Unequal Neighbors Kristen Hill Maher, David Carruthers, 2021-04-02 San Diego and Tijuana are the site of a national border enforcement spectacle but they are also neighboring cities with deeply intertwined histories cultures and economies In Unequal Neighbors Kristen Hill Maher and David Carruthers shift attention from the national border to a local one examining the role of place stigma in reinforcing actual and imagined inequalities between these cities Widespread bordered imaginaries in San Diego represent it as a place of economic vitality safety and order while stigmatizing Tijuana as a zone of poverty crime and corruption These dualisms misrepresent complex realities on the ground but they also have real material effects the vision of a local border benefits some actors in the region while undermining others Based on a wide range of original empirical materials the book examines how asymmetries between these cities have been produced and reinforced through stigmatizing representations of Tijuana in media everyday talk economic relations and local tourism discourse and practices However both place stigma and borders are subject to contestation and the book also examines debordering practices and counter narratives about Tijuana's image While the details of the book are particular to this corner of the world the kinds of processes it documents offer a window into the making of unequal neighbors more broadly The dynamics at the Tijuana border present a framework for understanding how inequalities that manifest in cultural practices produce asymmetric borders between places Lonely Planet California's Best Trips Lonely Planet, Sara Benson, 2017-02-01 Lonely
