study seeks to combine the two aspects It also tries to cover the whole spectrum of the ancient religions Special attention is given to Israel Greece and Egypt Israel s neighbours are also considered and there are discussions of Judaism Christianity and Zoroastrianism In several areas notably in Egypt and Israel it is shown that punishment in this life is sometimes presented as a fate that man brings upon himself rather than as one imposed by God though always against a moral background derived from religion The origins of judgement after death in the Judaeo Christian tradition are examined in some detail and elements are traced to Egyptian Zoroastrian and Judaic sources

Theological Incorrectness Jason Slone, 2007-12-03 Why do religious people believe what they shouldn t not what others think they shouldn t believe but things that don t accord with their own avowed religious beliefs D Jason Slone terms this phenomenon theological incorrectness He argues that it exists because the mind is built in such a way that it s natural for us to think divergent thoughts simultaneously Human minds are great at coming up with innovative ideas that help them make sense of the world he says but those ideas do not always jibe with official religious beliefs From this fact we derive the important lesson that what we learn from our environment religious ideas for example does not necessarily cause us to behave in ways consistent with that knowledge Slone presents the latest discoveries from the cognitive science of religion and shows how they help us to understand exactly why it is that religious people do and think things that they shouldn t
