Ricci,2022-11-23 Containing papers presented at the 28th International Conference on Urban and Maritime Transport and the Environment this volume covers two apparently parallel topics which meet in the transport and environmental management of coastal cities both being affected positively and negatively by landside and seaside traffic The continuing requirement for better urban transport systems and the need for a healthier environment create a fertile environment for original ideas innovative approaches and applications of advanced technologies their tests and evaluations in practice Moreover there is a growing need for integration with IT systems and applications to improve safety and efficiency Maritime Transport is highly interconnected with rail road and air services as well as inland waterways Each of these must therefore operate complimentary of one another to maximise efficiency and respond rapidly to variable economic and political contingencies The variety of topics covered by the included research works reflects the complex interaction of transport systems with their environment and the need to establish integrated strategies The shared aim is to arrive at optimal socio economic solutions while reducing the negative environmental impacts of transportation systems typically by interdisciplinary approaches Therefore a focus is placed on multidisciplinary research and development as well as operational experiences The Chemical Engineer ,2007

Building Services ,1987 Does Skill Make Us Human? Natasha Iskander,2021-11-09 An in depth look at Qatar s migrant workers and the place of skill in the language of control and power Skill specifically the distinction between the skilled and unskilled is generally defined as a measure of ability and training but Does Skill Make Us Human shows instead that skill distinctions are used to limit freedom narrow political rights and even deny access to imagination and desire Natasha Iskander takes readers into Qatar s booming construction industry in the lead up to the 2022 World Cup and through her unprecedented look at the experiences of migrant workers she reveals that skill functions as a marker of social difference powerful enough to structure all aspects of social and economic life Through unique access to construction sites in Doha in depth research and interviews Iskander explores how migrants are recruited trained and used Despite their acquisition of advanced technical skills workers are commonly described as unskilled and disparaged as unproductive poor quality or simply bodies She demonstrates that skill categories adjudicate personhood creating hierarchies that shape working conditions labor recruitment migration policy the design of urban spaces and the reach of global industries Iskander also discusses how skill distinctions define industry responses to global warming with employers recruiting migrants from climate damaged places at lower wages and exposing these workers to Qatar s extreme heat She considers how the dehumanizing politics of skill might be undone through tactical solidarity and creative practices With implications for immigrant rights and migrant working conditions throughout the world Does Skill Make Us Human examines the factors that justify and amplify inequality Standard Chartered Review ,1978
