Iran A People Interrupted:

Iran Hamid Dabashi, 2007 An Analysis of Hamid Dabashi's Iran Bryan Gibson, 2017-07-05 Hamid Dabashi's 2007 Iran A People Interrupted is simultaneously subtle passionate polarizing and polemical A concise account of Iranian history from the early 19th century onward Dabashi's book uses his incisive analytical skills as a basis for creating a persuasive argument against the views of Iran that predominate in the West In Dabashi's view Western approaches to Iran have been colored time and time again by the assumption that it is somehow trapped between regressive tradition and progressive modernity The reality he argues is quite the opposite Iran has its own distinctive ideology of modernity which is nevertheless opposed to many Western ideals In order to prove his point Dabashi draws on a lifetime's experience of literary criticism to analyse the relationship between Iran's intellectual and political elites over two centuries His analysis provides the key evidence for his reasoning by teasing out the implicit assumptions that underly the texts and people he examines Looking beneath the surface of the evidence Dabashi finds time and time again the traces of a uniquely Iranian notion of modernity that is quite at odds with its Western counterpart Iran Hamid Dabashi, 2007 A political and cultural history of Iran and an up to the moment account of the latest rogue nation to make international headlines by a preeminent scholar of Iran Iran's nuclear ambitions have thrust this increasingly powerful country into the international spotlight attracting media attention to a degree not seen since the late 1970s when a popular revolutionary movement toppled its pro U S monarchy Yet most people's knowledge of Iran stops short at the 1979 hostage crisis and the rule of Ayatollah Khomeini In this brilliant and lucid new historical narrative a preeminent scholar of modern Iran fills a crucial gap in our understanding of the nation that has emerged as the United States prime antagonist Hamid Dabashi an internationally renowned cultural critic and scholar of Iranian history and Islamic culture traces the full sweep of that country's history over the past two centuries with unprecedented analysis of key events cultural trends and political developments up to the collapse of the reform movement and the renewed hostilities with the U S with the emergence of the new and combative presidency of Mahmoud Ahmadinejad Destined to become the standard book on modern Iranian history Iran A People Interrupted is a deeply informed and eloquently written account of a national struggle for freedom and democracy against the overwhelming backdrop of the US military hegemony one that will be of enduring immediate and urgent interest to anyone hoping to make sense of current events in the larger historical and regional contexts Includes discussion of such events as The election of Ahmadinejad and the current nuclear showdown with the United States and Europe The rise of Iran as a major regional power challenging U S policy in the region The Salman Rushdie Affair of 1989 The Iran Iraq War of 1980-88 The U S hostage crisis of 1979-80 The Islamic revolution in 1979 The rise of the Soviet Union and the United States as superpowers and the impact on Iran and the Middle East The emergence of Reza Shah as a tyrannical modernizer The emergence of Iran as a modern nation state during the anticolonial struggles of the 19th century Destined to become the standard book on modern Iranian history Iran A People Interrupted is a deeply informed and eloquently written account of a national struggle for freedom and democracy against the overwhelming backdrop of the U S military hegemony one that will be of enduring immediate and urgent interest to anyone hoping to make sense of current events in the larger historical and regional contexts Iran Hamid Dabashi, 2016-10-05 In this unprecedented book Hamid Dabashi provides a provocative account of Iran in its current resurrection as a mighty regional power Through a careful study of contemporary Iranian history in its political literary and artistic dimensions Dabashi decouples the idea of Iran from its colonial linkage to the cliché notion of the nation state and then demonstrates how an aesthetic intuition of transcendence has enabled it to be re-conceived as a powerful nation This rebirth has allowed for repressed political and cultural forces to surface redefining the nation's future beyond its fictive postcolonial borders and autonomous from the state apparatus that wishes but fails to rule it Iran's sovereignty Dabashi argues is inaugurated through an active and open-ended self-awareness of the nation's history and recent political and aesthetic instantiations as it has been sustained by successive waves of revolutionary prose poetry and visual and performing arts performed categorically against the censorial will of the state

