Seduced Hester Eisenstein, 2015-12-03 In a pioneering reinterpretation of the role of mainstream feminism Eisenstein shows how the ruling elites of developed countries utilize women's labor and the ideas of women's liberation and empowerment to maintain their economic and political power both at home and abroad Her explorations range from the abolition of welfare as we know it and the ending of the family wage in the United States to the creation of export processing zones in the global South that depend on women's nimble fingers and from the championing of microcredit as a path to women's empowerment in the global South to the claim of women's presumed liberation in the West as an ideological weapon in the war on terrorism Eisenstein challenges activists and intellectuals to recognize that international feminism is at a fateful crossroads and argues that it is crucial for feminists to throw in their lot with the progressive forces that are seeking alternatives to globalized corporate capitalism

The New Age Alfred Richard Orage, Arthur Moore, 1914 The New Age, 1913 Living In The Lap of Goddess Cynthia Eller, 1995-12-20 A fascinating introduction to one of the fastest growing religious movements in the United States today Through interviews participant observation and analysis of movement literature Cynthia Eller explores what women who worship the goddess believe how they express those beliefs in private in public and in the political realm and the place of feminist spirituality in the history of American religion

Seeing Nature Through Gender Virginia Scharff, 2003 Environmental history has traditionally told the story of Man and Nature Scholars have too frequently overlooked the ways in which their predominantly male subjects have themselves been shaped by gender Seeing Nature through Gender here reintroduces gender as a meaningful category of analysis for environmental history showing how women's actions desires and choices have shaped the world and seeing men as gendered actors as well In thirteen essays that show how gendered ideas have shaped the ways in which people have represented experienced and consumed their world Virginia Scharff and her coauthors explore interactions between gender and environment in history Ranging from colonial borderlands to transnational boundaries from mountaintop to marketplace they focus on historical representations of humans and nature on questions about consumption on environmental politics and on the complex reciprocal relations among human bodies and changing landscapes They also challenge the ecofeminist position by challenging the notion that men and women are essentially different creatures with biologically different destinies Each article shows how a person or group of people in history have understood nature in gendered terms and acted accordingly often with dire consequences for other people and organisms Here are considerations of the ways we study sexuality among birds of William Byrd's masking sexual encounters in his account of an eighteenth century expedition of how the ecology of fire in a changing built environment has reshaped firefighters own gendered identities Some are playful as in a piece on the evolution of snow bunnies to shred bunnies Others are dead serious as in a chilling portrait of how endocrine disrupters are reinventing humans animals and water systems from the cellular level out Aiding and adding significantly to the enterprise of environmental history Seeing Nature through Gender bridges gender history and environmental history in unexpected ways to show us how the natural world can remake the gendered patterns we've engraved on ourselves and on the planet Transforming Scholarship Michele Tracy Berger, Cheryl Radeloff, 2021-12-30 Transforming Scholarship offers an essential guide to one of the most richly rewarding yet often underappreciated academic majors Women's and Gender Studies This fully updated and revised third edition answers the question of what you can do with a women's and gender studies degree with resounding authority Chapters include exercises and valuable point of view segments with recent graduates and academics to help students realize their many talents and passions and how these may be linked to future professional opportunities Students are also encouraged to reflect on the ways in which their efforts in the classroom can be translated into a life guided by feminism civic engagement and activism with updates such as A focus on activism that resulted from socio political movements in the 2010s 2020 such as BlackLivesMatter BLM and the MeToo Movement An examination of the impact of COVID 19 on the academic and socio cultural environment and career opportunities for graduates An exploration of increased acceptance of social justice and feminist perspectives Highlighting of intersectional identities of WGST students and faculty Transforming Scholarship is an ideal counterpart and companion for capstone courses in women's and gender studies and for those who have finished their degree and are looking for invaluable advice while pondering What's next Feminism as Life's Work Mary K. Trigg, 2014-06-23 With suffrage secured in 1920 feminists faced the challenge of how to keep their momentum going As the center of the movement shrank a small self appointed vanguard of modern women carried the cause forward in life and work Feminism as Life's Work profiles four of these women the author Inez Haynes Irwin the historian Mary Ritter Beard the activist Doris Stevens and Lorine Pruette a psychologist Their life stories told here in full for the first time embody the changes of the first four decades of the twentieth century and complicate what we know of the period Through these women's intertwined stories Mary Trigg traces the changing nature of the women's movement across turbulent decades rent by world war revolution global depression and the rise of fascism Criticizing the standard division of feminist activism as a series of historical waves Trigg exposes how Irwin Beard Stevens and Pruette helped push the U S feminist movement to victory and continued to propel it forward from the 1920s to the 1960s decades not included in the wave model At a time widely viewed as the doldrums of feminism the women in this book were in fact taking the cause to new sites the National Women's Party sexuality and relations with men marriage and work and financial independence In their utopian efforts to reshape work sexual relations and marriage modern feminists ran headlong into the harsh realities of male power the sexual double standard the demands of motherhood and gendered social structures In Feminism as Life's Work Irwin Beard Stevens and Pruette emerge as the heirs of the suffrage movement guardians of a long feminist tradition and catalysts of the belief in equality and difference Theirs is a story of courage application and perseverance a story that revisits the bleak and lonely
