Lagoon English Edition:

European and Non-European Societies, 1450-1800 Robert Forster, 2019-07-16 First published in 1997 this is the first of two volumes It looks at the process of European expansion which brought into contact societies and cultures across the world which had been initially alien to one another Conflict and violent conflict was one aspect of this interaction but accommodation mutual adaptation and institutional and behavioural synthesis were also present though often biased in favour of European norms The intent of this book is to avoid treating colonization dominance and exploitation as the only focuses of attention In the first volume Robert Forster explores issues of formative influences the impact of Eurocentrism on historiography and the reaction against it and the differing approaches and perceptions of the Europeans notably the Spanish French and English In this period he distinguishes three modes of interaction that of the trading empires generally in Africa and Asia where the European control of the encounter was slighter and those of the regions of settlement as in North America and of exploitation typified by the Caribbean where the European impact was profound The second volume focuses on the Americas and uses the topics of religion class gender and race as its points of entry

Manifest Destinies, Second Edition Laura E Gómez, 2018-02-06 Manifest Destinies is an essential resource for understanding the complex history of Mexican Americans and racial classification in the United States This is the history of the original Mexican Americans the people living in northern Mexico in 1846 during the onset of the Mexican American War The war abruptly came to an end two years later and 115 000 Mexicans became American citizens overnight Yet their status as full fledged Americans was tenuous at best Due to a variety of legal and political maneuvers Mexican Americans were largely confined to a second class status How did this categorization occur and what are the implications for modern Mexican Americans Manifest Destinies fills a gap in American racial history by linking westward expansion to slavery and the Civil War In so doing law and sociology professor Laura E G mez demonstrates how white supremacy structured a racial hierarchy in which Mexican Americans were situated relative to Native Americans and African Americans alike Steeped in conversations and debates surrounding the social construction of race this book reveals how certain groups become racialized and how racial categories can not only change instantly but also the ways in which they change over time This second edition is updated to reflect the most recent evidence regarding the ways in which Mexican Americans and other Latinos were racialized in both the twentieth and early twenty first centuries The book ultimately concludes that it is problematic to continue to speak in terms of Hispanic ethnicity rather than consider Latinos qua Latinos alongside the United States other major racial groupings A must read for anyone concerned with racial injustice and classification today

Writing Off the Hyphen Jose L. Torres-Padilla, Carmen Haydee Rivera, 2011-12-01 The sixteen essays in Writing Off the Hyphen approach the literature of the Puerto Rican diaspora from current theoretical positions with provocative and insightful results The authors analyze how the diasporic experience of Puerto Ricans is played out in the context of class race gender and sexuality and how other themes emerging from postcolonialism and postmodernism come into play Their critical work also demonstrates an understanding of how the process of migration and the relations between Puerto Rico and the United States complicate notions of cultural and national identity as writers confront their bilingual bicultural and transnational realities The collection has considerable breadth and depth It covers earlier undertheorized writers such as Luisa Capetillo Pedro Juan Labarthe Bernardo Vega Pura Belpr Arturo Schomburg and Graciany Miranda Archilla Prominent writers such as Rosario Ferr and Judith Ortiz Cofer are discussed alongside often neglected writers such as Honolulu based Rodney Morales and gay writer Manuel Ramos Otero The essays cover all the genres and demonstrate that current theoretical ideas and approaches create exciting opportunities and possibilities for the study of Puerto Rican diasporic literature
