Faith A Novel:

Faith Jennifer Haigh, 2012-01-17 It is the spring of 2002 and a perfect storm has hit Boston Across the city's archdiocese trusted priests have been accused of the worst possible betrayal of the souls in their care Estranged for years from her difficult and demanding family Sheila McGann has remained close to her older brother Art the popular dynamic pastor of a large suburban parish When Art finds himself at the center of the maelstrom Sheila returns to Boston ready to fight for him and his reputation But what she discovers is more complicated than she imagined as the scandal forces long buried secrets to surface Elegantly crafted and sharply observed Jennifer Haigh's Faith is a haunting meditation on loyalty and family that demonstrates how the truth can shatter our deepest beliefs and restore them Matters of Faith Kristy Kiernan, 2008-08-05 From the author of Catching Genius a novel of a young man's search for faith and its unintended consequences At age twelve Marshall Tobias saw his best friend killed by a train It was then that he began his search for faith delving into one tradition then discarding it for another His parents however have little time for spiritual contemplation Their focus has been on his little sister Megan who suffers from severe food allergies Now Marshall is home from college with his first real girlfriend but there is more to Ada than meets the eye including her beliefs about the evils of medical intervention What follows is a crisis that tests not only faith but the limits of family forgiveness and our need to believe Faith and Fiction Barbara Pell, 2006-01-01 Is it possible to write an artistically respectable and theoretically convincing religious novel in a non religious age Up to now there has been no substantial application of theological criticism to the works of Hugh MacLennan and Morley Callaghan the two most important Canadian novelists before 1960 Yet both were religious writers during the period when Canada entered the modern non religious era and both greatly influenced the development of our literature MacLennan's journey from Calvinism to Christian existentialism is documented in his essays and seven novels most fully in The Watch that Ends the Night Callaghan's fourteen novels are marked by tensions in his theology of Catholic humanism with his later novels defining his theological themes in increasingly secular terms This tension between narrative and metanarrative has produced both the artistic strengths and the moral ambiguities that characterize his work Faith and Fiction: A Theological Critique of the Narrative Strategies of Hugh MacLennan and Morley Callaghan is a significant contribution to the relatively new field studying the relation between religion and literature in Canada A Step of Faith Richard Paul Evans, 2013-05-07 Following the New York Times bestseller The Road to Grace Richard Paul Evans's hero Alan Christoffersen faces a life changing crisis on his journey to grace After the death of his beloved wife after the loss of his advertising business to his once trusted partner after bankruptcy forced him from his home Alan Christoffersen is a broken man Leaving everything he knows he sets out on an extraordinary cross country journey with only the pack on his back he is walking from Seattle to Key West the end of the map Along the way Alan begins to heal meeting people who teach him lessons about love sacrifice and forgiveness But in St Louis Alan faces another life changing crisis and now the journey is in jeopardy Faith and Fiction Anita Gandolfo, 2007-08-30 In recent years there has been an explosion in the market for fiction on religious topics and themes most notably Dan Brown's The Da Vinci Code. The variety of contemporary religious fiction and the publishing phenomenon surrounding it indicate that this literature transcends any overt religious meaning and is significant in its political and social implications; it is emblematic of the contemporary American Zeitgeist. Traditionally, literature is both mirror and lamp, reflecting the society that produces it and illuminating the values and interests of that society. Recognizing both of those perspectives, Gandolfo examines Christian literature's place in American culture today and explores the cultural meaning and significance of the wildly popular Christian fiction now available. The phenomenon surrounding Dan Brown's The Da Vinci Code has led to a cottage industry of interpretations, attacks, and commentaries, but one thing is certain: the book has had an enormous impact on American society, culture, and religious understanding, not to mention the publishing industry, which scrambles to find similar religious books to feed to an eager public. But The Da Vinci Code is not the only book of its type on the market today. In recent years there has been an explosion in the market for fiction on religious topics and themes, with an entire series devoted to the impending Rapture as described in the Left Behind series. Some fiction does not take an explicitly religious theme as these books do. Instead, writers like Andre Dubus and Ron Hansen imbue their creative work with spiritual and religious themes embedded in the everyday lives and concerns of their characters. Regardless of the specific approach, what is not in doubt is that American readers have made the authors of these works wealthy, as bookstores cannot stock their shelves with enough copies. Why the recent surge of interest in Christian fiction? How does it reflect trends in our culture and our lives? How has it changed our society and our understanding of spirituality and religion? How accurate are these books in terms of the theology they espouse? The variety of contemporary religious fiction and the publishing phenomenon surrounding it indicate that this literature transcends any overt religious meaning and is significant in its political and social implications; it is emblematic of the contemporary American Zeitgeist. Traditionally, literature is both mirror and lamp, reflecting the society that produces it and illuminating the values and interests of that society. Recognizing both of those perspectives, Faith and Fiction examines Christian literature's place in American culture today and explores the cultural meaning and significance of the wildly popular Christian fiction now available.

