Secondary Education in Ethiopia Rajendra Joshi,Adriaan Verspoor,2012-11-01 This book discusses reforms that should be undertaken in secondary education to support Ethiopia s transition from a low to middle income economy The most critical reform identified is the introduction of a flexible curriculum that serves the needs of all students including those who may not pursue higher education

Higher Education in Ethiopia Tebeje Molla,2018-01-18 This book focuses on higher education in Ethiopia analysing persisting inequalities and policy responses against the backdrop of the extensive expansion and reform that the system has experienced in recent years Drawing on empirical data generated through interviews policy reviews and focus group discussions it explicates factors of structural inequality ranging from neoliberal policy orientations to repressive gender culture and geo political peripherality In a departure from conventional studies that consider policy a response to social problems the book takes a critical perspective to show the constitutive role of policy and explains how the representation of the problem of social inequality undermines equity policy outcomes in Ethiopian higher education Not only does the book problematise the framing of the problem of inequality in the system it also outlines strategies for designing transformative equity instruments In explaining structural factors of inequality and equity provisions the book productively combines sociological concepts with historical accounts and political economy insights Given the increased economic optimism associated with higher education in sub Saharan Africa and the neoliberal ideals underpinning much of the restructuring of the system in the region this is a timely and important contribution that sheds light on the social justice implications and consequences of such changes It offers fresh accounts of largely neglected qualitative cases of inequality making it a valuable read for students and researchers in the areas of Ethiopian education policy studies international and comparative education and international development

Becoming Middle Class Markus Roos Breines, 2021-08-02 This book is an ethnography of urban to urban migration and its role in middle class formation in Ethiopia Through an examination of the intersections and tensions between physical movement and social mobility it considers how young Tigrayan people's migration between urban centres made them distinct from both international migrants and non migrants Based on fieldwork in Adigrat and Addis Ababa it focuses on these young people's notions of progress experiences of higher education and ethnic tensions to demonstrate how their movements enabled them to enhance their economic social and symbolic capital while their cultural capital remained largely unchanged The book provides new insights into the opportunities and constraints for upward social mobility and argues that the emergence of shared characteristics among urban to urban migrants led to the formation of a group that can be described as a middle class in Ethiopia Library & Information Science Abstracts, 2001
