English-Medium Instruction and Pronunciation Karin Richter,2019-01-11 This book offers new insights into the language gains of adult learners enrolled in an English medium instruction EMI degree programme It provides longitudinal empirical evidence of the phonological gains of the learners discusses which individual factors contribute to the changes in the learners pronunciation and investigates whether and to what extent increased exposure to the target language in EMI classrooms leads to incidental learning of second language pronunciation Furthermore it expands on the discussions surrounding the Critical Period Hypothesis the native speaker norm foreign language accent and the role of English as a Lingua Franca The comparative and longitudinal design of the research study fills a significant gap in the literature and the book offers considerable original and important research informed insights into the fields of EMI bilingual education and second language acquisition As such it is a valuable resource and must read book for researchers practitioners and policymakers in these areas

Language Across the Curriculum & CLIL in English as an Additional Language (EAL) Contexts

Angel M.Y. Lin, 2016-09-15 This book will be of interest to a broad readership regardless of whether they have a background in sociolinguistics functional linguistics or genre theories It presents an accessible meta language i.e. a language for talking about language that is workable and usable for teachers and researchers from both language and content backgrounds thus facilitating collaboration across content and language subject panels Chapters 1 to 3 lay the theoretical foundation of this common meta language by critically reviewing systematically presenting and integrating key theoretical resources for teachers and researchers in this field In turn Chapters 4 to 7 focus on issues in pedagogy and assessment and on school based approaches to LAC and CLIL drawing on both research studies and the experiences of front line teachers and school administrators Chapter 8 provides a critical and reflexive angle on the field by asking difficult questions regarding how LAC and CLIL are often situated in contexts characterized by inequality of access to the linguistic and cultural capitals where the local languages of the students are usually neglected or viewed unfavourably in relation to the L2 in mainstream society and where teachers are usually positioned as recipients of knowledge rather than makers of knowledge In closing Chapter 9 reviews the state of the art in the field and proposes directions for future inquiry
