More Than an Ally Michael L. Boucher, 2020-09-15 The Caring Solidarity framework is both descriptive and aspirational It is an attempt to empower White teachers to do the work of interrogating their racial privilege and join in Caring Solidarity with their African American students The framework can be used to describe teachers who are working in Caring Solidarity with their students and to develop teachers with intention toward Caring Solidarity We are in a unique historical moment that demands White teachers become more effective in their schools classrooms and communities and for researchers to find ways to describe those teachers who build relationships of solidarity with students Considering today's tenor of the conversation around race picking up this book and considering its contents is an act of defiance of the current climate and or one of devotion to the art and craft of teaching children Caring Solidarity is not a replacement for current frameworks such as Culturally Sustaining Pedagogy or Abolitionist Pedagogy but is a map for White teachers to journey toward those pedagogies Everyone starts from somewhere The path is winding and long but the goal to create an equitable and humane classroom is worth the trip The purpose of this theory is to point the way

Education under Siege Mortimore, Peter, 2013-09-23 At a time when education is considered crucial to a country's economic success recent UK governments have insisted their reforms are the only way to make England's system world class Yet pupils are tested rather than educated teachers bullied rather than trusted and parents cast as winners or losers in a gamble for school places Education under siege considers the English education system as it is and as it might be In a highly accessible style Peter Mortimore an author with wide experience of the education sector both in the UK and abroad identifies the current system's strengths and weaknesses He concludes that England has some of the best teachers in the world but one of the most muddled systems Challenging the government's view that there is no alternative he proposes radical changes to help all schools become good schools They include a system of schools receiving a fair balance of pupils who learn easily and those who do not ensuring a more even spread of effective teachers as well as banning league tables outlawing selection opening up faith schools and integrating private schools into the state system In the final chapter he asks readers who share his concerns to demand that the politicians alter course The book will appeal to parents education students and teachers as well as everyone interested in the future education of our children
