QUESTION 3

- 3.1 Read the passage below and answer the questions that follow.

Peat lands are special wetlands that play a very important role in ecology. A peat land, of approximately 6 000 years old, near Mafeking is almost destroyed because of excessive extraction of water from the nearby Molopo river. The water is extracted for human consumption.

Peat lands like the one near Mafeking is exceptional and play an important role in storing water as well as preventing climate changes.

Dr Phil-Louis Grundling said that carbon that is 'held' or 'stored' by peat lands combats climate change because it decreases the amount of carbon in the atmosphere.

Peat lands trap about one third of the world's carbon. Approximately 50% of wetlands worldwide are peat lands. However in South Africa about 10% of the wetlands are peat lands.

Grundling explained that peat lands can hold about 1 000 times its own mass in water. This replenishes the water table and is the source that keeps streams flowing. The "sponge effect" of the peat also makes it possible to store water that is then released during dry seasons.

Dr Grundling said that it might be too late to restore the peat land near Mafeking but it might be possible to restore some parts of it if more water is supplied to this peat land.

The result of this destruction is depletion of the water table. The habitat of numerous fish and frog species that lived in this peat land was also destroyed.

From: Beeld: 24 September 2016.

- 3.1.1 Give TWO other reasons (not mentioned in the passage) that can lead to the destruction of wetlands. (2)
- 3.1.2 Discuss reasons from the passage regarding the importance of these specific wetlands for the environment. (4)
- 3.1.3 Suggest a way in which this peat land near Mafeking can be restored. (2)

Assured Destruction David Bath,2020-03-15 Assured Destruction Building the Ballistic Missile Culture of the U S Air Force documents the rapid development of nuclear ballistic missiles in the United States and their equally swift demise after the Cuban Missile Crisis revealing how these drastic changes negatively influenced both the Air Force and the missile community David W Bath contends that the struggle to create and control nuclear ballistic missiles threatened both the dominance of the United States during an intensifying Cold War and the strategic airpower mission of the newly created Air Force The book details the strenuous efforts required to create and prepare a missile arsenal before the Cuban Missile Crisis which occurred only five years after the first missile was declared operational It uses the personal recollections of former missileers and the professional military education theses they wrote to highlight some of the concerns that have faced the missileers who operated and worked on these powerful weapons from 1957 to the present The highlight of the book however is the personal stories of the missileers who served during the missile crisis revealing the efforts that they went to in order to prepare these unique and untried weapons for what many thought might become the third world war

MAPPING CONFLICT IN CHITTAGONG HILL TRACTS 1997-2014 Zahid ul Arefin Choudhury,2020-04-27 The issue of the Chittagong Hill Tracts is as divisive as the region itself At one end there are tales of woe how the original inhabitants of the region are being evicted from their land through violence and trickery their marginalization and elimination of their traditional way of life simultaneously while it is being exoticized for tourism These accounts however paint a static picture where the members of these ethnic groups are victims always and without any agency Consequently these accounts fail to hold up in front of close examination and invites counter opinion rage that the Bengali and other ethnicities of CHT are prevented from living in harmony by disruptive elements within the society that the oppression and repression of the hill peoples are made up stories that feed national and international conspiracies In Conflict Mapping in the Chittagong Hill Tracts researchers from the Department of Peace and Conflict Studies at the University of Dhaka cut through this fog of confusion by presenting dispassionate unornamented data With the help of original data and systematic analysis they show how the social life of CHT is marked by deep polarization both within and across the ethnic divide how it is beset by real and perceived accounts of discrimination and by lack of confidence on state agencies and the rule of law They also investigate the trajectory of major cases of violence in the region in the past two decades and reveal that these have a common escalation pattern with various points marked by missed opportunities for prevention Based on a study that draws from a large survey of a cross section of people from 8 of the most crime prone Upazilas of the region semi structured interview of selected elites and analysis of the dynamics of 14 incidents of large scale violence between 1997 and 2014 this book aims at initiating a healthy constructive conversation on the issue It challenges long held prejudices common sense beliefs and unsubstantiated propaganda By offering the lens of social science the book invites readers with well meaning but vague opinions as well as consumers of zealous and spoon fed ideas to form informed and nuanced opinion

