Education during the Time of the Revolution in Egypt Nagwa Megahed, 2017-11-13 Since the 25th January 2011 revolution Egyptians experienced and engaged in a daily debate Controversially some argued that the conflict and revolts in Egypt and the Arab region were neither coincidental nor the result of a domino effect of collective actions by oppressed people against autocratic regimes Rather these revolts were the result of mobilization efforts made over decades by several activist groups as well as national and international non governmental organizations Contrary to this view others claim that despite the rapid economic growth of Egypt in the 2000s there was a wide gap in the distribution of wealth and economic return which left the majority of Egyptians suffering from poverty and high rate of unemployment especially among youth Obviously while national and international economic and political dynamics dominated the daily debate education remains the forgotten arena amidst conflict With the exacerbation of conflict between militant extremists and modern states in the region and most recently in many European countries it became more important than ever before to understand the dialectics of education in conflict in different local contexts starting in this book by the Egyptian context The book focuses on education in Egypt during the time of the revolution as perceived by university students youth activists educational professionals government officials and civil society organizations Its chapters reveal the tension contradiction and or coherence among different players as related to their respective role in education for civic engagement national identity global citizenship peace building teacher professional development and women's and students empowerment The book illustrates the dialectics of education in conflict by articulating diverse meanings and perspectives given by Egyptian stakeholders when describing their actions and realities during the time of the revolution and its aftermath Passion for Islam Caryle Murphy, 2002-10-22 Islam's revival is reshaping Egypt and other Arab countries in ways beyond violent politics The yearning for personal solace a just political system indigenous lifestyles and relevant theology all await satisfaction Just as the Nile runs through Egypt for almost eight hundred miles giving it life so also the Straight Way the way of Allah runs through it beckoning its people The search by Egypt's Muslims for a modern understanding of the Straight Way is the essence of today's passion for Islam from Chapter 1 First Verses Written by a Pulitzer Prize winning journalist this authoritative and enthralling primer on the modern face of Islam provides one of the most comprehensive accountings for the roots of religious terrorism and Middle Eastern strife Over decades a myriad of social political and religious factors has made today's Middle East a combustible region and has contributed to Islam's new power and turmoil Passion for Islam uses one particular country Egypt as a lens through which to show how these forces play out across the area allowing terrorism to gain a foothold Through the personal experiences and observations of individual Egyptians encountered during her five years as the Washington Post's Cairo bureau chief veteran journalist Caryle Murphy explores how Islam's contemporary revival is unfolding on four different levels Pious Islam highlights the groundswell of grassroots piety that has created more Islamic societies Political Islam examines how Islamists using both violent and peaceful means are reshaping the region's authoritarian secular political order and redefining Islam's role in the public arena Cultural Islam looks at Egyptian efforts to resist a ubiquitous Western culture by asserting an Islamic identity Thinking Islam reveals how intellectuals are reexamining their theological heritage with the aim of modernizing Islam Representing years of exhaustive research Passion for Islam also looks at how the tortured Israeli Palestinian conflict has contributed to the region's religious ferment and political tumult By revealing the day to day ramifications of all these issues through the eyes of Egyptian intellectuals holy men revolutionaries and ordinary citizens Passion for Islam brings an unparalleled vitality and depth to Western perceptions of Middle Eastern conflict Regulating Islam Sarah J. Feuer, 2018 Through a comparative study of Morocco and Tunisia Feuer proposes a compelling theory accounting for complexities in religion state relations across the Arab world Islamic Religious Education in Europe Leni Franken, Bill Gent, 2021-04-01 Against the backdrop of labour migration and the ongoing refugee crisis the ways in which Islam is taught and engaged with in educational settings has become a major topic of contention in Europe Recognising the need for academic engagement around the challenges and benefits of effective Islamic Religious Education IRE this volume offers a comparative study of curricula teaching materials and teacher education in fourteen European countries and in doing so explores local national and international complexities of contemporary IRE Considering the ways in which Islam is taught and represented in state schools public Islamic schools and non confessional classes Part One of this volume includes chapters which survey the varying degrees to which fourteen European States have adopted IRE into curricula and considers the impacts of varied teaching models on Muslim populations Moving beyond individual countries approaches to IRE chapters in Part Two offer multi disciplinary perspectives from the hermeneutical critical to the postcolonial to address challenges posed by religious teachings on issues such as feminism human rights and citizenship and the ways these are approached in European settings Given its multi faceted approach this book will be an indispensable resource for postgraduate students scholars stakeholders and policymakers working at the intersections of religion education and policy on religious education

Portuguese Colonialism and Islam Mário Artur Machaqueiro, 2023-03-18 In Mozambique and Guinea the Portuguese colonial administration had to deal with Muslim communities of significant population expression and whose internal cultural differentiations presented a complexity to which the administrative power was often unprepared The exercise of this governance with all the variations that characterized it extended throughout the period that the colonial project lasted from the phase of effective military occupation in the transition from the nineteenth to the twentieth century until the end of the colonial wars in 1974 In this chronological segment Portuguese Colonialism and Islam seeks to address the circumstances of the colonial governance and regulation of those populations focusing on 1 The representations and images of Islam and Muslims that the agents of Portuguese colonialism produced at significant stages of the period the recurrence of this imagery its evolution and the way it interacted with the concrete policies of control and governance of the populations 2 The changes that such policies underwent oscillating between a posture of ambivalent hostility more visible in the 1930s to 1950s and more present in Mozambique than in Guinea and a strategy of rapprochement with the Islamic leadership and their religious enticement a strategy developed in the final phase of the Colonial War as part of the fight against nationalist movements 3 The critical eye with which representatives of former colonial powers followed the Portuguese policies of governance of Islam expressed in the testimonies of consuls general of France and the United Kingdom and documents conveying how diplomatic bodies perceived the Portuguese colonial system
