

Indiana University Application Essay Sample

For an individual to achieve any goals in life, there are three paramount factors for consideration. The person must have knowledge on what he or she wants, where to find it, and, finally, the desire to have it. I have a burning desire to become an elite member in the financial field. There is no single doubt about what I want as well as the desire to acquire it. However, these two factors are insufficient to guarantee any success on their own. In fact, an appreciable number of people possess both the knowledge of what they want to become in life. Furthermore, they have the desire to achieve these goals. Nevertheless, many of them still harbor some resentment regarding attainment of their goals. This is because they lack knowledge of where to acquire the right education. I want to avoid making the same mistake. This is why Indiana University is my preferred choice.

Currently, I major in business at Greenriver Community College. The Indiana University has a cultured environment. The institution possesses enormous facilities and able teaching fraternity. It has a reputation of excellence that makes it outstanding among other universities. My desire to become a holistic finance expert will receive a significant boost from Indiana University's Kelley School of Business. The school has an excellent reputation in the field of finance and accounting. In addition, it has a long history of tested and proven teaching methods. This is evident in the profiles of its alumni in key financial institutions as well as various finance departments of outstanding organizations. This is a sufficient proof that the school churns out people who are not only intellectually empowered but also of high integrity.
