Java Vs. .NET Security Denis Pilipchuk,Denis Pilipchouk,2004-05-27 This document reviews security features of two most popular modern development platforms Java and NET Java v1 4 2 J2EE v1 4 and NET v1 1 The platform choice is not random because they represent to a certain extent competition between UNIX like and Windows systems which largely defined software evolution over the last decade Although Java applications run on Windows and there exist UNIX bridges for NET the Java UNIX and NET Windows combinations are used for development of a significant portion if not majority of applications on their respective operating systems so both platforms deserve a careful examination of their capabilities Such an examination is especially important since different aspects of UNIX Windows and Java NET competition have been flaming endless heated debates between proponents of both camps which often blindly deny merits of the opposite side while at the same time praising their preferred solution The material here is purposely structured by general categories of protection mechanism and reviewing each platform B G Bs features in those areas This allows starting each topic with a platform neutral security concept and performing relatively deep drill downs for each technology without losing track of the overall focus of providing an unbiased side by side comparison The document is based on the research material that was used as a foundation of the feature article Securing NET and Enterprise Java Side by Side which was written by Vincent Dovydaitis and myself and appeared in Numbers 3 4 of Computer Security Journal in 2002 The following areas will be considered Security Configuration and Code Containment Cryptography and Communication Code Protection and Code Access Security or CAS Authentication and User Access Security or UAS

Euro-Par 2007 Workshops: Parallel Processing Luc Bougé,Martti Forsell,Jesper Larsson Träff,Achim Streit,Wolfgang Ziegler,Michael Alexander,Stephen Childs,2008-03-08 Parallelanddistributedprocessing althoughwithinthefocusofcomputerscience researchforalongtime isgainingmoreandmoreimportanceinawidespectrum of applications These proceedings aim to demonstrate the use of parallel and distributed processing concepts in di erent application elds and attempt to spark interest in novel research directions to advance the embracing model of high performance computing research in general The objective of these workshops is to speci cally address researchers c ing from university industry and governmental research organizations and application oriented companies in order to close the gap between purely scientific research and the applicability of the research ideas to real life problems Euro Par is an annual series of international conferences dedicated to the promotion and advancement of all aspects of parallel and distributed computing The 2007 event was the 13th issue of the conference Euro Par has for a long time been eager to attract colocated events sharing the same goal of promoting the development of parallel and distributed computing both as an industrial technique and an academic discipline extending the frontier of both the state of the art and the state of the practice Since 2006 Euro Par offers researchers the chance to colocate advanced technical workshops back to back with the main conference This is for a mutual benefit the workshops can take advantage of all technical and social facilities which are set up for the conference so that the organizational tasks are kept to a minimal level the conference can rely on workshops to experiment with specific areas of research which are not yet mature enough or too specific to lead to an official full edged topic at the conference