An Analysis of Hamid Dabashi's Theology of Discontent Magdalena C. Delgado, Bryan Gibson, 2017-07-05 Hamid Dabashi's 1997 work Theology of Discontent reveals a creative thinker capable not only of understanding how an argument is built but also of redefining old issues in new ways The Iranian Revolution of 1978-9 was front-page news in the West and in some ways remains so today Though it was an uprising against authoritarian royal rule with a coalition of modernisers and Islamists the revolution saw the birth of a new Islamic Republic that seemed to reject pro-Western democracy Dabashi wanted to analyze the real reasons for this change while examining how Islamic ideologies contributed to the revolution and the republic that followed Theology of Discontent examines different Islamic thinkers analyzing how views with seemingly little in common contributed to the modern Iranian belief system Beyond its insightful analytical dissection of these eight thinkers Theology of Discontent also shows Dabashi's creative thinking skills Reframing the debates about Iran's relationship with the West he traced the ways in which Iranian identity formed in reactive opposition to Western ideas In many ways Dabashi suggested Iran was trapped in a cycle of deliberately asserting its difference from the West a process that was fundamental to the development of its own unique brand of revolutionary Islamism

Forugh Farrokhzad, Poet of Modern Iran Dominic Parviz Brookshaw, Nasrin Rahimieh, 2023-05-04 The pioneering Iranian poet and filmmaker Forugh Farrokhzad was an iconic figure in her own day and has come to represent the spirit of revolt against patriarchal and cultural norms in 1960s Iran Five decades after her tragic death at the age of 32 Forugh Farrokhzad Poet of Modern Iran brings her ground-breaking work into new focus During her lifetime Farrokhzad embodied the vexed predicament of the contemporary Iranian woman at once subjected to long-held traditional practices and influenced by newly introduced modern social sensibilities Highlighting her literary and cinematic innovation this volume examines the unique place Farrokhzad occupies in Iran both among modern Persian poets in general and as an Iranian woman writer in particular

The authors also explore Farrokhzad's appeal outside Iran in the Iranian diasporic imagination and through the numerous translations of her poetry into English. It is a fitting and authoritative tribute to the work of a remarkable woman which will introduce and explain her legacy for a 21st century audience. This second edition includes two new chapters which explore a travelogue Farrokhzad wrote during her time in Italy and an examination of Farrokhzad's influence on the writings of the Afghan female poet Laila Saradat Rowshani.

Public History in Global Perspective Georgina Laragy, Richard Legay, Ciaran O'Neill, Hannah K. Smyth, 2025-07-21 Where should public history sit within the matrix of global international transnational and more local histories. Since its emergence in the 1970s Public History has typically been read as community oriented and more local in its applications. The academic field in particular has developed along national lines and indeed we see in the many monographs, edited books and journals that have emerged a distinct tendency to consider public history as understandable mostly in its relation to the nation state and its attendant mythologies. The meta narratives that public history pushes against are the building blocks of national histories: political, military and heroic histories. Conceiving of a global public history seems to have more radical potential than an international public history which arguably simply collects these national histories. What would a global public history look like and how can it disrupt the field if interpreted radically. This book will centre the work of scholars and professionals in the field of Public History. It will offer novel reflections on postgraduate Public History learning, work experience and application from recent graduates and partnered institutions. A mix of theory and practice, traditional and creative methodologies, it demonstrates the value of integrating work experience, practitioner workshops and close collaboration in Public History training.

Shi'i Theology in Iran Ori Goldberg, 2011-09-12 Metaphor and identity. The discursive personality. Stuck in the middle with you. A double edged sword. Anxiety and discourse. Theology and duality. Mediated deliverance. Faith Wheel within a wheel. Faith as core and structure. Silence fraught with meaning.

City of Knowledge in Twentieth Century Iran Setrag Manoukian, 2012-03-12 This book presents a cultural history of modern Iran through the perspective of the city. The Green Movement in Iran Hamid Dabashi, 2017-09-08 The Green Movement in Iran contains Hamid Dabashi's most important writings on the Iran's June 2009 election, its tumultuous aftermath and the characteristics and aspirations of the emerging Green Movement. These analyses range from close analysis of the nature of the events to the Green Movement's historical background and future political consequences. The writings have been modified and updated for book publication. The volume presents Dabashi's account of the events since June 12, 2009, the Election Day itself and his recap of highlights of the build up period to the mass protests. He provides insightful background for events on the ground, dealing with debates about the credibility of the election. He then discusses political continuity in Iran as well as the characteristics of the Green Movement. Dabashi argues that the reaction of the custodians of the Islamic Republic to the charge of the election being a fraud only affirms its lost legitimacy and casts the system as being neither Islamic nor a republic Dabashi also comments on US politics and its relations to Iran and the Green Movement pointing out shortcomings in American media culture The role of the Iranian opposition in the Green Movement and American political policies the political and economic consequence of the U S sanctions against Iran and the way these may be interpreted by Iranian society are all viewed from an enlightening perspective Dabashi argues that the Iranian regime suffering deeply from legitimacy issues makes use of its bureaucratic economic and political leverage to stage a show of support and project division among the people
