German Radical Pietism Hans Schneider, 2007-06-21 Pietism is increasingly recognized as the most important movement in Protestant Christianity since the Reformation of the sixteenth century Simply put early Protestant reformers were concerned with reforming the doctrine and beliefs of Christians whereas the Pietist leaders were concerned with reforming the lives and behavior of Christians This coupled with other disagreements led to calls for separation which in turn gave rise to the movement best described as radical Pietism German Radical Pietism introduces the English reader to the research of the major contemporary scholar of radical Pietism Hans Schneider Originally appearing in the comprehensive study of the history of Pietism that appeared in the 1990s Schneider's research considers historical treatment of the major figures movements and ideas of the radical wing of German Pietism in the seventeenth and early eighteenth centuries These developments are set in their historical and social contexts thereby providing the first definitive treatment in English of this movement as a whole Radical Pietism's seminal role in the emergence of modern religious communities_including Quakers Brethren and precursors of contemporary United Methodism as well as a range of perfectionist communities in early American history_has only begun to be adequately assessed and this study should be a critical resource in furthering that research This work is one of the few studies available in English that addresses the important German historical work on Pietism from the late twentieth century A definitive bibliography of recent research in radical Pietism is included to provide further reading on this important topic

Readers and Their Fictions in the Novels and Novellas of Gottfried Keller Gail K. Hart, 2020-05-01 This study seeks to alter our understanding of Keller's realism by problematizing the act of reading within fiction The story of reading in Keller's fiction is a self-conscious meditation on the schism between life and its literary representation and it emphasizes the incapacity of that representation to actually and substantially influence the life it is based on This has consequences for the didactic writer The act of reading here generally involves a collision between fiction and its other and a move or tragic failure to move toward an acceptance and affirmation of the non-correspondence between life and literature a process that renders moral didacticism a quixotic project This position runs counter to the prevailing view of Keller as a consciously didactic author who tried to create a credible copy of reality in order to revise and repair the real world by inspiring readers to make the depicted improvements in their nonfictional universe

Paradisal Love John D. Baildam, 1999-01-01 This is the first comprehensive study of Herder's preoccupation with the Song of Songs Baildam considers the importance of this poetry in his thinking and examines his commentaries and translations of 1776 and 1778 Despite Herder's claims to the contrary his own cultural position is revealed in his translations and in his unique interpretation of the work as the voice of pure paradisal love Starting with Herder's interest in the Song of Songs between 1765 and 1778 this book sets his reflections in the wider context of his relativistic views on the nature of poetry contemporary German culture and the importance of primitive poetry in general and the poetry of the Bible in particular Then Baildam looks at current literary critical theories with implications for Herder's translations of these Lieder der Liebe and discusses Herder's theories of language and translation in comparison with German translation theories Herder's reading of the Song as the most primitive natural and sublime example of Hebrew poetry is placed in the context of earlier and contemporary interpretations his opinion of which is examined In the last part of the book there is an appraisal first of Herder's commentaries themselves analysing how the details reflect his overall concept of the work and then of his translations comparing them with each other with the Lutheran text to which Herder ultimately directed his readership and with the Hebrew text A concluding chapter reviews the reception of Herder's work and three appendices offer a parallel presentation of Herder's translations of 1776 and 1778 Luther's translation of 1545 and Goethe's translation of 1775
