Gauteng Life Science Paper One 2014:

Proceedings of the International Conference on Education Research Reza Hosseini, Towards applying a green infrastructure approach in the Gauteng City-Region Christina Culwick, Samkelisiwe Khanyile, Kerry Bobbins, Stuart Dunsmore, Anne Fitchett, Lerato Monama, Raishan Naidu, Gillian Sykes, Jennifer van den Bussche, Marco Vieira, 2019-12-11 In the context of heightened climate variability thinking about ways to redesign our urban areas with more sustainable infrastructure solutions is becoming more and more important Green infrastructure GI is emerging as an alternative approach to traditional grey infrastructure in urban planning and development Its emergence can be understood in terms of the growing demand for infrastructure and services increased concerns over natural resource constraints and climate change and the negative impacts associated with traditional approaches to designing and building cities It has been proposed that GI can provide the same services as traditional infrastructure at a similar capital cost while also providing a range of additional benefits However despite the increasing examples of successful urban GI applications traditional infrastructure continues to dominate due to the lack of systematic evidence to support GI implementation As a result there has been an increase in calls from policy and decision makers for a greater evidence base on the benefits of GI as well as for practical guidelines on its implementation Towards applying a green infrastructure approach in the Gauteng City Region is the GCRO s third report in its ongoing research into Green assets and infrastructure The first two reports in this project series were more theoretically grounded and policy oriented whereas this third report is more practical in nature The first report explored the basic principles around GI assessed the extent of ecological features in Gauteng and the way governments in the province think about planning and maintenance of green assets The second report responded to some of the challenges identified in the first report and in particular the importance of government officials and practitioners in exploring how international green infrastructure plans could be applied in the Gauteng context This third report builds on the findings of the aforementioned reports and the project s CityLab series which highlighted the need to build an evidence base as critical for garnering support for and as well as enhancing investment in the GI approach Unlike the more theoretically grounded earlier reports this report comprises four technical sections and practical reflections on how a GI approach could be incorporated into urban planning in the GCR and in other similar urban contexts Social Memory as a Force for Social and Economic

Between Time and Space Sulevi Riukulehto, 2015-05-13 In new regional history national states are not seen to play a special role Regions are understood as evolutionary processes in which time and space history and geography are connected in research questions To illustrate the entanglement of time and space in various forms and ages this volume explores regional history from around the globe The editor's review of the various works written under the heading of regional history serves as an introduction to this theme This volume shows how historical events and changes have influenced the reproduction of regions in Czechia it will also highlight how regional identities were manifested in a cultural form in romantic operas of post Napoleonic Europe The historically rich West Wits Line gold mining region in the West Rand of South Africa is also examined within a regional history framework with the broad theme of ecohealth and well being

Through case studies the volume also explores the history of governance and planning in New Zealand's largest city region Auckland as well as the recent economic history of the State of Mato Grosso in Brazil. Finally it also brings the idea of regional history to the most personal level of historical consciousness by examining the experiential shaping of home in the broader meaning of Heimat as a question of belonging somewhere both in time and in space.

Leading under Duress Jean-Pierre Bongila, 2024-11-15 This comparative study of teacher attrition in the Global South and OECD countries examines the exceptionality of twenty selected learning leaders in the D R Congo, Ghana and Uganda who have stayed in the teaching profession and led their student learning with devotion and integrity. Like any learning leader, exceptional teachers live the challenges and pressures that have caused some of their peers to leave the profession. The extraordinary learning leaders from elementary, secondary and higher education have stood victorious amid education devaluations and professional tensions. The author gives voice to those exceptional teachers and analyzes the ethical rationale behind their unfailing commitment to their teaching vocation. Their teaching philosophies and personal accounts revealed altruistic impulses. This book further explores the exceptional teachers' narratives and their selfless actions through the lens of philanthropic and leadership ethics theories. Although the exceptional teachers' altruism appears self-sacrificing, it embodies some form of self-benefit because one can hardly fathom altruism for altruism's sake. Nevertheless, the twenty exceptional teachers acted in a self-sacrificing manner. The author appeals to the Global South countries to implement education policies that should redecorate the profession of learning leadership.
