File A Runaway Report:

Blink Samuel E. Stone, 2001-04-18 Blink examines the life of a cop from his early adolescent years through his career in Law Enforcement. The action is non stop for the main character Sam. Experiencing the pain of death and suffering surrounding him as a teenager causes him to mature at an early age in order to face his own struggle for survival. This is a story of the trauma, the pleasures and the experiences which shape the emotional and mental essences of a man. It will take the reader across the tracks to the dark side of the world where crime is a way of life as you follow Sam from one case to another. The story spans thirty years in time. It will present the reader with a deeper understanding of Law Enforcement and the cops working their own neighborhood. Cops are people too just like anyone else. Some are good and some are bad. Some are energetic and some are lazy. Some are honest and some are not. They make mistakes and rarely have all the answers. Each situation they become involved in is unique and requires a judgement call. There never is a right answer but usually one that works for the time. Each event centers around action and reaction sometimes resulting in fatal solutions. This story is designed to be entertaining as well as informative. It will leave the reader with a new perspective the next time he sees a police car racing down his streets with the lights and siren blazing. Retarders for Heavy Vehicles: Technical report, 1981

Final Report of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada, Volume One: Summary Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada, 2015-07-22 This is the Final Report of Canada's Truth and Reconciliation Commission and its six year investigation of the residential school system for Aboriginal youth and the legacy of these schools. This report the summary volume includes the history of residential schools, the legacy of that school system and the full text of the Commission's 94 recommendations for action to address that legacy. This report lays bare a part of Canada's history that until recently was little known to most non-Aboriginal Canadians. The Commission discusses the logic of the colonization of Canada's territories and why and how policy and practice developed to end the existence of distinct societies of Aboriginal peoples. Using brief excerpts from the powerful testimony heard from Survivors, this report documents the residential school system which forced children into institutions where they were forbidden to speak their language, required to discard their clothing in favour of institutional wear, given inadequate food, housed in inferior and fire prone buildings, required to work when they should have been studying and subjected to emotional, psychological and often physical abuse. In this setting, cruel punishments were all too common as was sexual abuse. More than 30 000 Survivors have been compensated financially by the Government of Canada for their experiences in residential schools but the legacy of this experience is ongoing today. This report explains the links to high rates of Aboriginal children being taken from their families, abuse of drugs and alcohol and high rates of suicide. The report documents the drastic decline in the presence of Aboriginal languages even as Survivors and others work to maintain their distinctive cultures, traditions and governance. The report offers 94 calls to action on the part of governments.

churches public institutions and non Aboriginal Canadians as a path to meaningful reconciliation of Canada today with Aboriginal citizens Even though the historical experience of residential schools constituted an act of cultural genocide by Canadian government authorities the United Nation s declaration of the rights of aboriginal peoples and the specific recommendations of the Commission offer a path to move from apology for these events to true reconciliation that can be embraced by all Canadians
