LAB EXERCISE 5: Lizard Evolution Virtual Lab

Answer the following questions as you finish each module in the virtual lab.

MODULE 1: Introduction

At the beginning of the virtual lab, you were asked to select eight lizards into categories. What criteria did you use to select your groups?

They were chosen by their color and size.

Did your teacher grade individual team's efforts?

Individualizing the entire class, thought about learning about eight different groups of lizards, but I chose groups according to their color and size.

An adaptation is a structure or function that the organism has as a population because it increases the ability to survive and reproduce in a particular environment. Provide one example and an explanation of an adaptation in the desert lizard.

The color of the lizard's skin, which is brown and grey, is an adaptation to the desert environment and helps it blend in with the sand.

Provide one evolutionary explanation for why desert lizards have different adaptations (i.e., the groups) would have evolved a common ancestor.

Evolutionary changes in the lizard population over time, due to natural selection, led to the evolution of different adaptations.
