Non-Inclusive Education in Central and Eastern Europe Katarzyna Górak-Sosnowska,Urszula Markowska-Manista,2022-11-03 This book presents research into inclusive education in Central and Eastern Europe CEE written by scholars based in CEE Inclusive education has become a framework for understanding and embracing diversity but most of the research in this area has been carried out in intercultural or culturally diverse settings within a relatively inclusive and open framework of democratic liberal and multicultural Western societies Unlike many Western societies the realities of CEE countries are often much less diverse and connected with different fragile historical and political processes which puts tackling sensitive topics in a different context. The editors and contributors address the dominant Western ways of looking at inclusive and global education in CEE. They argue that Western leveraged pedagogy has been imposed on CEE and outline the context specific problems of teaching global education in CEE. Collectively the chapters offer critical responses to the issues of exclusion and exclusionary practices of silenced minorities in CEE. Written by academics based in Czech Republic, Germany, Hungary, Poland, Romania and Russia, the book covers topics including Roma genocide in Poland, teaching about Islam and teaching about LGBTQ issues. The book includes a preface written by Jacqueline Bhabha, Professor of the Practice of Health and Human Rights at Harvard University, USA.

Holocaust Public Memory in Postcommunist Romania, Alexandru Florian, 2018-01-24. An excellent analysis of the slow but steady evolution of Romania from heavy Holocaust denial toward a fair confrontation of its tragic past. Radu Ioanid, author of The Holocaust in Romania. How is the Holocaust remembered in Romania since the fall of communism? Alexandru Florian and an international group of contributors unveil how and why Romania, a place where large segments of the Jewish and Roma populations perished, still fails to address its recent past. These essays focus on the roles of government and public actors that choose to promote, construct, defend, or contest the memory of the Holocaust, as well as the tools, the press, the media, monuments, and commemorations that create public memory. Coming from a variety of perspectives, these essays provide a compelling view of what memories exist, how they are sustained, how they can be distorted, and how public remembrance of the Holocaust can be encouraged in Romanian society today. While positive changes have taken place, a large gap exists between the historical facts and public knowledge about Romania and the Holocaust. This volume offers a fresh and nuanced understanding of the contemporary battles of memory in postcommunist Eastern Europe Diana Dumitru author of The State Antisemitism and Collaboration in the Holocaust An excellent and timely addition to European historiography The book consists of eight chapters most of them written by scholars affiliated with the Elie Wiesel Institute It not only shows the challenges faced in remembering Romania's involvement in the Holocaust but provides an excellent comparative analysis with other countries in the region Reading Religion
