I. TRAINING SUMMARY
Background Mental illness accounts for four of the ten leading causes of disability worldwide. During humanitarian emergencies, the percentage of those suffering common mental disorders can double from 10 to 20 percent, while those with pre-existing and severe mental illnesses often have no access to care. In Liberia, crises such as armed conflict and the Ebola epidemic have increased the social and psychological burden on the population, increasing the risk of mental illness. One of the major challenges to mental health in resource-limited countries is the low number of health professionals with the expertise to identify and care for those suffering from mental health problems. International Medical Corps Liberia developed this curriculum based on mhGAP materials to empower Community Health Volunteers (CHVs) to recognize people with mental health problems and refer them for appropriate care. The curriculum introduces common mental health problems such as depression, anxiety and psychosis, and equips participants with the skills to build trust with clients and support them in accessing specialist care.
List the outline/main sessions of the training. Day 1: Introduction to Mental Health, Role of the CHV, and Principles of care Day 2: Psychosis and Epilepsy Day 3: Depression and Suicide Day 4: Advocacy, Psychosocial Support, Patient Referral, and Linking with Community Resources (Curriculum available)
