Frank & Ava John Brady, 2015-10-13 If I had to go back in Hollywood history and name two people who were most desperately and passionately in love with each other I would say Frank Sinatra and Ava Gardner. It began in Hollywood's golden age when Ava was emerging as a movie star. But she fell in and out of love too easily. Mickey Rooney married her because he wanted another conquest. Artie Shaw treated her like a dumb brunette giving her a reading list on their honeymoon. Neither marriage lasted a year. Then after being courted by Howard Hughes and numerous others along came Frank Sinatra. His passion for Ava destroyed his marriage and brought him close to ruin. Their wild affair broke all the rules of the prudish era as Frank left his wife and children and pursued Ava on an international stage. They became romantic renegades with the press following them from location to location. Oh God Frank Sinatra could be the sweetest most charming man in the world when he was in the mood. said Ava. They married but then came the quarrels separations infidelities and reconciliations. Eventually there was a divorce and they thought it was over. It wasn't. Through all of the tortured years of separation and splintered affairs with others they maintained a secretive relationship known only to those who recognized that this was the love of a lifetime. Over the years they attempted to reconcile romanced and nurtured each other right to the end. The love story of Frank and Ava has never been fully explored or explained until now. John Brady's Frank & Ava delves deeply into the lives of these two iconic stars and their turbulent lifelong relationship. More than anything else this is the story of a romance lived out under battlefield conditions.

The Pat Conroy Cookbook Pat Conroy, Suzanne Williamson Pollak, 2009-08-11 America's favorite storyteller Pat Conroy is back with a unique cookbook that only he could conceive. Delighting us with tales of his passion for cooking and good food and the people places and great meals he has experienced Conroy mixes them together with mouthwatering recipes from the Deep South and the world beyond. It all started thirty years ago with a chance purchase of The Escoffier Cookbook an unlikely and daunting introduction for the beginner. But Conroy was more than up to the task. He set out with unwavering determination to learn the basics of French cooking stocks and dough and moved swiftly on to veal demi glace and pot au feu. With the help of his culinary accomplice Suzanne Williamson Pollak Conroy mastered the dishes of his beloved South as well as the cuisine he has savored in places as far away from home as Paris Rome and San Francisco. Each chapter opens with a story told with the inimitable brio of the author. We see Conroy in New Orleans celebrating his triumphant novel The Prince of Tides at a new restaurant where there is a contretemps with its hardworking young owner chef years later he discovered the earnest young chef was none other than Emeril Lagasse. We accompany Pat and his wife on their honeymoon in Italy and wander with him wonderstruck through the markets of Umbria and Rome we learn how a dinner with his fighter pilot father was preceded by the Great Santini.

himself acting out a perilous night flight that would become the last chapters of one of his son's most beloved novels These tales and more are followed by corresponding recipes from Breakfast Shrimp and Grits and Sweet Potato Rolls to Pappardelle with Prosciutto and Chestnuts and Beefsteak Florentine to Peppered Peaches and Creme Brulee A master storyteller and passionate cook Conroy believes that A recipe is a story that ends with a good meal This book is the story of my life as it relates to the subject of food It is my autobiography in food and meals and restaurants and countries far and near Let me take you to a restaurant on the Left Bank of Paris that I found when writing The Lords of Discipline There are meals I ate in Rome while writing The Prince of Tides that ache in my memory when I resurrect them There is a shrimp dish I ate in an elegant English restaurant where Cuban cigars were passed out to all the gentlemen in the room after dinner that I can taste on my palate as I write this There is barbecue and its variations in the South and the subject is a holy one to me I write of truffles in the Dordogne Valley in France cilantro in Bangkok catfish in Alabama scuppernong in South Carolina Chinese food from my years in San Francisco and white asparagus from the first meal my agent took me to in New York City Let me tell you about the fabulous things I have eaten in my life the story of the food I have encountered along the way American Gourmet Jane Stern, Michael Stern, 1991 Social history of the 1950s and 1960s with 100 memorable recipes of the time