Rescuing Faith Carol James, 2017-03-08 Once orphaned, newly divorced, a schoolteacher questions God's plan when she falls in love with a grieving widower in this inspirational romance. Given up for adoption at birth, schoolteacher Faith Holmes has spent her life trying to prove she is enough: good enough, smart enough, pretty enough. When she finds her husband with another woman, yet again she has trouble forgiving him, as she has in the past. So he divorces her. Rejected first by her parents, now by her husband, Faith begins to wonder if God has rejected her, too. In the midst of her marital trials, Faith has to deal with surly Luke Johnson, the father of one of her students. Consumed with guilt, Luke blames himself for his wife's recent death. His daughter, Emmie, struggles with both her schoolwork and the loss of her mother, and Faith is determined to help her despite Luke's resistance. As time passes, Luke sees Faith for the wonderful woman she is. But as much as Faith wants to accept Luke's affection, she wonders if she could ever be enough to heal his wounded heart. Rescuing Faith is a story of how God's perfect love and truth helps two people overcome guilt and insecurity for the sake of a future together. The Book of Faith Elaine Kalman Naves, 2015 The Faith Book Tawdra Kandle, Olivia Hardin, 2019-11-26 Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen. Tawdra and Olivia live over a thousand miles apart in Florida and Texas respectively. They found each other through the miracle of the internet and their love of writing and romance, but their abiding friendship and devotion to one another was built on something far greater and stronger. Their relationship was cemented by their shared journeys of FAITH. Through the years, they've enjoyed and celebrated each other's triumphs. They've cried and comforted each other through the pain of death and loss. They've shaken their fists together and commiserated over the hurt of betrayal. They've survived periods of angst and silence and have been brought back together by a bond that can only be explained as God's blessing and grace. In The Faith Book, Tawdra and Olivia share the stories of their journey to experience as they strive to turn their eyes upwards. Finding Faith Denise Hunter, 2006-03-06 Set in the high-pressure world of a Chicago TV newsroom, award-winning author Denise Hunter brings to life a heartwarming story of love and pain, desperate choices with dire consequences, and honesty and redemption. If you like Karen Kingsbury or Nicholas Sparks, this is an author you'll love as much as I do. Colleen Coble, author of Alaska and Twilight: One woman sacrificing everything for her career. A young girl's longing for acceptance. And the road to forgiveness. Paula Landin Cohen, an investigative reporter, feels like a fish out of water in the small town of Jackson Hole, Wyoming. Then she's offered her dream job as a TV reporter in Chicago. There is so much to gain and so much to lose, including the only man she's ever loved. Linn Caldwell has made a lot of mistakes, bad mistakes. She can never forgive herself for all the pain she's caused others. How can she dare to get close to anyone again? What will happen if Paula and Linn's secrets are revealed? Will the men they love ever be able to forgive them? Finding Faith is the third novel in the New Heights series, after Mending Places and Saving Grace. Faith and Fiction of Muriel Spark, Ruth Whittaker, 1984-06-18
