L'action Publique Agrienvironnementale La Mise En Oeuvre Neautogénérée Des Dispositifs:

L'action publique agri-environnementale Didier Busca, 2010-11-01 Comment expliquer la faible performance environnementale des dispositifs publics Le parti pris d'explorer les dispositifs agri environnementaux partir de leur mise en oeuvre permet de montrer qu'elle est soumise des arrangements incessants entre agriculteurs organisations professionnelles agricoles et pouvoirs publics qui contribuent par des jeux de négociation sur les moyens altérer la finalité environnementale de l'action publique

Agriculture et environnement Didier Busca, 2002 Les conséquences de l'agriculture intensive sur l'environnement font l'objet depuis les années 90 d'une intervention publique croissante Face aux intérêts agricoles l'efficacité des politiques agri environnementales souvent mise en cause conduit à interroger sur l'application de l'action publique dans ce domaine La thèse propose une étude de l'application d'un dispositif agri environnemental réglementaire le Programme de Matrise des Pollutions d'Origine Agricole et Incitatif Ferti Mieux dans le bassin Adour Garonne Elle vise analyser les changements dans l'application des dispositifs publics entre acteurs publics organisations professionnelles agricoles OPA et agriculteurs destinataires partir d'entretiens approfondis Une approche quantitative vise analyser l'impact des contextes locaux sur l'application des dispositifs publics La thèse est que la finalité environnementale des dispositifs est transformée par des arrangements négociés sur les moyens de leur mise en oeuvre Ce processus d'adaptation est la conséquence d'une dynamique d'appropriation stratégique des dispositifs publics individuellement par les agriculteurs collectivement par les OPA Il est modulé selon le poids des enjeux agricoles et touristiques locaux

Territorialisations et action agricole Aurélien Esposito-Fava, 2010 Confront des crises multiformes et récurrentes l'agriculture et l'action agricole doivent inventer de nouveaux modèles Si elle a souvent été brandie comme une solution potentielle aux maux de ces dernières le territoire n'a pour l'instant pas été saisi par le secteur comme une opportunité afin de se réinventer Pourtant face à la globalisation les stratégies de localisation et de valorisation locale comme les AOC ou les circuits courts se multiplient Une action territoriale souvent sur le mode des territoires de projet structure désormais les espaces ruraux et périurbains Porteuse d'enjeux étrangers aux préoccupations traditionnelles des acteurs agricoles elle se saisit désormais de l'agriculture par ses produits divers la gestion de l'espace de l'environnement ou encore l'organisation du développement urbain Une dépendance mutuelle entre l'avenir de l'agriculture et l'avenir des territoires paraît merger Territoires et agricultures peuvent-ils participer au développement l'un de l'autre A bien des égards l'action territoriale et l'action agricole se confrontent des modèles divergents Ainsi cette thèse questionne le processus de territorialisation de l'action agricole La territorialisation se caractérise par une transformation des ressources et des modes d'organisation de l'agriculture et de l'action agricole Des ressources localisées et partagées avec différentes catégories d'acteurs locaux sont construites La gouvernance de l'agriculture se relocalise et s'ouvre la participation d'acteurs non agricoles La mise en oeuvre de dispositifs territorialisés d'action publique joue un rôle fondamental dans ces processus Si l'action territoriale peut alors se lire comme l'interaction entre des dispositifs des ressources et des modes de gouvernance la territorialisation de l'action agricole peut-elle se comprendre comme l'hybridation entre l'action agricole et l'action territoriale ? L'analyse de terrains et des pratiques de professionnels de la territorialisation nous permet d'examiner cette question
