this challenging genre The authors divided this book into grade specific sections for K 2 3 4 and middle school grades 5 8 students These divisions reflect various differences between emerging competent and fluent writers In each section you ll find a generous collection of craft lessons directed at the genre that s most appropriate for that particular age In the K 2 section for example a number of craft lessons focus on the all about or concept book In the 3 4 section there are several lessons on biography In the 5 8 section a series of lessons addresses expository writing Throughout the book each of the 80 lessons is presented on a single page in an easy to read format Every lesson features three teaching guidelines Discussion A brief look at the reasons for teaching the particular element of craft specifically in a nonfiction context How to Teach It Concrete language showing exactly how a teacher might bring this craft element to students in writing conferences or a small group setting Resource Material Specific book or text referred to in the craft lesson including trade books or a piece of student writing in the Appendixes This book will help students breathe voice into lifeless dump truck writing and improve their nonfiction writing by making it clearer more authoritative and more organized Nonfiction Craft Lessons gives teachers a wealth of practical strategies to help students grow into strong writers as they explore and explain the world around them

Fundamentals of Gifted Education Carolyn M. Callahan, Holly L. Hertberg-Davis, 2013 The field of gifted education is characterized by a confusing array of perspectives concerning such fundamental issues as definition philosophy curriculum social and emotional development and underserved populations The mission of this book is to provide a coherent framework that instructors and service providers can use in planning effective programs providing appropriate counseling services and evaluating programs for the gifted Most sections are organized around fundamental issues confronting the field and follow a common structure an introductory chapter that provides historical and theoretical background and organizing questions followed by several point of view chapters written by experts that provide varied perspectives on the topic at hand Distinguishing Features Comprehensive Coverage The book s forty five manageable length chapters cover the full range of topics that must be considered in planning programs and services for gifted students both within and outside of school Coherent Structure Section introductions provide background information and organizing questions to guide chapter authors who provide varying views of the issue at hand The emphasis is not on the right way or the wrong way except when clearly documented bad practice is discussed but on how best practice stems from well informed and logical decision making Decision Making Focus The book s introductory chapter addresses the need for a clearly developed and consistently applied set of values to guide decision making Likewise each section introduction includes a decision making framework regarding some aspect of educating counseling or parenting gifted students This book is appropriate for introductory level courses in gifted education or courses in program development and planning It is also suitable for school personnel responsible for making program planning decisions in the area of gifted education and for academic libraries with holdings in this area