Fake Science Austin Ruse, 2017-07-17 If you listen to any political argument you re eventually bound to hear something like The science is settled on this Or Just look at the statistics Or There have been studies that say You d think we were living in the golden age of science and reason But the truth is far more sinister says Austin Ruse We re actually living in the age of the low information voter easily misled by all too convincing false statistics and studies In Fake Science Ruse debunks so called facts used to advance political causes one after the other revealing how poorly they stand up to actual science

Risk Regulation in the Internal Market Maria Weimer, 2019-03-13 This book offers a topical inquiry into the legal and political limits of EU regulation in the field of risk and new technologies surrounded by techno scientific complexity uncertainty and societal contestation It uses agricultural biotechnology as a paradigmatic example to illustrate the complex intertwinement between environmental public health economic and social concerns in risk regulation Weimer analyses the drawbacks of the EU approach to agricultural biotechnology showing that its reductionism i e the narrow understanding of GMO risks as well as the exclusion of broader societal concerns related to environmental and social sustainability has undermined both the legitimacy and effectiveness of EU regulation in this area Resistance to this approach however has also triggered legal innovations prompting us to re think EU internal market law including the way in which it manages the tensions between unity and diversity and between social and economic concerns This text offers fresh and original insights into how far the EU can go in harmonizing regulatory approaches to risk At the same time it proposes new ways of re thinking EU risk regulation to make it more responsive to different perspectives on risk and technology A unique feature of this book is that it contributes to various strains of scholarship including risk regulation internal market law public administration and studies of governance and regulation as well as connecting these themes to broader debates about the legitimacy of European integration and new ways of differentiated integration As a result it assists in re imagining the EU internal market and its regulation as a site of diversity

The Global Muslim Brotherhood in Britain Damon

Perry,2018-07-17 Since 2011 with the British Government's counter radicalisation strategy Prevent non violent Islamist groups have been considered a security risk for spreading a divisive ideology that can lead to radicalisation and violence More recently the Government has expressed concerns about their impact on social cohesion entryism and women's rights The key protagonists of non violent Islamist extremism allegedly include groups and individuals associated with the Muslim Brotherhood and Jama'at al Islami They have been described as part of the global Muslim Brotherhood but do they constitute a singular phenomenon a social movement This book shows that such groups and individuals do indeed comprise a movement in Britain one dedicated to an Islamic revival It shows how they are networked organisationally bonded through ideological and cultural kinship and united in a conflict of values with the British society and state Using original interviews with prominent revivalist leaders as well as primary sources the book also shows how the movement is not so much Islamist in aspiring for an Islamic state but concerned with institutionalising an Islamic worldview and moral framework throughout society The conflict between the Government and the global Muslim Brotherhood is apparent in a number of different fields including education governance law and counterterrorism But this does not simply concern the direction of Government policy or the control of state institutions It most fundamentally concerns the symbolic authority to legitimise a way of seeing thinking and living By assessing this multifaceted conflict the book presents an exhaustive and up to date analysis of the political and cultural fault lines between Islamic revivalists and the British authorities It will be useful for anyone studying Islam in the West government counter terrorism and counter extremism policy multiculturalism and social cohesion

The Rhetorical Invention of America's National Security State Marouf Hasian Jr.,Sean Lawson,Megan D. McFarlane,2015-07-29 The Rhetorical Invention of America's National Security State examines the rhetoric and discourse produced by and constitutive of America's national security state Hasian Lawson and McFarlane illustrate the importance of rhetoric to the expansion of the American national security state in the post 9 11 era through their examination of the global war on terrorism enhanced interrogation techniques drone crew stress activities of Edward Snowden rise of Special Forces and popular representations of counterterrorism The coauthors contend this expansion was not the result of lone imperial executives or a nefarious state within a state but was co produced by elite and non elite Americans alike who not only condoned but also in many cases demanded the expansion of the national security state This work will be of interest to scholars in communication studies and political science
